(1) "Adjusted gross income":

(a) "District adjusted gross income per return" shall be the total Missouri individual adjusted gross income in a school district divided by the total number of Missouri income tax returns filed from the school district as reported by the state department of revenue for the second preceding year;

(b) "State adjusted gross income per return" shall be the total Missouri individual adjusted gross income divided by the total number of Missouri individual income tax returns, of those returns designating school districts, as reported by the state department of revenue for the second preceding year;

(c) "District income factor" shall be one plus thirty percent of the difference of the district income ratio minus one, except that the district income factor applied to the portion of the assessed valuation corresponding to any increase in assessed valuation above the assessed valuation of a district as of December 31, 1994, shall not exceed a value of one;

(d) "District income ratio" shall be the ratio of the district adjusted gross income per return divided by the state adjusted gross income per return;

(2) "Average daily attendance" means the quotient or the sum of the quotients obtained by dividing the total number of hours attended in a term by resident pupils between the ages of five and twenty-one by the actual number of hours school was in session in that term. To the average daily attendance of the school term shall be added the full-time equivalent average daily attendance of summer school students. "Full-time equivalent average daily attendance of summer school students" shall be computed by dividing the total number of hours attended by all summer school pupils by the number of hours required in section 160.011, RSMo, in the school term. For purposes of determining average daily attendance under this subdivision, the term "resident pupil" shall include all children between the ages of five and twenty-one who are residents of the school district and who are attending kindergarten through grade twelve in such district. If a child is attending school in a district other than the district of residence and the child's parent is teaching in the school district or is a regular employee of the school district which the child is attending, then such child shall be considered a resident pupil of the school district which the child is attending for such period of time when the district of residence is not otherwise liable for tuition. Average daily attendance for students below the age of five years for which a school district may receive state aid based on such attendance shall be computed as regular school term attendance unless otherwise provided by law;

(3) "District's tax rate ceiling", the highest tax rate ceiling in effect subsequent to the 1980 tax year or any subsequent year. Such tax rate ceiling shall not contain any tax levy for debt service;

(4) "Eligible pupils" shall be the sum of the average daily attendance of the school term plus the product of two times the average daily attendance for summer school;

(5) "Equalized assessed valuation of the property of a school district" shall be determined by multiplying the assessed valuation of the real property subclasses specified in section 137.115, RSMo, times the percent of true value as adjusted by the department of elementary and secondary education to an equivalent sales ratio of thirty-three and one-third percent and dividing by either the percent of true value as determined by the state tax commission on or before March fifteenth preceding the fiscal year in which the valuation will be effective as adjusted by the department of elementary and secondary education to an equivalent sales ratio of thirty-three and one-third percent or the average percent of true value for the highest three of the last four years as determined and certified by the state tax commission, whichever is greater. To the equalized locally assessed valuation of each district shall be added the assessed valuation of tangible personal property. The assessed valuation of property which has previously been excluded from the tax rolls, which is being contested as not being taxable and which increases the total assessed valuation of the school district by fifty percent or more, shall not be included in the calculation of equalized assessed valuation under this subdivision;

(6) "Free and reduced lunch eligible pupil count", the number of pupils eligible for free and reduced lunch on the last Wednesday in January for the preceding school year who were enrolled as students of the district, as approved by the department in accordance with applicable federal regulations;

(7) "Guaranteed tax base" means the amount of equalized assessed valuation per eligible pupil guaranteed each school district by the state in the computation of state aid. To compute the guaranteed tax base, school districts shall be ranked annually from lowest to highest according to the amount of equalized assessed valuation per pupil. The guaranteed tax base shall be based upon the amount of equalized assessed valuation per pupil of the school district in which the ninety-fifth percentile of the state aggregate number of pupils falls during the third preceding year and shall be equal to the state average equalized assessed valuation per eligible pupil for the third preceding year times two and one hundred and sixty-seven thousandths. The average equalized assessed valuation per pupil shall be the quotient of the total equalized assessed valuation of the state divided by the number of eligible pupils;

(8) "Membership" shall be the average of (1) the number of resident full-time students and the full-time equivalent number of part-time students who were enrolled in the public schools of the district on the last Wednesday in September of the previous year and who were in attendance one day or more during the preceding ten school days and (2) the number of resident full-time students and the full-time equivalent number of part-time students who were enrolled in the public schools of the district on the last Wednesday in January of the previous year and who were in attendance one day or more during the preceding ten school days, plus the full-time equivalent number of summer school pupils. "Full-time equivalent number of part-time students" is determined by dividing the total number of hours for which all part-time students are enrolled by the number of hours in the school term. "Full-time equivalent number of summer school pupils" is determined by dividing the total number of hours for which all summer school pupils were enrolled by the number of hours required pursuant to section 160.011, RSMo, in the school term. Only students eligible to be counted for average daily attendance shall be counted for membership;

(9) "Operating levy for school purposes" means the sum of tax rates levied for teachers and incidental funds in the payment year and shall be, after all adjustments and equalization of the operating levy, no less than the minimum value required in section 163.021 for eligibility for increases in state aid as calculated pursuant to section 163.031 and no greater than a maximum value of four dollars and sixty cents per one hundred dollars assessed valuation. To equalize the operating levy, multiply the aggregate tax rates for teachers, incidental, and building funds by either the percent of true value, as determined by the state tax commission on or before March fifteenth preceding the fiscal year in which the evaluation will be effective as adjusted by the department of elementary and secondary education to an equivalent sales ratio of thirty-three and one-third percent, or the average percent of true value for the highest three of the last four years as determined and certified by the state tax commission, whichever is greater, and divide by the percent of true value as adjusted by the department of elementary and secondary education to an equivalent sales ratio of thirty-three and one-third percent, provided that for any district for which the equivalent sales ratio is equal to or greater than thirty-three and one-third percent, the equalized operating levy shall be the adjusted operating levy. For any county in which the equivalent sales ratio is less than thirty-one and two-thirds percent, the state tax commission shall conduct a second study in that county and shall use a sample at least twice as large as the one originally used. If the new ratio is higher than the original ratio provided by this subdivision, the new ratio shall be used for the purposes of this subdivision and for determining equalized assessed valuation pursuant to subdivision (5) of this section. For the purposes of calculating state aid pursuant to section 163.031, for any district which has not enacted a voluntary tax rate rollback nor increased the amount of a voluntary tax rate rollback from the previous year's amount, the tax rate used to determine a district's entitlement shall be adjusted so that any decrease in the entitlement due to a decrease in the tax rate resulting from the reassessment shall equal the decrease in the deduction for the assessed valuation of the district as a result of the change in the tax rate due to reassessment. The tax rate adjustments required under this subdivision due to reassessment shall be cumulative and shall be applied each year to determine the tax rate used to calculate the entitlement; except that whenever the actual current operating levy exceeds the tax rate calculated pursuant to this subdivision for the purpose of determining the district's entitlement, then the prior tax rate adjustments required under this subdivision due to reassessment shall be eliminated and shall not be applied in determining the tax rate used to calculate the district entitlement;

(10) "School purposes" pertains to teachers and incidental funds;

(11) "Teacher" means any teacher, teacher-secretary, substitute teacher, supervisor, principal, supervising principal, superintendent or assistant superintendent, school nurse, social worker, counselor or librarian who shall, regularly, teach or be employed for no higher than grade twelve more than one-half time in the public schools and who is certified under the laws governing the certification of teachers in Missouri;

(12) "Adjusted operating levy", the sum of tax rates for the current year for teachers and incidental funds for a school district as reported to the proper officer of each county pursuant to section 164.011, RSMo;

(13) "Current operating costs", all expenditures for instruction and support services excluding capital outlay and debt service expenditures less the revenue from federal categorical sources, food service, student activities and payments from other districts.

Section B. Because of the immediate need to allow pupils to attend school in certain districts for the next school year, Section 163.011 is deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, welfare, peace and safety, and is hereby declared to be an emergency act within the meaning of the constitution, and Section 163.011 shall be in full force and effect upon its passage and approval."

Terry Spieler

Jefferson City, MO 65101

Dear Terry:

Pursuant to Rule 45 of the Missouri Senate I respectfully request that House Bill 82 be removed from the Consent Calendar. The provisions of this bill are controversial because the U.S. Supreme Court has struck down as unconstitutional similar legislation enacted in the State of North Carolina. The essence of the Supreme Court's decision was to reaffirm the rights of charities and non profits, whether working through volunteers, paid staff or professional representatives, to solicit support without being burdened by overreaching limitations.

Very truly yours,

/s/ John D. Schneider

John D. Schneider

Any pharmacist who fails to renew [his] the pharmacist's license within two years of its expiration and then desires to be reregistered shall be treated in the same manner as a person who has never been licensed. Any registered pharmacist whose certificate of registration has expired while [he] the pharmacist has been engaged in active duty with the United States Army, United States Navy, United States Air Force, the Marine Corps, Coast Guard, or any other branch of the armed services or the state militia called into the service or training of the United States of America, or in training or education under the supervision of the United States preliminary to induction into the military services may have [his] the pharmacist's certificate of registration renewed without paying any lapse, renewal or registration fee or without passing any examination, if within one year after the termination of such service, training or education, other than by dishonorable discharge, [he] the pharmacist furnishes the board with an affidavit to the effect that [he] the pharmacist has been so engaged and that [his] the pharmacist's service, training or education has [been so] terminated.

An inactive license shall then be issued, and may be renewed annually. While the inactive license is in effect the pharmacist shall not practice pharmacy. The inactive license may be changed to a regular license without other examination whenever the pharmacist submits proof of the completion of continuing education courses for the total amount of such courses not completed since [he] the pharmacist was last licensed on an active basis.

338.065. 1. After August 28, 1990, at such time as the final trial proceedings are concluded whereby a [pharmacist] licensee or registrant has been adjudicated and found guilty, or has entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere, in a felony prosecution [under] pursuant to the laws of the state of Missouri, the laws of any other state, territory or the laws of the United States of America for any offense reasonably related to the qualifications, functions or duties of a [pharmacist] licensee or registrant pursuant to this chapter or any felony offense, an essential element of which is fraud, dishonesty or an act of violence, or for any felony offense involving moral turpitude, whether or not sentence is imposed, the board of pharmacy may hold a disciplinary hearing to singly or in combination censure or place the pharmacist named in the complaint on probation on such terms and conditions as the board deems appropriate for a period not to exceed five years, or may suspend, for a period not to exceed three years, or revoke the license, certificate, registration or permit.

The fees shall be set at a level to produce revenue which shall not substantially exceed the cost and expense of administering this chapter. All fees shall be paid before an applicant may be admitted to examination or his or her name placed upon the register of pharmacists, or before any license or permit, or any renewal thereof, is issued by the board.

2. All fees payable [under] pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall be collected by the division of professional registration and transmitted to the department of revenue for deposit in the state treasury to the credit of the fund to be known as the "Board of Pharmacy Fund".

3. The provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, to the contrary notwithstanding, money in this fund shall not be transferred and placed to the credit of general revenue until the amount in the fund at the end of the biennium exceeds two times the amount of the appropriation from the board's funds for the preceding fiscal year or, if the board requires by rule permit renewal less frequently than yearly, then three times the appropriation from the board's funds for the preceding fiscal year. The amount, if any, in the fund which shall lapse is that amount in the fund which exceeds the appropriate multiple of the appropriations from the board's funds for the preceding fiscal year.

4. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter to the contrary, the board of pharmacy is not required to collect or process fees required for testing, if the fees are paid by license applicants or licensees directly to a testing service and if no part of the fee is remitted to the board from the testing service.

338.100. 1. Every permit holder of a licensed pharmacy shall cause to be kept in a uniform fashion consistent with this section a suitable file in which shall be preserved, for a period of not less than [five] three years, the original or order of each drug which has been compounded or dispensed at such pharmacy, numbering, dating and filing them in the order in which they are compounded or dispensed, and shall produce the same in court or before any grand jury whenever lawfully required. The pharmacist in charge shall be responsible for complying with the permit holder's record keeping system in compliance with this section. Records maintained by a pharmacy that contain medical or drug information on patients or their care shall be considered as confidential. Upon request, the pharmacist in charge of such pharmacy shall furnish to the prescriber, and may, except when otherwise instructed by the prescriber, furnish to the person for whom such prescription was compounded or dispensed, a true and correct copy of the original prescription[, and]. 2. The board may employ such board personnel, as defined in subdivision (4) of subsection [16] 15 of section 620.010, RSMo, as it deems necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter. The compensation and expenses of such personnel and all expenses incurred by the board in carrying into execution the provisions of this chapter, shall be paid out of the board of pharmacy fund upon a warrant on the state treasurer.

338.140. 1. The board of pharmacy shall have a common seal, and shall have power to adopt such rules and bylaws not inconsistent with law as may be necessary for the regulation of its proceedings and for the discharge of the duties imposed [under] pursuant to sections 338.010 to [338.190] 338.198, and shall have power to employ an attorney to conduct prosecutions or to assist in the conduct of prosecutions [under] pursuant to sections 338.010 to [338.190] 338.198.

The committee shall review and make recommendations to the board on the merit of all rules and regulations dealing with pharmacy distributors, wholesale drug distributors and drug manufacturers which are proposed by the board.

5. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

6. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law to the contrary, the board may issue letters of reprimand, censure or warning to any holder of a license or registration required pursuant to this chapter for any violations that could result in disciplinary action as defined in section 338.055. The board may impose limitations, conditions or restrictions on a license or registration that is reprimanded pursuant to this section.

338.220. 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, copartnership, association [or], corporation or any other business entity to open, establish, operate or maintain any pharmacy, as defined by statute without first obtaining a permit to do so from the Missouri board of pharmacy. The following classes of pharmacy permits are hereby established:

- (7) Class G: Medical gas.

2. Application for such permit shall be made upon a form furnished to the applicant; shall contain a statement that it is made under oath or affirmation and that its representations are true and correct to the best knowledge and belief of the person signing same, subject to the penalties of making a false affidavit or declaration; and shall be accompanied by a permit fee. The permit issued shall be renewable upon payment of a renewal fee. Separate applications shall be made and separate permits required for each pharmacy opened, established, operated or maintained by the same owner.

3. All permits or renewal fees collected [under] pursuant to the provisions of sections 338.210 to 338.370 shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the Missouri board of pharmacy fund, to be used by the Missouri board of pharmacy in the enforcement of the provisions of sections 338.210 to 338.370, when appropriated for that purpose by the general assembly.

338.285. The board is hereby authorized and empowered, when examination or inspection of a pharmacy shall disclose to the board that the pharmacy is not being operated or conducted according to such legal rules and regulations and the laws of Missouri with respect thereto, to cause a complaint to be filed before the administrative hearing commission pursuant to section 338.055 and chapter 621, RSMo, charging the holder of a permit to operate a pharmacy with conduct constituting grounds for probation, suspension or revocation of his permit.

338.353. 1. The board of pharmacy is hereby authorized and empowered, when complaints, examinations or inspection of a wholesale drug distributor or pharmacy distributor disclose to the board that a wholesale drug distributorship or pharmacy distributorship is not being operated or conducted according to such legal rules and regulations and the laws of Missouri or any other state or the federal government with respect thereto, to cause a complaint to be filed before the administrative hearing commission pursuant to section 338.055 and chapter 621, RSMo, charging the holder of a license to operate a drug distributorship or pharmacy wholesale operation constituting grounds for probation, suspension or revocation of the distributor license.

2. If the board concludes that a wholesale drug distributor or pharmacy distributor has committed an act or is engaging in a course of conduct which constitutes a clear and present danger to the public health and safety in Missouri, the board may file a complaint before the administrative hearing commission requesting an expedited hearing and specifying the activities which give rise to the danger and the nature of the proposed restriction or suspension of the wholesale drug distributor's or pharmacy distributor's license. Within fifteen days after service of the complaint on a wholesale drug distributor or pharmacy distributor, the administrative hearing commission shall conduct a preliminary hearing to determine whether the alleged activities of the wholesale drug distributor or pharmacy distributor appear to constitute a clear and present danger to the public health and safety which justify that the wholesale drug distributor's or pharmacy distributor's license be immediately restricted or suspended. The burden of proving that a wholesale drug distributor or pharmacy distributor is a clear and present danger to the public health and safety shall be upon the state board of pharmacy. The administrative hearing commission shall issue its decision immediately after the hearing and shall either grant to the board the authority to suspend or restrict the license or dismiss the action.

3. If the administrative hearing commission grants temporary authority to the board to restrict or suspend the wholesale drug distributor's or pharmacy distributor's license, such temporary authority of the board shall become final authority if there is no request by the wholesale drug distributor or pharmacy distributor for a full hearing within thirty days of the preliminary hearing. The administrative hearing commission shall, if requested by the wholesale drug distributor or pharmacy distributor named in the complaint, set a date to hold a full hearing under the provisions of chapter 621, RSMo, regarding the activities alleged in the initial complaint filed by the board.

4. If the administrative hearing commission dismisses the action filed by the board pursuant to subsection 2 of this section, such dismissal shall not bar the board from initiating a subsequent action on the same grounds.

338.365. 1. Upon proper application by the board of pharmacy, a court of competent jurisdiction may grant an injunction, restraining order or other order as may be appropriate to enjoin a person from:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 21

WHEREAS, the lack of adequate office space for legislators and staff along with the lack of adequate facilities to conduct hearings, meetings and other legislative functions at our State Capitol has been an issue of major and growing concern for many years; and

WHEREAS, in 1995, Sverdrup Facilities Corporation and its consultants published a comprehensive State Office Space Study and Master Plan after having been requested by the State of Missouri Office of Administration to develop a strategic plan for accommodating space needs for non-institutional offices statewide through Fiscal Year 2004; and

WHEREAS, one of the primary goals of this strategic plan was to address those issues which inhibit the efficient delivery of government services to the citizens of the state; and

WHEREAS, in this State Office Space Study and Master Plan, a specific reference to the State Capitol declared "The State Capitol Building, with the exception of the Senate and House chambers, is suffering from many ill-conceived renovations and overcrowding", and "Many spaces are poorly ventilated, lighted and appointed creating an uncomfortable and unsophisticated office environment"; and

WHEREAS, also in this office space study, it was suggested that the current Missouri Department of Transportation (MODOT) Headquarters Building could be made available to relieve Capitol overcrowding with the construction of a new office building for MODOT; and

WHEREAS, remodeling the existing MODOT Headquarters Building to serve as a "Capitol Annex" is the most viable long-term solution to the problem of Capitol overcrowding that has yet been submitted, however, the earliest that the final implementation of this solution would be realized would, in all likelihood, be the year 2004; and

WHEREAS, one short-term measure that has been implemented to address the problem of inadequate facilities at the Capitol is the appropriation of significant sums of money for the renovation of existing offices that are much too small and crowded to begin with, and which can gain relatively little in the way of becoming more livable and functional after the expenditure of this money; and

WHEREAS, legislators and their staff deserve to work in a safe, comfortable, and adequately-spaced office environment in order to provide the most efficient and effective service possible for the people of Missouri; and legislators, staff, and private citizens are entitled to conduct state business in a safe and comfortable environment when meeting in the various hearing rooms and committee rooms within our State Capitol; and

WHEREAS, expedient measures need to be implemented to provide effective short-term solutions for the problem of overcrowding at the State Capitol; and

WHEREAS, Section 8.460, Revised Statutes of Missouri, subsection 1, states "The board of public buildings may build an office building in the City of Jefferson to house state offices which are presently located in rented quarters within the county of Cole, and they shall remove as many offices from the State Capitol building as the general assembly deems necessary to provide adequate space for its members; and

WHEREAS, Section 8.015, Revised Statutes of Missouri, gives Senate Administration exclusive control over the Senate Chamber, the Senate Committee rooms, the offices of the members of the Senate at the State Capitol, and all other rooms and offices of the State Capitol designed for or assigned by the Board of Public Buildings to the use of the members and officers of the Senate, and states that "No use of any of said quarters other than by the Senate, its members or officers shall be made except with the written consent of the Senator or officer occupying the office rooms and upon the order of the accounts committee"; and

WHEREAS, Section 8.017, Revised Statutes of Missouri, gives the House Committee on Accounts, Operation and Finance exclusive control over the House Chamber, the House Committee rooms, the offices of the members of the House at the State Capitol, and all other rooms and offices of the State Capitol designed for or assigned by the Board of Public Buildings to the use of the members and officers of the House, and states that "No use of any of said quarters other than by the House, its members or officers shall be made except with the written consent of the Representative or officer occupying the office rooms and upon the order of the accounts committee";

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri House of Representatives of the Eighty-ninth General Assembly, the Senate concurring therein, hereby declare all office rooms, committee rooms, hearing rooms, and all other rooms and facilities within the State Capitol building to be under the domain and control of the Missouri General Assembly through the House Accounts, Operation and Finance Committee and Senate Administration, and further assert the right to reserve any and all of these rooms and facilities for the exclusive use of legislators and legislative staff; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly hereby calls upon the Office of Administration to take steps bring about the expedient re-location of the Missouri Department of Transportation so that the current MODOT Headquarters building may be renovated to serve as an annex to the State Capitol; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the House Committee on Accounts, Operation and Finance and Senate Administration be directed to coordinate efforts with the Office of Administration to bring about the expedient re-location of the Missouri Department of Transportation; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Commissioner of Administration, the House Committee on Accounts, Operation and Finance, and for Senate Administration.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 24.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 24

WHEREAS, the members of the Missouri General Assembly are deeply concerned about the large increases in home heating bills that the citizens of Missouri have experienced this winter; and

WHEREAS, the price charged by unregulated suppliers for natural gas has increased this winter at an unprecedented rate, resulting in gas bills for many families that are two or three times higher than last year's bills; and

WHEREAS, many constituents of the Missouri legislature are undergoing significant financial hardship as a direct result of having to pay dramatically increased heating costs; and

WHEREAS, heat for one's residence in the winter, like food and shelter, is a basic necessity of life that must be made available and accessible to all citizens at affordable rates; and

WHEREAS, the companies that produce and supply natural gas to local gas distribution companies in Missouri are primarily out-of-state large oil companies which are no longer regulated by the federal government; and

WHEREAS, local regulated gas distribution companies in Missouri do not make a profit from the commodity price of gas, but pass those costs to consumers under the regulatory supervision of the Missouri Public Service Commission:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Missouri House of Representatives of the Eighty-ninth General Assembly, the Senate concurring therein, hereby request the United States Congress to expediently conduct federal hearings and investigations to fully determine all factors responsible for the rapidly rising cost of the natural gas commodity and to ascertain the degree to which this rising cost is necessary as implemented by unregulated suppliers of natural gas; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri General Assembly further requests the United States Congress to act upon the information obtained from these hearings and investigations by establishing appropriate public policies to protect constituents of Missouri and other states from uncontrolled increases in the natural gas commodity in the future; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 27.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 27

WHEREAS, moneys appropriated by the Missouri General Assembly for the University of Missouri represent a substantial portion of the state's annual operating budget; and

WHEREAS, under the current budget allocation system for the University of Missouri, there are questions concerning how efficiently and how effectively these moneys are being appropriated; and

WHEREAS, it is the position of the General Assembly that in order to provide greater accountability and expenditure information to the taxpayers of Missouri, the University of Missouri should provide detailed budget requests for submission to the General Assembly:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Missouri House of Representatives of the Eighty-ninth General Assembly, the Senate concurring therein, hereby call upon the President of the University of Missouri to include in his annual budget requests for each fiscal year a summary of the requests for each of the major units (campuses, extension, and system-wide administration) of the university; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly further calls upon the Board of Curators of the University of Missouri, following action by the General Assembly and the Governor on the President's request, to consider an overall operating budget for the fiscal years including all sources of income, state and non-state; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly further requests that any operating budget presented to and acted upon by the Board of Curators include a clear indication of relationship to the previously submitted budget request and to the appropriation; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the General Assembly calls upon the Board of Curators to supply to the Governor's office and to the leadership of the General Assembly the adopted operating budget along with the additional information pertaining to the previously submitted budget request and appropriation, as part of the University's accountability to the people of Missouri; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the President and the Board of Curators of the University of Missouri.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 29.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 29

WHEREAS, the United States Congress has begun deliberations that will lead to reauthorization of the Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act of 1991 (ISTEA); and

WHEREAS, reauthorization of this federal transportation law is critical to the continued maintenance and development of an efficient and safe transportation system for Missouri citizens; and

WHEREAS, an efficient and safe transportation system is essential to the economic prosperity of Missouri citizens; and

WHEREAS, Missouri receives significantly less in federal highway funding than its percentage share of payments into the federal Highway Trust Fund; and

WHEREAS, the General Accounting Office has determined that current federal highway funding formulas do not adequately account for state highway needs and uses outdated factors for distributing funds among the states; and

WHEREAS, reauthorization of ISTEA presents a critical opportunity to develop equitable and fair highway distribution formulas and ensure appropriate return of federal highway moneys to Missouri; and

WHEREAS, adequate support for the National Highway System is necessary to provide mobility and economic benefits to Missouri citizens and to ensure that Missouri is connected to the rest of the nation with a modern transportation system:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Missouri House of Representatives of the Eighty-ninth General Assembly, the Senate concurring therein, that the Congress of the United States should enact, prior to expiration of ISTEA, legislation to reauthorize a strong intermodal transportation system; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Congress of the United States, in reauthorization of ISTEA, should correct the inequitable federal highway funding formulas; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Congress of the United States should develop federal highway funding formulas that recognize the pressing highway needs of Missouri and return an increased share of federal highway moneys to Missouri; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Congress of the United States should ensure that such funding formulas provide at least a ninety-five percent return on Missouri's contribution to the federal Highway Trust Fund; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE

The following messages were received from the House of Representatives through its Chief Clerk:

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 28.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 28

WHEREAS, in recent years, the rail transportation service provided by Amtrak between St. Louis and Kansas City has been jeopardized by low levels of patronage which have made the service unprofitable to Amtrak; and

WHEREAS, in order to rectify this situation, the State of Missouri has begun providing subsidies to Amtrak in order to keep the service from St. Louis to Kansas City operating at its current level; and

WHEREAS, on March 15, 1997, Amtrak refused to allow members of the Jackson County Wheelmen, a local bicycle club, and other area cyclists, to take their bicycles on the train from Independence to Sedalia, where they wished to ride on the KATY Trail; and

WHEREAS, Amtrak currently has regulations in place forbidding bicycles to be rolled on board its passenger trains in the Midwest due to concerns about space; and

WHEREAS, bicyclists have proposed viable solutions to this problem of storage; and

WHEREAS, cyclists wishing to board Amtrack in Missouri with their bicycles are seeking to take advantage of the Amtrak line's close proximity to the KATY Trail, where Amtrack could provide convenient access for cyclists to the trail at Sedalia, Jefferson City, Hermann, and Washington; and

WHEREAS, were Amtrak to revise its policy to allow cyclists to board passenger trains in the Midwest with their bicycles, the new service could substantially increase Amtrack's low usage and thereby save taxpayers money in the future; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Department of Natural Resources has estimated that 300,000 people used the KATY Trail last year, a large portion of whom were cyclists; and

WHEREAS, last year, the State of Missouri subsidized Amtrak in the amount of $3.6 million, and Amtrack is again seeking a substantial state subsidy in 1997; and

WHEREAS, as a condition for the continued subsidization of Amtrack with taxpayer money, the company should make every reasonable effort to meet the needs and desires of its customers and potential customers as a means toward operating with a greater degree of efficiency and profitability:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri House of Representatives of the Eighty-ninth General Assembly, the Senate concurring therein, hereby call upon Amtrak to modify its current policy in order to allow cyclists to bring their bicycles on board its passenger trains in Missouri; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for Amtrak.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House refuses to concur in SCA 1 to HB 327 and request the Senate to recede from its position or, failing to do so, grant the House a conference.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has concurred in SCA 1 to HB 125 and has again taken up and passed HB 125 as amended.

"536.028. 1. The delegation of authority to any state agency to propose to the general assembly rules as provided under this section is contingent upon the agency complying with the provisions of this section and this delegation of legislative power to the agency to propose an order of rulemaking containing a rule or portion thereof that has the effect of substantive law, other than a rule relating to the agency's organization and internal management, is contingent and dependent upon the power of the general assembly to review such proposed order of rulemaking, to delay the effective date of such proposed order of rulemaking until the expiration of at least thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the general assembly and the secretary of state, and to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in such order of rulemaking.

2. No rule or portion of a rule that has the effect of substantive law shall become effective until the order of rulemaking, in which such rule or portion thereof is contained, has been reviewed by the general assembly in accordance with the procedures provided herein and the agency's authority to propose an order of rulemaking is dependent upon the power of the general assembly to disapprove and annul any such proposed rule or portion thereof as provided herein.

3. In order for the general assembly to have an effective opportunity to be advised of rules proposed by any state agency under the authority of this section, an agency may propose a rule by complying with the procedures provided in section 536.021, except that the notice of proposed rulemaking shall first be filed with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings upon any proposed rule or portion thereof at any time. The agency shall cooperate with the joint committee on administrative rules by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

4. In order to propose an order of rulemaking to the general assembly, the agency shall comply with the provisions of section 536.021, except that the agency may file a proposed order of rulemaking with the secretary of state only by first filing such proposed order with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives. The president pro tem of the senate shall direct that a copy of the proposed order of rulemaking be delivered to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings thereon. The agency shall cooperate with the committee by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

5. Such proposed order of rulemaking shall not become effective prior to the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

6. The committee may, by majority vote of its members, recommend that the general assembly disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in an order of rulemaking after hearings thereon and, upon a finding that such rule or portion thereof should be disapproved and annulled upon the following grounds:

(1) Such rule is substantive in nature in that it creates rights or liabilities or provides for sanctions as to any person, corporation or other legal entity; and

(2) Such rule or portion thereof is not in the public interest or is not authorized by the general assembly for one or more of the following grounds:

(a) An absence of statutory authority for the proposed rule;

(b) The proposed rule is in conflict with state law;

(c) Such proposed rule is likely to substantially endanger the public health, safety or welfare;

(d) The rule exceeds the purpose, or is more restrictive than is necessary to carry out the purpose, of the statute granting rulemaking authority;

(e) A substantial change in circumstance has occurred since enactment of the law upon which the proposed rule is based as to result in a conflict between the purpose of the law and the proposed rule, or as to create a substantial danger to public health and welfare;

(f) The proposed rule is so arbitrary and capricious as to create such substantial inequity as to be unreasonably burdensome on persons affected.

7. Any recommendation or report issued by the committee pursuant to subsection 6 of this section shall be admissible as evidence in any judicial proceeding and entitled to judicial notice without further proof.

8. The general assembly may adopt a concurrent resolution in accordance with the provisions of article IV, section 8 of the Missouri constitution to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof upon one or more of the grounds stated in subsection 6 of this section.

9. Any rule or portion thereof not disapproved within thirty legislative days of a regular session pursuant to subsection 8 of this section shall be deemed approved by the general assembly and the secretary of state may publish such order of rulemaking as soon as practicable upon the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after the order of rulemaking was filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

10. Upon adoption of such concurrent resolution as provided in subsection 8 of this section, the secretary of state shall not publish the order of rulemaking until the expiration of time necessary for such resolution to be signed by the governor, or vetoed and subsequently acted upon by the general assembly pursuant to article III, section 32 of the Missouri Constitution. If such concurrent resolution is adopted and signed by the governor or reconsidered pursuant to article III, section 32, the secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, the order of rulemaking along with notice of the proposed rules or portions thereof which are disapproved and annulled by the general assembly.

11. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 1.140, RSMo, the provisions of this section are nonseverable and the delegation of legislative authority to an agency to propose orders of rulemaking is essentially dependent upon the powers vested with the general assembly as provided herein. If any of the powers vested with the general assembly to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule contained in an order of rulemaking, are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking pursuant thereto shall be invalid and void.

12. Nothing in this section shall prevent the general assembly from adopting by bill within thirty legislative days of a regular session the rules or portions thereof, or as the same may be amended, as contained in a proposed order of rulemaking. In that event, the proposed order of rulemaking shall have been superseded and any rule proposed therein shall be void and only such rules adopted by the general assembly and submitted to the governor may become effective. Rules so adopted shall be published by the secretary of state as soon as practicable. In that event, the secretary of state shall not publish the proposed order of rulemaking and such proposed order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.

13. Upon adoption of any rule now in effect or hereafter promulgated, any such rule or portion thereof may be revoked by the general assembly either by bill, or by concurrent resolution pursuant to article IV, section 8 of the constitution on recommendation of the committee on administrative rules upon the grounds listed in subsection 6 of this section. The secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, notice of the revocation."; and

"304.050. 1. The driver of a vehicle upon a highway upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children and whose driver has in the manner prescribed by law given the signal to stop, shall stop the vehicle before reaching such school bus and shall not proceed until such school bus resumes motion, or until signaled by its driver to proceed.

2. Every bus used for the transportation of school children shall bear upon the front and rear thereon a plainly visible sign containing the words "school bus" in letters not less than eight inches in height. Each bus shall have lettered on the rear in plain and distinct type the following: "State Law: Stop while bus is loading and unloading". Each school bus subject to the provisions of sections 304.050 to 304.070 shall be equipped with a mechanical and electrical signaling device approved by the state board of education, which will display a signal plainly visible from the front and rear and indicating intention to stop.

3. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the driver of a school bus in the process of loading or unloading students upon a street or highway shall activate the mechanical and electrical signaling devices, in the manner prescribed by the state board of education, to communicate to drivers of other vehicles that students are loading or unloading. The driver of a school bus in the process of loading or unloading students upon a divided highway of four or more lanes may pull off of the main roadway and load or unload students without activating the mechanical and electrical signaling devices in a manner which gives the signal for other drivers to stop and may use the amber signaling devices to alert motorists that the school bus is slowing to a stop; provided that the passengers are not required to cross any traffic lanes and also provided that the emergency flashing signal lights are activated in a manner which indicates that drivers should proceed with caution, and, in such case, the driver of a vehicle may proceed past the school bus with due caution. No driver of a school bus shall take on or discharge passengers at any location upon a highway consisting of four or more lanes of traffic, whether or not divided by a median or barrier, in such manner as to require the passengers to cross more than two lanes of traffic; nor shall he take on or discharge passengers while the vehicle is upon the road or highway proper unless the vehicle so stopped is plainly visible for at least five hundred feet in each direction to drivers of other vehicles in the case of a highway with no shoulder and a speed limit greater than sixty miles per hour and at least three hundred feet in each direction to drivers of other vehicles upon [the highway] other highways, and on all highways, [then] only for such time as is actually necessary to take on and discharge passengers.

4. The driver of a vehicle upon a highway with separate roadways need not stop upon meeting or overtaking a school bus which is on a different roadway, which is proceeding in the opposite direction on a highway containing four or more lanes of traffic, or which is stopped in a loading zone constituting a part of, or adjacent to, a limited or controlled access highway at a point where pedestrians are not permitted to cross the roadway.

5. The driver of any school bus driving upon the highways of this state after loading or unloading school children, should remain stopped if the bus is followed by three or more vehicles, until such vehicles have been permitted to pass the school bus, if the conditions prevailing make it safe to do so.

6. If any vehicle is witnessed by a peace officer or the driver of a school bus to have violated the provisions of this section and the identity of the operator is not otherwise apparent, it shall be a rebuttable presumption that the person in whose name such vehicle is registered committed the violation. Notwithstanding the provisions in section 301.130, RSMo, every school bus shall be required to have two license plates. In the event that charges are filed against multiple owners of a motor vehicle, only one of the owners may be convicted and court costs may be assessed against only one of the owners. If the vehicle which is involved in the violation is registered in the name of a rental or leasing company and the vehicle is rented or leased to another person at the time of the violation, the rental or leasing company may rebut the presumption by providing the peace officer or prosecuting authority with a copy of the rental or lease agreement in effect at the time of the violation. No prosecuting authority may bring any legal proceedings against a rental or leasing company under this section unless prior written notice of the violation has been given to that rental or leasing company by registered mail at the address appearing on the registration and the rental or leasing company has failed to provide the rental or lease agreement copy within fifteen days of receipt of such notice."; and

"162.666. 1. Within 30 days after the effective date of this Act, for every city in this state not within a county and every city with a population of at least three hundred fifty thousand inhabitants, the terms of all members of any school board in these cities are abolished and the Mayors of these cities shall appoint, without the consent or approval of the City Council, a five member Reform Board of Trustees which shall take office no sooner than the appointment of the fifth member. Any powers granted to any existing school boards or delegated to any other body before the effective date of this Act shall be deemed terminated, but existing school board members shall have an advisory role until their respective terms expire. The Mayor may appoint any existing member of the school board to the Reform Board of Trustees. The purpose of the Reform Board of Trustees is to bring financial stability and responsibility to the corresponding school district while providing quality education to its students.

2. Three of the five members of the Reform Board of Trustees initially so appointed shall serve for terms ending on September 30, 2001 and two members initially so appointed shall serve for terms ending September 30, 2003. Thereafter at the expiration of the term of any member, a successor shall be appointed by the Mayor and shall hold office for a term of four years. A vacancy in the membership of the Trustees shall be filled through appointment by the Mayor, without the consent or approval of the city council or other governing body, for the unexpired term. One of the members appointed by the Mayor to the Reform Board of Trustees shall be appointed to serve as President of the Trustees. The Missouri General Assembly finds that an education crisis exists in the St. Louis and Kansas City Public Schools and that a five member Reform Board of Trustees shall be established to bring educational and financial stability to the system. The trustees and their chief executive officer are empowered and directed to: (i) increase the quality of educational services in the public schools; (ii) reduce the cost of non-educational services and implement cost-saving measures including the privatization of services where deemed appropriate; (iii) develop a long-term financial plan that to the maximum extent possible reflects a balanced budget for each year; (iv) streamline and strengthen the management of the system, including a responsible school-based budgeting process, in order to refocus resources on student achievement; (v) ensure ongoing academic improvement in schools by complying with assessment standards set forth by the Department of Education and Secondary Education; (vi) enact policies and procedures that ensure the system runs in an ethical as well as efficient manner; (vii) create organizational structures, including regional offices, that it deems necessary to ensure the efficient and effective operation of the system; (viii) provide for such other local school council advisory bodies as the Trustees deem appropriate to function in an advisory capacity to any other organizations or offices established by the Trustees under clause (vii) of this Section; and (ix) may hire any employee necessary to implement its policies or relieve any employee from his or her employment and may disregard experience or tenure in these decisions.

(a) Unless otherwise provided in this Article, the Trustees shall have all powers and duties exercised and performed by the existing school board at the time the terms of its members are abolished as provided in subsection three of this section.

(b) The Mayor shall appoint a chief executive officer who shall be a person of recognized administrative ability and management experience, who shall be responsible for the management of the system, and who shall have all other powers and duties of any other general superintendent. The chief executive officer shall make recommendations to the Trustees with respect to contracts, policies and procedures.

(c) The chief executive officer shall appoint, with the approval of the Trustees, a chief operating officer, a chief fiscal officer, a chief educational officer, and a chief purchasing officer to serve until June 30, 1999. These officers shall be assigned duties and responsibilities by the chief executive officer. The chief operating officer, the chief fiscal officer, the chief educational officer, and the chief purchasing officer may be granted authority to hire a specific number of employees to assist in meeting immediate responsibilities. The chief executive officer may remove any officer, subject to the approval of the Trustees. Other provisions of state law, state regulation, or school district rule or regulation to the contrary notwithstanding, conditions of employment for such personnel shall be set by the chief executive officer.

(d) The Trustees shall report to the chief officer of the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education with respect to its performance, the nature of the reforms which it has instituted, the effect those reforms have had in the operation of the central administrative office and in the performance of pupils, staff, and members of the local school councils at the several attendance centers within the district, and such other matters as the Trustees deem necessary to help assure continuing improvement in the public school system of the district. (1) Present abstinence from sexual activity as the preferred choice of behavior in relation to all sexual activity for unmarried persons;

(2) Devote more attention to abstinence from sexual activity than to any other behavior;

(3) Emphasize that abstinence from sexual activity is the only method that is one hundred percent effective in preventing pregnancy, sexually transmitted diseases and the emotional trauma associated with adolescent sexual activity;

(4) Direct adolescents to a standard of behavior in which abstinence from sexual activity before marriage is recognized as the most effective way to prevent pregnancy and sexually transmitted diseases;

(5) Teach contraception and condom use in terms of real human use failure rates instead of theoretical laboratory rates, if instruction on contraception and condoms is included in curriculum content;

(6) Stress that sexually transmitted diseases are serious, possible, health hazards of sexual activity. Pupils shall be provided with statistics based on the latest medical information citing failure and success rates of condoms and other contraceptives in preventing acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS), human papilloma virus and other sexually transmitted diseases, if instruction on contraception and condoms is included in curriculum content;

(9) Advise pupils of the laws pertaining to their financial responsibility to children born in and out of wedlock and that it is unlawful for persons of any age to have sexual relations with underage persons to whom they are not married pursuant to chapter 566, RSMo;

(11) Teach pupils to not make unwanted physical and verbal sexual advances and how to say no to unwanted sexual advances. Pupils shall be taught that it is wrong to take advantage of, or exploit, another person. The material and instruction shall also encourage youth to resist negative peer pressure.

Policies concerning referrals and parental notification regarding contraception may be determined by local school boards, and such policies shall be applied in a manner which is consistent with the provisions of section 167.611, RSMo.

3. A school district which provides human sexuality instruction may separate students according to gender for instructional purposes.

4. The board of a school district shall determine the specific content of the district's instruction in human sexuality, in accordance with subsections 1 to 3 of this section, and shall ensure that all instruction in human sexuality is appropriate to the age of the students receiving such instruction.

5. A school district shall notify the parent or legal guardian of each student enrolled in the district of:

The revenue derived from one-half of the two percent rate pursuant to this section shall be deposited by the state treasurer in the school district trust fund and shall be distributed as provided in section 144.701.

2. For the purposes of this section, the term "food" shall include only those products and types of food for which food stamps may be redeemed pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Food Stamp Program as contained in 7 U.S.C. section 2012, as that section now reads or as it may be amended hereafter, and shall not include food dispensed by or through vending machines.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 13 TO SENATE SUBSTITUTE AMENDMENT NO. 1
FOR SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Substitute Amendment No. 1 for Senate Amendment No. 1 to Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 491, Pages 6-11, Section 1, Line 19, by deleting all of said section and replace in lieu thereof the following:

"143.171. 1. For all tax years beginning before January 1, 1994, for an individual taxpayer and for all tax years beginning before September 1, 1993, for a corporate taxpayer, the taxpayer shall be allowed a deduction for his federal income tax liability under chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code for the same taxable year for which the Missouri return is being filed after reduction for all credits thereon, except the credit for payments of federal estimated tax, the credit for the overpayment of any federal tax, and the credits allowed by the Internal Revenue Code by section 31 (tax withheld on wages), section 27 (tax of foreign country and United States possessions), and section 34 (tax on certain uses of gasoline, special fuels, and lubricating oils).

2. For all tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1994, but before December 31, 1997, an individual taxpayer shall be allowed a deduction for his federal income tax liability under chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue Code for the same taxable year for which the Missouri return is being filed, not to exceed five thousand dollars on a single taxpayer's return or ten thousand dollars on a combined return, after reduction for all credits thereon, except the credit for payments of federal estimated tax, the credit for the overpayment of any federal tax, and the credits allowed by the Internal Revenue Code by section 31 (tax withheld on wages), section 27 (tax of foreign country and United States possessions), and section 34 (tax on certain uses of gasoline, special fuels, and lubricating oils). For all tax years beginning on or after January 1, 1998, but before December 31, 1999, an individual taxpayer shall be allowed a deduction for his or her federal income tax liability under chapter 1 of the Internal Revenue code for the same taxable year for which the Missouri return is being filed, not to exceed ten thousand dollars on a single taxpayer's return or fifteen thousand dollars on a combined return, after reduction for all credits thereon, except as specified in this subsection. Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Klarich moved that the above amendment be adopted.

Senator Schneider raised the point of order that SA 13 to SSA 1 for SA 1 is out of order in that it is not a perfecting amendment as it goes beyond the scope of the substitute amendment by attempting to amend sections not in the substitute amendment.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend House Bill No. 628, Page 2, Section 162.431, Line 32, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"163.031. 1. School districts which meet the requirements of section 163.021 shall be entitled to an amount computed as follows: an amount determined by multiplying the number of eligible pupils by the district's equalized operating levy for school purposes as defined in section 163.011 multiplied by the guaranteed tax base per eligible pupil times the proration factor. For the purposes of this section, the proration factor shall be equal to the sum of the total appropriation for distribution under subsections 1 and 2 of this section; and the state total of the deductions as calculated in subsection 2 of this section which do not exceed the district entitlements as adjusted by the same proration factor; divided by the amount of the state total of district entitlements before proration as calculated pursuant to this subsection.

2. From the district entitlement for each district there shall be deducted the following amounts: an amount determined by multiplying the district equalized assessed valuation by the district's equalized operating levy for school purposes times the district income factor plus ninety percent of any payment received the current year of protested taxes due in prior years no earlier than the 1997 tax year minus the amount of any protested taxes due in the current year and for which notice of protest was received during the current year; one hundred percent of the amount received the previous year for school purposes from intangible taxes, fines, forfeitures and escheats, payments in lieu of taxes and receipts from state assessed railroad and utility tax, except that any penalty paid after July 1, 1995, by a concentrated animal feeding operation as defined by the department of natural resources rule shall not be included; one hundred percent of the amounts received the previous year for school purposes from federal properties pursuant to sections 12.070 and 12.080, RSMo; federal impact aid received the previous year for school purposes pursuant to P.L. 81-874 less fifty thousand dollars multiplied by ninety percent or the maximum percentage allowed by federal regulation if that percentage is less than ninety; fifty percent, or the percentage otherwise provided in section 163.087, of Proposition C revenues received the previous year for school purposes from the school district trust fund pursuant to section 163.087; one hundred percent of the amount received the previous year for school purposes from the fair share fund pursuant to section 149.015, RSMo; and one hundred percent of the amount received the previous year for school purposes from the free textbook fund, pursuant to section 148.360, RSMo.

3. School districts which meet the requirements of section 163.021 shall receive categorical add-on revenue as provided in this subsection. There shall be individual proration factors for each categorical entitlement provided for in this subsection, and each proration factor shall be determined by annual appropriations, but no categorical proration factor shall exceed the entitlement proration factor established pursuant to subsection 1 of this section, except that the vocational education entitlement proration factor established pursuant to line 16 of subsection 6 of this section and the educational and screening program entitlements proration factor established pursuant to line 17 of subsection 6 of this section may exceed the entitlement proration factor established pursuant to subsection 1 of this section. The categorical add-on for the district shall be the sum of: seventy-five percent of the district allowable transportation costs pursuant to section 163.161 multiplied by the proration factor; the special education approved or allowed cost entitlement for the district, provided for by section 162.975, RSMo, multiplied by the proration factor; seventy-five percent of the district gifted education approved or allowable cost entitlement as determined pursuant to section 162.975, RSMo, multiplied by the proration factor; the free and reduced lunch eligible pupil count for the district, as defined in section 163.011, multiplied by twenty percent times the guaranteed tax base per eligible pupil times the minimum value for an operating levy for school purposes as provided in section 163.011 times the proration factor; the career ladder entitlement for the district, as provided for in sections 168.500 to 168.515, RSMo, multiplied by the proration factor; the vocational education entitlement for the district, as provided for in section 167.332, RSMo, multiplied by the proration factor and the district educational and screening program entitlements as provided for in sections 178.691 to 178.699, RSMo, times the proration factor.

4. Each district's apportionment shall be the prorated categorical add-ons plus the greater of the district's prorated entitlement minus the total deductions for the district or zero.

5. (1) In the 1993-94 school year and all subsequent school years, pursuant to section 10(c) of article X of the state constitution, a school district shall adjust upward its operating levy for school purposes to the extent necessary for the district to at least maintain the current operating expenditures per pupil received by the district from all sources in the 1992-93 school year, except that its operating levy for school purposes shall not exceed the highest tax rate in effect subsequent to the 1980 tax year, or the minimum rate required by subsection 2 of section 163.021, whichever is less.

(2) Beginning with the 1993-94 school year, the revenue per eligible pupil received by a district from the following sources: line 1 minus line 10, or zero if line 1 minus line 10 is less than zero, plus line 14 of subsection 6 of this section; plus the product of the current assessed valuation of the district multiplied by the following tax rate - the greater of zero or the minimum rate required by subsection 2 of section 163.021 minus the district's equalized operating levy for school purposes for 1993, shall not be less than the revenue per eligible pupil received by a district in the 1992-93 school year from the foundation formula entitlement payment amount. The department of elementary and secondary education shall make an addition in the payment amount of line 19 of subsection 6 of this section to assure compliance with the provisions contained in this section.

(3) For any school district which meets the eligibility criteria for state aid as established in section 163.021, but which under subsections 1 to 4 of this section, receives no state aid for two successive school years, other than categorical add-ons, by August first following the second such school year, the commissioner of education shall present a plan to the superintendent of the school district for the waiver of rules and the duration of said waivers, in order to promote flexibility in the operations of the district and to enhance and encourage efficiency in the delivery of instructional services. The provisions of other law to the contrary notwithstanding, the plan presented to the superintendent shall provide a summary waiver, with no conditions, for the pupil testing requirements pursuant to section 160.257, RSMo. Further, the provisions of other law to the contrary notwithstanding, the plan shall detail a means for the waiver of requirements otherwise imposed on the school district related to the authority of the state board of education to classify school districts pursuant to section 161.092, RSMo, and such other rules as determined by the commissioner of education, except that such waivers shall not include the provisions established pursuant to sections 160.514 and 160.518, RSMo.

(4) In the 1993-94 school year and each school year thereafter for two years, those districts which are entitled to receive state aid under subsections 1 to 4 of this section, shall receive state aid in an amount per eligible pupil as provided in this subsection. For the 1993-94 school year, the amount per eligible pupil shall be twenty-five percent of the amount of state aid per eligible pupil calculated for the district for the 1993-94 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section plus seventy-five percent of the total amount of state aid received by the district from all sources for the 1992-93 school year for which the district is entitled and which are distributed in the 1993-94 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section. For the 1994-95 school year, the amount per eligible pupil shall be fifty percent of the amount of state aid per eligible pupil calculated for the district for the 1994-95 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section plus fifty percent of the total amount of state aid received by the district from all sources for the 1992-93 school year for which the district is entitled and which are distributed in the 1994-95 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section. For the 1995-96 school year, the amount of state aid per eligible pupil shall be seventy-five percent of the amount of state aid per eligible pupil calculated for the district for the 1995-96 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section plus twenty-five percent of the total amount of state aid received by the district from all sources for the 1992-93 school year for which the district is entitled and which are distributed in the 1995-96 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to limit the authority of a school district to raise its district operating levy pursuant to subdivision (1) of this subsection.

(5) If the total of state aid apportionments to all districts pursuant to subdivision (3) of this subsection is less than the total of state aid apportionments calculated pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section, then the difference shall be deposited in the outstanding schools trust fund. If the total of state aid apportionments to all districts pursuant to subdivision (1) of this subsection is greater than the total of state aid apportionments calculated pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section, then funds shall be transferred from the outstanding schools trust fund to the state school moneys fund to the extent necessary to fund the district entitlements as modified by subdivision (4) of this subsection for that school year with a district entitlement proration factor no less than one and such transfer shall be given priority over all other uses for the outstanding schools trust fund as otherwise provided by law.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 7

Amend House Committee Substitute for House Joint Resolution No. 9, Page 3, Section 11(g), Line 9, by inserting immediately after all of said line the following:

"Section D. Section 18, article X, Constitution of Missouri, is repealed and one new section adopted in lieu thereof, to be known as section 18, to read as follows:

Section 18. (a) There is hereby established a limit on the total amount of taxes which may be imposed by the general assembly in any fiscal year on the taxpayers of this state. Effective with fiscal year 1981-1982, and for each fiscal year thereafter, the general assembly shall not impose taxes of any kind which, together with all other revenues of the state, federal funds excluded, exceed the revenue limit established in this section. The revenue limit shall be calculated for each fiscal year and shall be equal to the product of the ratio of total state revenues in fiscal year 1980-1981 divided by the personal income of Missouri in calendar year 1979 multiplied by the personal income of Missouri in either the calendar year prior to the calendar year in which appropriations for the fiscal year for which the calculation is being made, or the average of personal income of Missouri in the previous three calendar years, whichever is greater.

(b) For any fiscal year in the event that total state revenues exceed the revenue limit established in this section by one percent or more, the excess revenues shall be refunded pro rata based on the liability reported on the Missouri state income tax (or its successor tax or taxes) annual returns filed following the close of such fiscal year or by an appropriation to the public school property tax reduction fund which shall be applied to reduce public school property taxes on a pro rata basis for the first two dollars and seventy-five cents per one hundred dollars assessed valuation per property tax payor as provided by law. If the excess is less than one percent, this excess shall be transferred to the general revenue fund.

(c) The revenue limitation established in this section shall not apply to taxes imposed for the payment of principal and interest on bonds, approved by the voters and authorized under the provisions of this constitution.

(d) If responsibility for funding a program or programs is transferred from one level of government to another, as a consequence of constitutional amendment, the state revenue and spending limits may be adjusted to accommodate such change, provided that the total revenue authorized for collection by both state and local governments does not exceed that amount which would have been authorized without such change."; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Flotron moved that the above amendment be adopted.

Senator Mathewson raised the point of order that SA 7 is out of order in that the amendment goes beyond the intent and purpose of the original bill.

Senator Johnson resumed the Chair.

The point of order was referred to the President Pro Tem, who took it under advisement, placing the bill on the Informal Calendar.

The subject matter and original intent of the Joint Resolution was to establish different majorities for voter approval of tax rates, based upon the level of taxation submitted to the voters. SA 7 established a refund mechanism for the Hancock Amendment which would have been another subject matter. With clarity in the rules at issue, research of previous rulings indicated that amendments must be germane to the original intent in joint resolutions as well.

President Wilson resumed the Chair.

All such agencies shall also notify the central repository of all decisions not to refer such arrests for prosecution. All records forwarded to the central repository by the department as required by sections 43.500 to 43.530 shall include the offense cycle number of the offense, and the originating agency identifier number of the department using such numbers as assigned by the highway patrol.

552.030. 1. A person is not responsible for criminal conduct if, at the time of such conduct, as a result of mental disease or defect [he] such person was incapable of knowing and appreciating the nature, quality, or wrongfulness of [his] such person's conduct.

2. Evidence of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility shall not be admissible at trial of the accused unless the accused, at the time of entering [his] such accused's plea to the charge, pleads not guilty by reason of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, or unless within ten days after a plea of not guilty, or at such later date as the court may for good cause permit, [he] the accused files a written notice of [his] such accused's purpose to rely on such defense. Such a plea or notice shall not deprive the accused of other defenses. The state may accept a defense of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, whether raised by plea or written notice, if the accused has no other defense and files a written notice to that effect. The state shall not accept a defense of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility in the absence of any pretrial evaluation as described in this section or section 552.020. Upon the state's acceptance of the defense of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, the court shall proceed to order the commitment of the accused as provided in section 552.040 in cases of persons acquitted on the ground of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, and further proceedings shall be had regarding the confinement and release of the accused as provided in section 552.040.

3. Whenever the accused has pleaded mental disease or defect excluding responsibility or has given the written notice provided in subsection 2 of this section, and such defense has not been accepted as provided in subsection 2 of this section, the court shall, after notice and upon motion of either the state or the accused, by order of record, appoint one or more private psychiatrists or psychologists, as defined in section 632.005, RSMo, or physicians with a minimum of one year training or experience in providing treatment or services to mentally retarded or mentally ill individuals, who are neither employees nor contractors of the department of mental health for purposes of performing the examination in question, to examine the accused, or shall direct the director of the department of mental health, or [his] the director's designee, to have the accused so examined by one or more psychiatrists or psychologists, as defined in section 632.005, RSMo, or physicians with a minimum of one year training or experience in providing treatment or services to mentally retarded or mentally ill individuals designated by the director, or [his] the director's designee, as qualified to perform examinations pursuant to this chapter. The order shall direct that written report or reports of such examination be filed with the clerk of the court. No private psychiatrist, psychologist, or physician shall be appointed by the court unless [he] such psychiatrist, psychologist or physician has consented to act. The examinations ordered shall be made at such time and place and under such conditions as the court deems proper; except that, if the order directs the director of the department of mental health to have the accused examined, the director, or [his] the director's designee, shall determine the time, place and conditions under which the examination shall be conducted. The order may include provisions for the interview of witnesses and may require the provision of police reports to the department for use in evaluation. If an examination provided in section 552.020 was made and the report [thereof] of such examination included an opinion as to whether, at the time of the alleged criminal conduct, the accused, as a result of mental disease or defect, did not know or appreciate the nature, quality or wrongfulness of [his] such accused's conduct or as a result of mental disease or defect was incapable of conforming [his] such accused's conduct to the requirements of law, such report may be received in evidence, and no new examination shall be required by the court unless, in the discretion of the court, another examination is necessary. If an examination is ordered pursuant to this section, the report shall contain the information required in subsections 3 and 4 of section 552.020. Within ten days after receiving a copy of such report, both the accused and the state shall, upon written request, be entitled to an order granting them an examination of the accused by an examiner of [his] such accused's or its own choosing and at [his] such accused's or its expense. The clerk of the court shall deliver copies of the report or reports to the prosecuting or circuit attorney and to the accused or [his] such accused's counsel. No reports required by this subsection shall be public records or be open to the public. Any examination performed pursuant to this subsection shall be completed and the results shall be filed with the court within sixty days of the date it is received by the department or private psychiatrist, psychologist or physician unless the court, for good cause, orders otherwise.

4. If the report contains the recommendation that the accused should be held in custody in a suitable hospital facility pending trial, and if the accused is not admitted to bail, or released on other conditions, the court may order that the accused be committed to or held in a suitable hospital facility pending trial.

5. No statement made by the accused in the course of any such examination and no information received by any physician or other person in the course thereof, whether such examination was made with or without the consent of the accused or upon [his] the accused's motion or upon that of others, shall be admitted in evidence against the accused on the issue of whether [he] the accused committed the act charged against [him] the accused in any criminal proceeding then or thereafter pending in any court, state or federal. The statement or information shall be admissible in evidence for or against [him] the accused only on the issue of [his] such accused's mental condition, whether or not it would otherwise be deemed to be a privileged communication. If the statement or information is admitted for or against the accused on the issue of [his] such accused's mental condition, the court shall, both orally at the time of its admission and later by instruction, inform the jury that it must not consider such statement or information as any evidence of whether the accused committed the act charged against [him] the accused.

6. All persons are presumed to be free of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility for their conduct, whether or not previously adjudicated in this or any other state to be or to have been sexual or social psychopaths, or incompetent; provided, however, the court may admit evidence presented at such adjudication based on its probative value. The issue of whether any person had a mental disease or defect excluding responsibility for [his] such person's conduct is one for the trier of fact to decide upon the introduction of substantial evidence of lack of such responsibility. But, in the absence of such evidence, the presumption shall be conclusive. Upon the introduction of substantial evidence of lack of such responsibility, the presumption shall not disappear and shall alone be sufficient to take that issue to the trier of fact. The jury shall be instructed as to the existence and nature of such presumption when requested by the state and, where the issue of such responsibility is one for the jury to decide, the jury shall be told that the burden rests upon the accused to show by a preponderance or greater weight of the credible evidence that the defendant was suffering from a mental disease or defect excluding responsibility at the time of the conduct charged against [him] the defendant. At the request of the defense the jury shall be instructed by the court as to the contents of subsection 2 of section 552.040.

7. When the accused is acquitted on the ground of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, the verdict and the judgment shall so state as well as state the offense for which the accused was acquitted. The clerk of the court shall furnish a copy of any judgment or order of commitment to the department of mental health pursuant to this section to the criminal records central repository pursuant to section 43.403, RSMo.

610.105. If the person arrested is charged but the case is subsequently nolle prossed, dismissed, or the accused is found not guilty, unless the finding of not guilty is pursuant to section 552.030, RSMo, or imposition of sentence is suspended in the court in which the action is prosecuted, official records pertaining to the case shall thereafter be closed records when such case is finally terminated except that the disposition portion of the record may be accessed for purposes of exculpation and except as provided in section 610.120."

304.156. 1. Within five working days of receipt of the crime inquiry and inspection report under section 304.155 or the abandoned property report under section 304.157, the director of revenue shall search the records of the department of revenue, or initiate an inquiry with another state, if the evidence presented indicated the abandoned property was registered or titled in another state, to determine the name and address of the owner [and/or] and lienholder, if any. After ascertaining the name and address of the owner [and/or] and lienholder, if any, the department shall, within fifteen working days, notify the towing company [and owner or lienholder]. Any towing company which comes into possession of abandoned property pursuant to section 304.155 or 304.157 and who claims a lien for recovering, towing or storing abandoned property shall give notice to the title owner and to all persons claiming a lien thereon, as disclosed by the records of the department of revenue or of a corresponding agency in any other state. The towing company shall notify the owner [and/or] and any lienholder within ten business days of the date of mailing indicated on the notice sent by the department of revenue, by certified mail, return receipt requested. The notice shall contain the following:

(1) The name, address and telephone number of the storage facility;

(2) The date, reason and place from which the abandoned property was removed;

(3) A statement that the amount of the accrued towing, storage and administrative costs are the responsibility of the owner, and that storage and/or administrative costs will continue to accrue as a legal liability of the owner until the abandoned property is redeemed;

(4) A statement that the storage firm claims a possessory lien for all such charges;

(5) A statement that the owner or holder of a valid security interest of record may retake possession of the abandoned property at any time during business hours by proving ownership or rights to a secured interest and paying all towing and storage charges;

(6) A statement that, should the owner consider that the towing or removal was improper or not legally justified, the owner has a right to request a hearing as provided in this section to contest the propriety of such towing or removal;

(7) A statement that if the abandoned property remains unclaimed for thirty days from the date of mailing the notice, title to the abandoned property will be transferred to the person or firm in possession of the abandoned property free of all prior liens; and

(8) A statement that any charges in excess of the value of the abandoned property at the time of such transfer shall remain a liability of the owner.

2. A towing company may assess reasonable storage charges for abandoned property only for the time in which it complies with the procedural requirements of [this section] sections 304.155 to 304.158.

3. In the event that the records of the department of revenue fail to disclose the name of the owner or any lienholder of record, the department shall notify the towing company which shall attempt to locate documents or other evidence of ownership on or within the abandoned property itself. The towing company must certify that a physical search of the abandoned property disclosed that no ownership documents were found and a good faith effort has been made. For purposes of this section, good faith effort means that the following checks have been performed by the company to establish the prior state of registration and title:

(1) Check of the abandoned property for any type of license plates, license plate record, temporary permit, inspection sticker, decal or other evidence which may indicate a state of possible registration and title;

(2) Check the law enforcement report for a license plate number or registration number if the abandoned property was towed at the request of a law enforcement agency;

(3) Check the tow ticket/report of the tow truck operator to see if a license plate was on the abandoned property at the beginning of the tow, if a private tow; and

(4) If there is no address of the owner on the impound report, check the law enforcement report to see if an out-of-state address is indicated on the driver license information.

4. If no ownership information is discovered, the director of revenue shall be notified in writing and title obtained in accordance with subsection 6 of this section.

5. (1) The owner of the abandoned property removed pursuant to the provisions of section 304.155 or 304.157 or any person claiming a lien, other than the towing company, within ten days after the receipt of notification from the towing company pursuant to subsection 1 of this section may file a petition in the associate circuit court in the county where the abandoned property is stored to determine if the abandoned property was wrongfully taken or withheld from the owner. The petition shall name the towing company among the defendants. The petition may also name the agency ordering the tow or the owner, lessee or agent of the real property from which the abandoned property was removed. The director of revenue shall not be a party to such petition but a copy of the petition shall be served on the director of revenue who shall not issue title to such abandoned property pursuant to this section until the petition is finally decided.

(2) Upon filing of a petition in the associate circuit court, the owner or lienholder may have the abandoned property released upon posting with the court a cash or surety bond or other adequate security equal to the amount of the charges for towing and storage to ensure the payment of such charges in the event he does not prevail. Upon the posting of the bond and the payment of the applicable fees, the court shall issue an order notifying the towing company of the posting of the bond and directing the towing company to release the abandoned property. At the time of such release, after reasonable inspection, the owner or lienholder shall give a receipt to the towing company reciting any claims for loss or damage to the abandoned property or the contents thereof.

(3) Upon determining the respective rights of the parties, the final order of the court shall provide for immediate payment in full of recovery, towing, and storage fees by the abandoned property owner or lienholder or the owner, lessee, or agent thereof of the real property from which the abandoned property was removed.

6. A towing and/or storage lien shall be enforced as provided in subsection 7 of this section.

7. Thirty days after the notification form has been mailed to the abandoned property owner and holder of a security agreement and the property is unredeemed and no satisfactory arrangement has been made with the lienholder in possession for continued storage, and the owner or holder of a security agreement has not requested a hearing as provided in subsection [4] 5 of this section, the lienholder in possession may apply to the director of revenue for a salvage certificate of title designated with the words "salvage/abandoned property" or junking certificate based on the condition of the abandoned property as stated in the abandoned property report or crime inquiry and inspection report. The application for title shall be accompanied by:

(1) An affidavit from the lienholder in possession that he has been in possession of the abandoned property for at least thirty days and the owner of the abandoned property or holder of a security agreement has not made arrangements for payment of towing and storage charges;

(2) An affidavit that the lienholder in possession has not been notified of any application for hearing as provided in this section;

(3) A copy of the abandoned property report or crime inquiry and inspection [form] report;

(4) A copy of the thirty-day notice given by certified mail to any owner and person holding a valid security interest and a copy of the certified mail receipt indicating that the owner and lienholder of record has received notice as required in this section.

8. If notice to the owner and holder of a security agreement has been returned marked "not forwardable" or "addressee unknown", the lienholder in possession shall comply with subsection 3 of this section.

9. Any municipality or county may adopt an ordinance regulating the removal and sale of abandoned property provided such ordinance is consistent with sections 304.155 to 304.158.

10. Any municipality or county which has physical possession of the abandoned property and which sells abandoned property in accordance with a local ordinance may transfer ownership by means of a bill of sale signed by the municipal or county clerk or deputy and sealed with the official municipal or county seal. Such bill of sale shall contain the make and model of the abandoned property, the complete abandoned property identification number and the odometer reading of the abandoned property if available and shall be lawful proof of ownership for any dealer registered under the provisions of section 301.218, RSMo, or section 301.560, RSMo, or for any other person. Any dealer or other person purchasing such property from a municipality or county shall apply within thirty days of purchase for a junking certificate or salvage certificate of title designated with the words "salvage/abandoned property". Anyone convicted of a violation of this section shall be guilty of an infraction.

11. Any persons who have towed abandoned property prior to August 28, 1996, may, [within one year after August 28, 1996] until January 1, 1998, apply to the department of revenue for either a junking certificate or a salvage certificate of title designated with the words "salvage/abandoned property" to such property. The application shall be accompanied by:

(1) A notarized affidavit explaining the circumstances by which the abandoned property came into their possession, including the name of the owner or possessor of real property from which the abandoned property was removed;

(2) The date of the removal;

(3) The current location of the abandoned property;

(4) An inspection of the abandoned property as prescribed [in section 304.155] by the director; and

(5) A copy of the thirty-day notice given by certified mail to any owner and person holding a valid security interest of record and a copy of the certified mail receipt.

12. If the director is satisfied with the genuineness of the application and supporting documents submitted pursuant to this section, the director shall issue a salvage certificate of title designated with the words "salvage/abandoned property" or a junking certificate.

13. When an application is made for an original Missouri certificate of ownership on abandoned property previously issued a salvage title as provided in this section, the application shall be accompanied by a properly completed vehicle examination certificate as provided in section 301.190, RSMo, in addition to other documents and fees required by law. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 301.573, RSMo, to the contrary, if satisfied with the genuineness of the application and supporting documents, the director shall issue an original title that shall not designate the abandoned property as being prior salvage unless the examination certificate indicates the vehicle was previously in a salvaged condition or rebuilt.

14. If the proceeds obtained by the towing company from sale of the abandoned property exceed the reasonable costs of towing and storage as allowed by law and the costs of retitling such property by more than one hundred dollars, the proceeds shall be returned to the previous owner of the property by a check made payable to both the previous owner and any lienholder of record. Such check shall be made out to the owner and lienholder in the conjunctive, "and", not the disjunctive, "or".

304.157. 1. If a person abandons property, as defined in section 304.001, on any real property owned by another without the consent of the owner or person in possession of the property, at the request of the person in possession of the real property, any member of the state highway patrol, state water patrol, sheriff, or other law enforcement officer within his jurisdiction may authorize a towing company to remove such abandoned property from the property in the following circumstances:

(1) The abandoned property is left unattended for more than forty-eight hours; or

(2) In the judgment of a law enforcement officer, the abandoned property constitutes a safety hazard or unreasonably interferes with the use of the real property by the person in possession.

2. A local government agency may also provide for the towing of motor vehicles from real property under the authority of any local ordinance providing for the towing of vehicles which are derelict, junk, scrapped, disassembled or otherwise harmful to the public health under the terms of the ordinance. Any local government agency authorizing a tow under this subsection shall report the tow to the local law enforcement agency within two hours with a crime inquiry and inspection report under section 304.155.

3. Neither the law enforcement officer, local government agency nor anyone having custody of abandoned property under his direction shall be liable for any damage to such abandoned property occasioned by a removal authorized by this section other than damages occasioned by negligence or by willful or wanton acts or omissions.

[2.] 4. The owner of real property or lessee in lawful possession of the real property may authorize a towing company to remove abandoned property without authorization by a law enforcement officer only when the owner, lessee or agent of the real property is present and only under any of the following circumstances:

(1) There is displayed, in plain view at all entrances to the property, a sign not less than seventeen by twenty-two inches in size, with lettering not less than one inch in height, prohibiting public parking and indicating that unauthorized abandoned property will be removed at the owner's expense, disclosing the maximum fee for all charges related to towing and storage, and containing the telephone number of the local traffic law enforcement agency where information can be obtained;

(2) The abandoned property is left unattended on private property for over ninety-six hours and lacks an engine, transmission, wheels, tires, doors, windshield or any other major part or equipment necessary to operate safely on the highways[, the owner or lessee of the private property has notified the city police or county sheriff, as appropriate, and ninety-six hours have elapsed since that notification]; or

(3) The abandoned property is left unattended on private property[, and the owner, lessee or agent of the real property in lawful possession of real property has notified the appropriate law enforcement agency, and ten days have elapsed since that notification] for over ten days.

The cost of the forms shall be determined by the department of revenue. The completed form shall be issued by the authorizing officer to the tow operator for that company's records as proof of authorization to tow a particular vehicle.]

6. Any towing company which tows abandoned property without authorization from a law enforcement officer pursuant to subsection 4 of this section shall deliver a copy of the abandoned property report to the local law enforcement agency having jurisdiction over the location from which the abandoned property was towed. The copy may be produced and sent by facsimile machine or other device which produces a near exact likeness of the print and signatures required, but only if the law enforcement agency receiving the report has the technological capability of receiving such copy and has registered the towing company for such purpose. The report shall be delivered within two hours if the tow was made from a signed location under subdivision (1) of subsection 4; otherwise, the report shall be delivered within twenty-four hours.

[4.] 7. The law enforcement agency receiving such abandoned property report must record the date on which the abandoned property report is filed with such agency and [within five days of such filing] shall promptly make an inquiry into the national crime information center and any statewide Missouri law enforcement computer system to determine if the abandoned property has been reported as stolen. [7.] 8. The law enforcement agency receiving notification that abandoned property has been towed by a towing company shall [record the date the property was towed and shall forward a copy of the abandoned property report to the director of revenue.] search the records of the department of revenue and provide the towing company with the latest owner and lienholder information on the abandoned property. If the abandoned property is not claimed within ten working days, the towing company shall send a copy of the abandoned property report signed by a law enforcement officer to the department of revenue.

[8.] 9. If any owner or lessee of real property knowingly authorizes the removal of abandoned property in violation [pursuant to subsection 2 of this section and such property is so removed and no sign is displayed prior to such removal as required pursuant to subsection 2] of this section, then the owner or lessee shall be deemed guilty of a class C misdemeanor.

A person operating or in charge of such storage facility who refuses to accept a valid bank credit card pursuant to this subsection is liable to the registered owner of the abandoned property for four times the amount of the towing and storage charges, but not to exceed five hundred dollars.] In addition, persons operating or in charge of the storage facility shall have sufficient moneys on the premises to accommodate, and make change in, a reasonable monetary transaction.

8. A towing company shall not remove or commence the removal of abandoned property from private property without first obtaining written authorization from the property owner. "No rule or portion of a rule promulgated pursuant to this section shall become effective unless it has been promulgated in accordance with the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, including, but not limited to, section 536.028, after the effective date of this act. All rulemaking authority delegated prior to the effective date of this act is of no force and effect and repealed. The provisions of this section and section 536.028 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to section 536.028 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void."; and

Further amend page 19, section 304.012, line 12, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"536.028. 1. The delegation of authority to any state agency to propose to the general assembly rules as provided under this section is contingent upon the agency complying with the provisions of this section and this delegation of legislative power to the agency to propose an order of rulemaking containing a rule or portion thereof that has the effect of substantive law, other than a rule relating to the agency's organization and internal management, is contingent and dependent upon the power of the general assembly to review such proposed order of rulemaking, to delay the effective date of such proposed order of rulemaking until the expiration of at least thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the general assembly and the secretary of state, and to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in such order of rulemaking.

2. No rule or portion of a rule that has the effect of substantive law shall become effective until the order of rulemaking, in which such rule or portion thereof is contained, has been reviewed by the general assembly in accordance with the procedures provided herein and the agency's authority to propose an order of rulemaking is dependent upon the power of the general assembly to disapprove and annul any such proposed rule or portion thereof as provided herein.

3. In order for the general assembly to have an effective opportunity to be advised of rules proposed by any state agency under the authority of this section, an agency may propose a rule by complying with the procedures provided in section 536.021, except that the notice of proposed rulemaking shall first be filed with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings upon any proposed rule or portion thereof at any time. The agency shall cooperate with the joint committee on administrative rules by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

4. In order to propose an order of rulemaking to the general assembly, the agency shall comply with the provisions of section 536.021, except that the agency may file a proposed order of rulemaking with the secretary of state only by first filing such proposed order with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives. The president pro tem of the senate shall direct that a copy of the proposed order of rulemaking be delivered to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings thereon. The agency shall cooperate with the committee by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

5. Such proposed order of rulemaking shall not become effective prior to the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

6. The committee may, by majority vote of its members, recommend that the general assembly disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in an order of rulemaking after hearings thereon and, upon a finding that such rule or portion thereof should be disapproved and annulled upon the following grounds:

(1) Such rule is substantive in nature in that it creates rights or liabilities or provides for sanctions as to any person, corporation or other legal entity; and

(2) Such rule or portion thereof is not in the public interest or is not authorized by the general assembly for one or more of the following grounds:

(a) An absence of statutory authority for the proposed rule;

(b) The proposed rule is in conflict with state law;

(c) Such proposed rule is likely to substantially endanger the public health, safety or welfare;

(d) The rule exceeds the purpose, or is more restrictive than is necessary to carry out the purpose, of the statute granting rulemaking authority;

(e) A substantial change in circumstance has occurred since enactment of the law upon which the proposed rule is based as to result in a conflict between the purpose of the law and the proposed rule, or as to create a substantial danger to public health and welfare;

(f) The proposed rule is so arbitrary and capricious as to create such substantial inequity as to be unreasonably burdensome on persons affected.

7. Any recommendation or report issued by the committee pursuant to subsection 6 of this section shall be admissible as evidence in any judicial proceeding and entitled to judicial notice without further proof.

8. The general assembly may adopt a concurrent resolution in accordance with the provisions of article IV, section 8 of the Missouri constitution to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof upon one or more of the grounds stated in subsection 6 of this section.

9. Any rule or portion thereof not disapproved within thirty legislative days of a regular session pursuant to subsection 8 of this section shall be deemed approved by the general assembly and the secretary of state may publish such order of rulemaking as soon as practicable upon the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after the order of rulemaking was filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

10. Upon adoption of such concurrent resolution as provided in subsection 8 of this section, the secretary of state shall not publish the order of rulemaking until the expiration of time necessary for such resolution to be signed by the governor, or vetoed and subsequently acted upon by the general assembly pursuant to article III, section 32 of the Missouri Constitution. If such concurrent resolution is adopted and signed by the governor or reconsidered pursuant to article III, section 32, the secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, the order of rulemaking along with notice of the proposed rules or portions thereof which are disapproved and annulled by the general assembly.

11. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 1.140, RSMo, the provisions of this section are nonseverable and the delegation of legislative authority to an agency to propose orders of rulemaking is essentially dependent upon the powers vested with the general assembly as provided herein. If any of the powers vested with the general assembly to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule contained in an order of rulemaking, are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking pursuant thereto shall be invalid and void.

12. Nothing in this section shall prevent the general assembly from adopting by bill within thirty legislative days of a regular session the rules or portions thereof, or as the same may be amended, as contained in a proposed order of rulemaking. In that event, the proposed order of rulemaking shall have been superseded and any rule proposed therein shall be void and only such rules adopted by the general assembly and submitted to the governor may become effective. Rules so adopted shall be published by the secretary of state as soon as practicable. In that event, the secretary of state shall not publish the proposed order of rulemaking and such proposed order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.

13. Upon adoption of any rule now in effect or hereafter promulgated, any such rule or portion thereof may be revoked by the general assembly either by bill, or by concurrent resolution pursuant to article IV, section 8 of the constitution on recommendation of the committee on administrative rules upon the grounds listed in subsection 6 of this section. The secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, notice of the revocation."; and

(1) New motor vehicles which have not been previously titled and registered, prior to the initial motor vehicle registration or the next succeeding registration which is required by law;

(2) Those motor vehicles which are engaged in interstate commerce and are proportionately registered in this state with the Missouri highway reciprocity commission, although the owner may request that such vehicle be inspected by an official inspection station, and a peace officer may stop and inspect such vehicles to determine whether the mechanical condition is in compliance with the safety regulations established by the United States Department of Transportation; and

(3) Historic motor vehicles registered pursuant to section 301.131, RSMo; shall submit such vehicles to [an annual] a biennial inspection of their mechanism and equipment in accordance with the provisions of sections 307.350 to 307.390 and obtain a certificate of inspection and approval and a sticker, seal, or other device from a duly authorized official inspection station. The inspection, except the inspection of school buses which shall be made at the time provided in section 307.375, shall be made at the time prescribed in the rules and regulations issued by the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol; but the inspection of a vehicle shall not be made more than sixty days prior to the date of application for annual registration in a year in which an inspection is required or within sixty days of when a vehicle's registration is transferred. The certificate of inspection and approval shall be a sticker, seal, or other device or combination thereof, as the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol prescribes by regulation and shall be displayed upon the motor vehicle or trailer as prescribed by the regulations established by him. The replacement of certificates of inspection and approval which are lost or destroyed shall be made by the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol under regulations prescribed by him.

2. For the purpose of obtaining an inspection only, it shall be lawful to operate a vehicle over the most direct route between the owner's usual place of residence and an inspection station of such owner's choice, notwithstanding the fact that the vehicle does not have a current state registration license. It shall also be lawful to operate such a vehicle from an inspection station to another place where repairs may be made and to return the vehicle to the inspection station notwithstanding the absence of a current state registration license.

[3. No person whose motor vehicle was duly inspected and approved as provided in this section shall be required to have the same motor vehicle again inspected and approved for the sole reason that such person wishes to obtain a set of any special personalized license plates available pursuant to section 301.144, RSMo, or a set of any license plates available pursuant to section 301.142, RSMo, prior to the expiration date of such motor vehicle's current annual registration.

4.] 3. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 307.390, violation of this section shall be deemed an infraction.

307.353. Other provisions of law notwithstanding, no person shall be required to have [an annual] a biennial vehicle inspection during a registration period which exceeds one year. The inspection required at the beginning of the registration period shall be valid for the entire registration period.

307.355. 1. No state registration license to operate the type of vehicle required to be inspected by section 307.350 may be transferred or issued unless the application for the transfer of a license or the application for annual registration is accompanied by a current certificate of inspection and approval issued not more than sixty days prior to the date of the application in a year in which an inspection is required, or, in the cases of school buses, the current certificate of inspection and approval issued at the time provided in section 307.375 next preceding the date of application, except:

(1) The director of revenue may transfer or issue a state registration license to the type of vehicle required to be inspected by section 307.350 without a certificate of inspection and approval accompanying the application if the director has satisfactory evidence that the vehicle was not in the state of Missouri at any time during the sixty days prior to the date of application; however, the owner of every such vehicle must submit the vehicle for inspection and obtain a certificate of inspection and approval within ten days after the vehicle is first returned to the state of Missouri.

(2) The director of revenue shall renew a vehicle's registration license without a certificate of inspection and approval accompanying the application if satisfactory documentary evidence is presented at the time of application that the license being renewed was properly transferred within a six-month period prior to the expiration of the license being renewed or that the vehicle for which the registration is being issued was issued a registration for a period of less than one year for the registration period just expiring.

2. If due to interstate operation a commercial motor vehicle as defined in section 301.010, RSMo, or a trailer of the type required to be inspected is required to obtain full fee registration in this and any other state during the same calendar year, no Missouri certificate of inspection and approval is required if the vehicle bears evidence that a current valid inspection sticker or decal was issued by such other state in which the vehicle is registered; provided that the sticker or decal issued by such other state is valid for the registration period in this state.

3. After a commercial motor vehicle as defined in section 301.010, RSMo, has been registered for the current year, no certificate of inspection and approval is required when a local commercial motor vehicle license is changed to a beyond-local commercial motor vehicle license or when the licensed gross weight is changed during the licensed period.

307.365. 1. No permit for an official inspection station shall be assigned or transferred or used at any location other than therein designated and every permit shall be posted in a conspicuous place at the location designated. The superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol shall design and furnish each official inspection station, at no cost, one official sign made of metal or other durable material to be displayed in a conspicuous location to designate the station as an official inspection station. Additional signs may be obtained by an official inspection station for a fee equal to the cost to the state. Each inspection station shall also be supplied with one or more posters which must be displayed in a conspicuous location at the place of inspection and which informs the public that required repairs or corrections need not be made at the inspection station.

2. No person operating an official inspection station under the provisions of sections 307.350 to 307.390 may issue a certificate of inspection and approval for any vehicle except upon an official form furnished by the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol for that purpose and only after inspecting the vehicle and determining that its brakes, lighting equipment, signaling devices, steering mechanisms, horns, mirrors, windshield wipers, tires, wheels, exhaust system, glazing, air pollution control devices, fuel tank and any other safety equipment as required by the state are in proper condition and adjustment to be operated upon the public highways of this state with safety to the driver or operator, other occupants therein, as well as other persons and property upon the highways, as provided by sections 307.350 to 307.390 and the regulations prescribed by the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol. No person operating an official inspection station shall furnish, loan, give or sell a certificate of inspection and approval to any other person except those entitled to receive it under provisions of sections 307.350 to 307.390. No person shall have in his possession any certificate of inspection and approval and/or inspection sticker with knowledge that the certificate and/or inspection sticker has been illegally purchased, stolen or counterfeited.

3. The superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol may require officially designated stations to furnish reports upon forms furnished by him for that purpose as he considers reasonably necessary for the proper and efficient administration of sections 307.350 to 307.390.

4. If, upon inspection, defects or unsafe conditions are found, the owner may correct them himself or shall have them corrected at any place of his own choice within fifteen days after the defect or unsafe condition is found, and shall have the right to remove the vehicle to such place for correction, but before the vehicle is operated thereafter upon the public highways of this state, a certificate of inspection and approval must be obtained. The inspecting personnel of the official inspection station must inform the owner that he need not have the corrections made at the inspection station.

5. A fee, not to exceed [seven] fourteen dollars, as determined by each official inspection station, may be charged by an official inspection station for each official inspection including the issuance of the certificate of inspection and approval, sticker, seal or other device and a total fee, not to exceed six dollars, as determined by each official inspection station, may be charged for an official inspection of a trailer or motorcycle, which shall include the issuance of the certificate of inspection and approval, sticker, seal or other device. Such fee shall be conspicuously posted on the premises of each such official inspection station. No owner shall be charged an additional inspection fee upon having corrected defects or unsafe conditions found in an inspection completed within the previous ten consecutive days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, if such follow-up inspection is made by the station making the initial inspection. Every inspection for which a fee is charged shall be a complete inspection, and upon completion of the inspection, if any defects are found the owner of the vehicle shall be furnished a list of the defects and a receipt for the fee paid for the inspection. If the owner of a vehicle decides to have any necessary repairs or corrections made at the official inspection station, he shall be furnished a written estimate of the cost of such repairs before such repairs or corrections are made by the official inspection station. The written estimate shall have plainly written upon it that the owner understands that he need not have the corrections made by the official inspection station and shall have a signature line for the owner. The owner must sign below the statement on the signature line before any repairs are made.

6. Certificates of inspection and approval, sticker, seal or other device shall be purchased by the official inspection stations from the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol. The superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol shall collect a fee of seventy-five cents for each certificate of inspection, sticker, seal or other device issued to the official inspection stations, except that no charge shall be made for certificates of inspection, sticker, seal or other device issued to official inspection stations operated by governmental entities. All fees collected shall be deposited in the state treasury with fifty cents of each fee collected credited to the state highway fund and, for the purpose of administering and enforcing the state motor vehicle laws and traffic regulations, twenty-five cents credited to the "Highway Patrol Inspection Fund" which is hereby created. The moneys collected and deposited in the highway patrol inspection fund shall be expended subject to appropriations by the general assembly for the administration and enforcement of sections 307.350 to 307.390 by the Missouri state highway patrol. The unexpended balance in the fund at the end of each biennium exceeding the amount of the appropriations from the fund for the first two fiscal years shall be transferred to the state road fund, and the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, relating to the transfer of funds to the general revenue fund at the end of the biennium, shall not apply to the fund.

7. The owner or operator of any inspection station who discontinues operation during the period that a station permit is valid or whose station permit is suspended or revoked shall return all official signs and posters and any current unused inspection stickers, seals or other devices to the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol and shall receive a full refund on request except for official signs and posters, provided the request is made during the calendar year or within sixty days thereafter in the manner prescribed by the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol. Stations which have a valid permit shall exchange unused previous year issue inspection stickers and/or decals for an identical number of current year issue, provided the unused stickers and/or decals are submitted for exchange not later than April thirtieth of the current calendar year, in the manner prescribed by the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol.

307.366. 1. This enactment of the emissions inspection program is a mandate of the United States Congress pursuant to the federal Clean Air Act, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 7401, et seq. In any city not within a county, any county of the first classification having a population of over nine hundred thousand inhabitants according to the most recent decennial census, any county of the first classification with a charter form of government and a population of not more than two hundred twenty thousand inhabitants and not less than two hundred thousand inhabitants according to the most recent decennial census, any county of the first classification without a charter form of government with a population of not more than one hundred eighty thousand inhabitants and not less than one hundred seventy thousand inhabitants according to the most recent decennial census and any county of the first classification without a charter form of government with a population of not more than eighty-two thousand inhabitants and not less than eighty thousand inhabitants according to the most recent decennial census, [as a part of the motor vehicle inspection procedure required by sections 307.350 to 307.390,] certain motor vehicles shall be tested to determine that the emissions system is functioning within the emission standards as specified by the Missouri air conservation commission and as required to attain the national health standards for air quality. The motor vehicles to be tested shall be all vehicles except those specifically exempted pursuant to subdivisions (1) to (3) of subsection 1 of section 307.350 and those exempted pursuant to this section. Motor vehicles shall have their emission systems tested annually and where applicable, the vehicles shall be tested as part of the motor vehicle safety inspection procedure required by sections 307.350 to 307.390.

succeeding registration which is required by law.

Each official inspection station which conducts safety or emissions inspections in a city or county referred to in subsection 1 of this section shall indicate the gross vehicle weight rating of the motor vehicle on the safety inspection certificate if the vehicle is exempt from the emissions inspection pursuant to subdivision (1) of this subsection.

3. In addition to the fee authorized by subsection 5 of section 307.365, a fee, not to exceed eight dollars and fifty cents for inspections conducted prior to January 1, 1993, and not to exceed ten dollars and fifty cents for inspections conducted thereafter, as determined by each official safety and emissions inspection station located in any city or county described in subsection 1 of this section, may be charged for an automobile emissions and air pollution control inspection in order to attain the national health standards for air quality. Such fee shall be conspicuously posted on the premises of each such inspection station. The official safety and emissions inspection station shall issue a certificate of inspection and an approval sticker or seal certifying the emissions system is functioning properly. The certificate or approval issued shall bear the legend: "This cost is mandated by your United States Congress." No owner shall be charged an additional fee after having corrected defects or unsafe conditions in the automobile's emissions and air pollution control system if the reinspection is completed within twenty consecutive days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, and if such follow-up inspection is made by the station making the initial inspection.

4. The air conservation commission shall establish, by rule, a waiver amount which may be lower for older model vehicles and which shall be no greater than seventy-five dollars for model year vehicles prior to 1981 and no greater than two hundred dollars for model year vehicles of 1981 and all subsequent model years.

An owner whose vehicle fails upon reinspection to meet the emission standards specified by the Missouri air conservation commission shall be issued a certificate of inspection and an approval sticker or seal by the official safety and emissions inspection station that provided the inspection if the vehicle owner furnishes a complete, signed affidavit satisfying the requirements of this subsection and the cost of emissions repairs and adjustments is equal to or greater than the waiver amount established by the air conservation commission pursuant to this section. The air conservation commission shall establish, by rule, a form and a procedure for verifying that repair and adjustment was performed on a failing vehicle prior to the granting of a waiver and approval. The waiver form established pursuant to this subsection shall be an affidavit requiring:

(2) A statement signed by the inspector that an inspection of the vehicle verified, to the extent practical, that the specified work was done.

6. The department of revenue shall require evidence of the inspection and approval required by this section in issuing the motor vehicle annual registration in conformity with the procedure required by sections 307.350 to 307.370.

7. Each safety and emissions inspection station located in any city or county described in subsection 1 of this section shall purchase from the highway patrol sufficient forms and stickers or other devices to evidence approval of the motor vehicle's emissions control system. In addition, safety and emissions inspection stations may be required to purchase forms for use in automated analyzers from outside vendors of the inspection station's choice. The forms must comply with state regulations.

8. In addition to the fee collected by the superintendent pursuant to subsection 5 of section 307.365, the highway patrol shall collect a fee of seventy-five cents for each automobile emissions certificate issued to the applicable official safety and emissions inspection stations, except that no charge shall be made for certificates of inspection issued to official safety and emissions inspection stations operated by governmental entities. All fees collected by the superintendent pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the "Missouri Air Pollution Control Fund", which is hereby created.

9. The moneys collected and deposited in the Missouri air pollution control fund pursuant to this section shall be allocated on an equal basis to the Missouri state highway patrol and the Missouri department of natural resources, air

The superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol shall issue such rules and regulations as are necessary to determine whether a motor vehicle's emissions control system is operating as required by subsection 1 of this section, and the superintendent and the state highways and transportation commission shall use their best efforts to seek federal funds from which reimbursement grants may be made to those official inspection stations which acquire and use the necessary testing equipment which will be required to perform the tests required by the provisions of this section.

11. The provisions of this section shall not apply in any county for any time period during which the air conservation commission has established a motor vehicle emissions inspection program pursuant to sections 643.300 to 643.355, RSMo, for such county.

12. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 307.390, violation of this section shall be deemed a class C misdemeanor."; and

No rule, except an emergency rule, may become effective prior to the thirtieth day after the date of publication of the revision to the Missouri code of state regulations. The secretary of state shall distribute revisions of the Missouri code of state regulations to all subscribers of the Missouri code of state regulations on or before the date of publication of such revision. The publication date of each rule shall be printed below the rule in the Missouri code of state regulations, provided further, that rules pertaining to changes in hunting or fishing seasons and limits that must comply with federal requirements or that are necessary because of documented changes in fish and game populations may become effective no earlier than on the tenth day after the filing of the order of rulemaking.

8. Effective September 1, 1990, if it is found in a contested case by an administrative or judicial fact finder that a state agency's action was based upon a statement of general applicability which should have been promulgated as a rule, as required by sections 536.010 to 536.050, and that agency was put on notice of such deficiency prior to the administrative or judicial hearing on such matter, then the administrative or judicial fact finder shall award the prevailing nonstate party its reasonable attorney's fees incurred prior to the award, not to exceed the amount in controversy in the original action. This award shall constitute a reviewable order. If a state agency in a contested case grants the relief sought by the nonstate party prior to a finding by an administrative or judicial fact finder that the agency's action was based on a statement of general applicability which should have been promulgated as a rule, but was not, then the affected party may bring an action in the circuit court of Cole County for [his] such party's reasonable attorney's fees incurred prior to the relief being granted, not to exceed the amount in controversy in the original action.

9. The actions authorized by subsection 8 of this section shall not apply to the department of revenue if that department implements the authorization hereby granted to the director or [his] the director's duly authorized agents to issue letter rulings which shall bind [him or his] the director or such agents and their successors for a minimum of three years, subject to the terms and conditions set forth in properly published regulations. An unfavorable letter ruling shall not bind the applicant and shall not be appealable to any forum. Subject to appropriations, letter rulings shall be published periodically with information identifying the taxpayer deleted. For the purposes of this subsection, the term "letter ruling" means a written interpretation of law by the director to a specific set of facts provided by a nonstate party.

536.022. 1. If any rule or portion of a rule of a state agency is suspended or terminated by action of [the general assembly,] the governor, a court or other authority, the state agency shall immediately file a notice of such action with the secretary of state.

2. The notice, in a format for publication designed by the secretary of state, shall contain the title and number of the rule; shall describe briefly the action taken with regard to the rule and the parties affected by the suspension or termination; shall state the effective date of the suspension or termination; shall state the duration of the suspension; and shall contain such other information deemed necessary by the secretary of state to provide adequate public information.

3. If any action has the effect of changing the information in the initial notice, the state agency shall immediately file a new notice with the secretary of state in the same manner as the original notice.

4. Notices shall be printed by the secretary of state in the Missouri Register as soon as practicable. The secretary of state shall insert in the code of state regulations material regarding the suspension or termination of rules, and [he] the secretary of state may remove rules which have terminated.

536.023. 1. The secretary of state shall prescribe, in writing, uniform procedures for the numbering, indexing, form and publication of all rules, notices of rulemaking and orders of rulemaking. Copies of the procedures [shall be furnished by the secretary of state to each state agency on or before January 1, 1976, and copies thereof] shall be permanently maintained in the office of the secretary of state and shall be available for public inspection at all reasonable times.

2. No rule, notice of proposed rulemaking or final order of rulemaking shall be accepted for filing with the secretary of state unless it conforms to said uniform procedures.

3. Each state agency shall adopt as a rule a description of its organization and general courses and methods of its operation and the methods and procedures whereby the public may obtain information or make submissions or requests. Substantial changes in any matter covered by the foregoing description shall be made only in accordance with the procedures set forth in sections 536.021 or 536.025.

[4. All rules on file with the secretary of state upon January 1, 1976, which do not conform to said uniform procedures, shall be rewritten so as to conform thereto and shall be refiled with the secretary of state not later than ninety days after January 1, 1976, and no rule shall be promulgated, amended or rescinded during said ninety-day period except pursuant to section 536.025. The original rules shall remain in effect until rewritten and refiled, and the rewritten rules shall become effective immediately upon refiled without following the provisions of section 536.021; provided, however, that any rule which is not so rewritten and refiled within ninety days after January 1, 1976, shall then lapse and be of no further force and effect unless and until it shall be promulgated in accordance with the provisions of section 536.021.]

536.024. 1. When the general assembly authorizes any state agency to adopt administrative rules or regulations pursuant to this section, the granting of such rulemaking authority and the validity of such rules and regulations is contingent upon the agency complying with the provisions of this section in promulgating such rules after June 3, 1994.

2. [No rule or portion of a rule promulgated under the authority of any provision of Missouri statutes shall become effective until it has been approved by the joint committee on administrative rules in accordance with the procedures provided herein, and the delegation of the legislative authority to enact law by the adoption of such rules is dependent upon the power of the joint committee on administrative rules to review and suspend rules pending ratification by the senate and the house of representatives as provided herein.

3.] Upon filing any proposed rule with the secretary of state, the filing agency shall concurrently submit such proposed rule to the joint committee on administrative rules, which may hold hearings upon any proposed rule or portion thereof at any time.

[4.] 3. A final order of rulemaking shall not be filed with the secretary of state until thirty days after such final order of rulemaking has been received by the committee. The committee may hold one or more hearings upon such final order of rulemaking during the thirty-day period. [If the committee does not disapprove such order of rulemaking within the thirty-day period, the filing agency may file such order of rulemaking with the secretary of state and the order of rulemaking shall be deemed approved.

5. The committee may, by majority vote of the members, suspend the order of rulemaking or portion thereof by action taken prior to the filing of the final order of rulemaking only for one or more of the following grounds:

- (1) An absence of statutory authority for the proposed rule;
- (2) An emergency relating to public health, safety or welfare;
- (3) The proposed rule is in conflict with state law;
- (4) A substantial change in circumstance since enactment of the law upon which the proposed rule is based;
- (5) The proposed rule is arbitrary and capricious.

6. If the committee disapproves any rule or portion thereof, the filing agency shall not file such disapproved portion of any rule with the secretary of state and the secretary of state shall not publish in the Missouri Register any final order of rulemaking containing the disapproved portion.

7. If the committee disapproves any rule or portion thereof, the committee shall report its findings to the senate and the house of representatives. No rule or portion thereof disapproved by the committee shall take effect so long as the senate and the house of representatives ratify the act of the joint committee by resolution adopted in each house within thirty legislative days after such rule or portion thereof has been disapproved by the joint committee.

8. Upon adoption of a rule as provided herein, any such rule or portion thereof may be suspended or revoked by the general assembly either by bill or, pursuant to section 8, article IV of the constitution, by concurrent resolution upon recommendation of the joint committee on administrative rules. The committee shall be authorized to hold hearings and make recommendations pursuant to the provisions of section 536.037. The secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, notice of the suspension or revocation.

9.] 4. The committee may file with the secretary of state any comments that the committee has concerning a proposed or final order of rulemaking. Such comments shall be published in the Missouri Register.

5. The committee may refer comments concerning such rule to the appropriations and budget committee of the house of representatives and the appropriations committee of the senate for further action.

6. The provisions of this section shall not apply to rules promulgated by the public service commission and the labor and industrial relations commission.

536.025. 1. A rule may be made, amended or rescinded by a state agency without following the provisions of section 536.021 [and subsection 5 of section 536.027], only if the state agency:

(1) Finds that an immediate danger to the public health, safety or welfare requires emergency action or that the rule is necessary to preserve a compelling governmental interest;

(2) Follows procedures best calculated to assure fairness to all interested persons and parties under the circumstances;

(3) Follows procedures which comply with the protections extended by the Missouri and United States Constitutions;

(4) Limits the scope of such rule to the circumstances creating an emergency and requiring emergency procedure; and

(5) At the time of or prior to the adoption of such rule files with the secretary of state and the joint committee on administrative rules the text of the rule together with the specific facts, reasons, and findings which support its conclusion that there is an immediate danger to the public health, safety or welfare or that the rule is necessary to preserve a compelling governmental interest which can be met only through the adoption of such rule and its reasons for concluding that the procedure employed is fair to all interested persons and parties under the circumstances.

2. Material filed with the secretary of state and the joint committee on administrative rules under the provisions of subdivision (5) of subsection 1 of this section shall be published in the Missouri Register by the secretary of state as soon as practicable after the filing thereof. Any [emergency] rule promulgated pursuant to this section shall be reviewed by the secretary of state to determine compliance with the requirements for its publication and adoption established in this section, and in the event that the secretary of state determines that such proposed material does not meet those requirements, the secretary of state shall not publish the [emergency] rule. The secretary of state shall inform the agency of its determination, and offer the agency a chance to either withdraw the emergency rule or to have the emergency rule published as a proposed rule.

3. [If the joint committee disapproves any emergency rule or portion thereof, the committee shall report its findings to the senate and the house of representatives. No emergency rule or portion thereof disapproved by the committee shall take effect unless the senate and the house of representatives fail to ratify the action of the joint committee by resolution adopted in each house within thirty legislative days after such rule or portion thereof has been disapproved by the joint committee.

4.] Rules adopted under the provisions of this section shall be known as "emergency rules" and shall, along with the findings and conclusions of the state agency in support of its employment of emergency procedures, be judicially reviewable under section 536.050 or other appropriate form of judicial review. The secretary of state and any employee thereof, acting in the scope of employment, shall be immune from suit in actions regarding the adoption of rules pursuant to this section.

[5.] 4. A rule adopted under the provisions of this section shall clearly state the interval during which it will be in effect [and which, in no case, may be for a period exceeding one hundred eighty days]. Emergency rules shall not be in effect for a period exceeding one hundred eighty calendar days or thirty legislative days, whichever period is longer. For the purposes of this section, a "legislative day" is each Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday beginning the first Wednesday after the first Monday in January and ending the first Friday after the second Monday in May, regardless of whether the legislature meets.

[6.] 5. A rule adopted under the provisions of this section shall not be renewable, although a state agency may, at any time, adopt an identical rule under normal rulemaking procedures.

[7.] 6. A rule adopted under the provisions of this section may be effective not less than ten days after the filing thereof in the office of the secretary of state, or at such later date as may be specified in the rule, and may be terminated at any time by the state agency by filing an order with the secretary of state fixing the date of such termination, which order shall be published by the secretary of state in the Missouri Register as soon as practicable after the filing thereof.

[8.] 7. Effective September 1, 1994, if it is found in a contested case by an administrative or judicial fact finder that a state agency's rule should not have been promulgated as an emergency rule as provided by this section, but was in fact promulgated as an emergency rule pursuant to this section, then the administrative or judicial fact finder shall award the [prevailing] party who prevails, as defined in section 536.019, its reasonable [attorney's fees incurred prior to the award, not to exceed the amount in controversy, if any, in the original action] fees and expenses, as defined in section 536.019. This award shall constitute a reviewable order. If a state agency in a contested case grants the relief sought by the party prior to a finding by an administrative or judicial fact finder that the state agency's action was based on a statement of general applicability which should not have been promulgated as an emergency rule, but was in fact promulgated as an emergency rule pursuant to this section, then the affected party may bring an action in circuit court of Cole County for his reasonable [attorney's fees incurred prior to the relief being granted, not to exceed the amount in controversy in the original action] fees and expenses, as defined in section 536.019.

[536.028. 1. The delegation of authority to any state agency to propose to the general assembly rules as provided under this section is contingent upon the agency complying with the provisions of this section and this delegation of legislative power to the agency to propose an order of rulemaking containing a rule or portion thereof that has the effect of substantive law, other than a rule relating to the agency's organization and internal management, is contingent and dependent upon the power of the general assembly to review such proposed order of rulemaking, to delay the effective date of such proposed order of rulemaking until the expiration of at least thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the general assembly and the secretary of state, and to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in such order of rulemaking.

2. No rule or portion of a rule that has the effect of substantive law shall become effective until the order of rulemaking, in which such rule or portion thereof is contained, has been reviewed by the general assembly in accordance with the procedures provided herein and the agency's authority to propose an order of rulemaking is dependent upon the power of the general assembly to disapprove and annul any such proposed rule or portion thereof as provided herein.

3. In order for the general assembly to have an effective opportunity to be advised of rules proposed by any state agency under the authority of this section, an agency may propose a rule by complying with the procedures provided in section 536.021, except that the notice of proposed rulemaking shall first be filed with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings upon any proposed rule or portion thereof at any time. The agency shall cooperate with the joint committee on administrative rules by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

4. In order to propose an order of rulemaking to the general assembly, the agency shall comply with the provisions of section 536.021, except that the agency may file a proposed order of rulemaking with the secretary of state only by first filing such proposed order with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives. The president pro tem of the senate shall direct that a copy of the proposed order of rulemaking be delivered to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings thereon. The agency shall cooperate with the committee by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

5. Such proposed order of rulemaking shall not become effective prior to the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

6. The committee may, by majority vote of its members, recommend that the general assembly disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in an order of rulemaking after hearings thereon and, upon a finding that such rule or portion thereof should be disapproved and annulled upon the following grounds:

(1) Such rule is substantive in nature in that it creates rights or liabilities or provides for sanctions as to any person, corporation or other legal entity; and

(2) Such rule or portion thereof is not in the public interest or is not authorized by the general assembly for one or more of the following grounds:

(a) An absence of statutory authority for the proposed rule;

(b) The proposed rule is in conflict with state law;

(c) Such proposed rule is likely to substantially endanger the public health, safety or welfare;

(d) The rule exceeds the purpose, or is more restrictive than is necessary to carry out the purpose, of the statute granting rulemaking authority;

(e) A substantial change in circumstance has occurred since enactment of the law upon which the proposed rule is based as to result in a conflict between the purpose of the law and the proposed rule, or as to create a substantial danger to public health and welfare;

(f) The proposed rule is so arbitrary and capricious as to create such substantial inequity as to be unreasonably burdensome on persons affected.

7. Any recommendation or report issued by the committee pursuant to subsection 6 of this section shall be admissible as evidence in any judicial proceeding and entitled to judicial notice without further proof.

8. The general assembly may adopt a concurrent resolution in accordance with the provisions of article IV, section 8 of the Missouri constitution to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof upon one or more of the grounds stated in subsection 6 of this section.

9. Any rule or portion thereof not disapproved within thirty legislative days of a regular session pursuant to subsection 8 of this section shall be deemed approved by the general assembly and the secretary of state may publish such order of rulemaking as soon as practicable upon the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after the order of rulemaking was filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

10. Upon adoption of such concurrent resolution as provided in subsection 8 of this section, the secretary of state shall not publish the order of rulemaking until the expiration of time necessary for such resolution to be signed by the governor, or vetoed and subsequently acted upon by the general assembly pursuant to article III, section 32 of the Missouri Constitution. If such concurrent resolution is adopted and signed by the governor or reconsidered pursuant to article III, section 32, the secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, the order of rulemaking along with notice of the proposed rules or portions thereof which are disapproved and annulled by the general assembly.

11. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 1.140, RSMo, the provisions of this section are nonseverable and the delegation of legislative authority to an agency to propose orders of rulemaking is essentially dependent upon the powers vested with the general assembly as provided herein. If any of the powers vested with the general assembly to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule contained in an order of rulemaking, are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking pursuant thereto shall be invalid and void.

12. Nothing in this section shall prevent the general assembly from adopting by bill within thirty legislative days of a regular session the rules or portions thereof, or as the same may be amended, as contained in a proposed order of rulemaking. In that event, the proposed order of rulemaking shall have been superseded and any rule proposed therein shall be void and only such rules adopted by the general assembly and submitted to the governor may become effective. Rules so adopted shall be published by the secretary of state as soon as practicable. In that event, the secretary of state shall not publish the proposed order of rulemaking and such proposed order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.

13. Upon adoption of any rule now in effect or hereafter promulgated, any such rule or portion thereof may be revoked by the general assembly either by bill, or by concurrent resolution pursuant to article IV, section 8 of the constitution on recommendation of the committee on administrative rules upon the grounds listed in subsection 6 of this section. The secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, notice of the revocation.]

536.031. 1. There is established a publication to be known as the "Code of State Regulations", which shall be published by the secretary of state as soon as practicable after ninety days following January 1, 1976, and may be republished from time to time thereafter as determined by the secretary of state.

2. The code of state regulations shall contain the full text of all rules of state agencies in force and effect upon the effective date of the first publication thereof, and effective September 1, 1990, it shall be revised no less frequently than monthly thereafter so as to include all rules of state agencies subsequently made, amended or rescinded and the full text of any law enacted pursuant to section 21.800, RSMo. The code may also include citations, references, or annotations, prepared by the state agency adopting the rule or by the secretary of state, to any intraagency ruling, attorney general's opinion, determination, decisions, order, or other action of the administrative hearing commission, or any determination, decision, order, or other action of a court interpreting, applying, discussing, distinguishing, or otherwise affecting any rule published in the code.

3. The code of state regulations shall be published in looseleaf form in one or more volumes and with an appropriate index and cover, and revisions in the text and index may be made by printing additional pages for insertion in the looseleaf cover.

4. The secretary of state may omit from the code of state regulations such rules and such material incorporated by reference in any rule the publication of which would be unduly cumbersome or expensive, provided that the full text of such rule or the full text of the material incorporated by reference is made available to any interested person at both the office of the secretary of state and the office of the adopting state agency, and copies thereof made available to any interested party at a cost not to exceed the actual cost of copy reproduction.

5. The courts of this state shall take judicial notice, without proof, of the contents of the code of state regulations.

536.046. Each agency may maintain a public rulemaking docket. The rulemaking docket may contain a listing of the precise subject matter of each rule that the agency is considering proposing. The docket may also contain the name and address of agency personnel with whom persons may communicate with respect to the matter and an indication of the present status within the agency of the rule the agency is considering proposing. The secretary of state may publish such rulemaking dockets.

536.050. 1. The power of the courts of this state to render declaratory judgments shall extend to declaratory judgments respecting the validity of rules, or of threatened applications thereof, and such suits may be maintained against agencies whether or not the plaintiff has first requested the agency to pass upon the question presented. The venue of such suits against agencies shall, at the option of the plaintiff, be in the circuit court of Cole County, or in the county of the plaintiff's residence, or if the plaintiff is a corporation, domestic or foreign, having a registered office or business office in this state, in the county of such registered office or business office. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as a limitation on the declaratory or other relief which the courts might grant in the absence of this section.

2. Any person bringing an action under subsection 1 of this section shall not be required to exhaust any administrative remedy if the court determines that:

(1) The administrative agency has no authority to grant the relief sought or the administrative remedy is otherwise inadequate; or

(2) The only issue presented for adjudication is a constitutional issue or other question of law; or

(3) Requiring the person to exhaust any administrative remedy would result in undue prejudice because the person may suffer irreparable harm if unable to secure immediate judicial consideration of the claim. Provided, however, that the provisions of this subsection shall not apply to any matter covered by chapters 288, 302, and 303, RSMo.

3. A party who prevails in an action brought pursuant to subsection 1 of this section shall be awarded reasonable fees and expenses, as defined in section 536.085, incurred by that party in the action.

4. A party seeking an award of fees and other expenses shall, within thirty days of a final disposition of an action brought pursuant to subsection 1 of this section, submit to the court which rendered the final disposition or judgment an application which shows that the party is a prevailing party and is eligible to receive an award pursuant to this section, and the amount sought, including an itemized statement from any attorney or expert witness representing or appearing in behalf of the party stating the actual time expended and the rate at which fees and other expenses are computed.

5. A prevailing party in an agency proceeding shall submit an application for fees and expenses to the court before which the party prevailed. The filing of an application shall not stay the time for appealing the merits of a case. When the state appeals the underlying merits of an adversary proceeding, no decision on the application for fees and other expenses in connection with that adversary proceeding shall be made pursuant to this section until a final and unreviewable decision is rendered by the court on the appeal or until the underlying merits of the case have been finally determined pursuant to the appeal.

6. The court may either reduce the amount to be awarded or deny any award, to the extent that the prevailing party during the course of the proceedings engaged in conduct which unduly and unreasonably protracted the final resolution of the matter in controversy.

7. The decision of a court on the application for reasonable fees and expenses shall be in writing, separate from the judgment or order of the court which determined the prevailing party, and shall include written findings and conclusions and the reason or basis therefor. The decision of a court on the application for fees and other expenses shall be final, subject respectively to appeal or judicial review.

8. If a party or the state is dissatisfied with a determination of fees and other expenses made in an action brought pursuant to subsection 1 of this section, that party or the state may, within the time permitted by law, appeal that order or judgment to the appellate court having jurisdiction to review the merits of that order or judgment. The appellate court's determination shall be based solely on the record made before the court below. The court may modify, reverse or reverse and remand the determination of fees and other expenses if the court finds that the award or failure to make an award of fees and other expenses, or the calculation of the amount of the award, was arbitrary and capricious, was unreasonable, was unsupported by competent and substantial evidence, or was made contrary to law or in excess of the court's jurisdiction. Awards made pursuant to this section shall be payable from amounts appropriated therefor. The state agency against which the award was made shall request an appropriation to pay for the award.

[Section 14. 1. The director may, after notice and hearing, promulgate reasonable rules to carry out the provisions of sections 1 to 11. The director shall have the authority to promulgate rules to accomplish the following purposes:

- (1) To regulate the internal affairs of the department of insurance;
- (2) To prescribe forms and procedures to be followed in proceedings before the department of insurance; and
- (3) To effectuate or aid in the interpretation of any law of this state pertaining to the subject matters of sections 1 to 11.

2. Any rule that has the effect of creating or substantially modifying a legal right, liability, obligation or sanction shall be considered substantive. The director may only promulgate substantive rules on subject matters specifically authorized pursuant to sections 1 to 11 and any substantive rule or portion of a rule shall become effective only as provided pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, including, but not limited to, section 536.028, after the effective date of this act. All such substantive rules and all substantive rulemaking authority granted pursuant to sections 1 to 11 shall expire on August 31, 1998. Any act by the general assembly that serves to extend or postpone the expiration of any rule or rulemaking authority shall not constitute legislative approval of the rule or authority nor be admissible in any court as evidence of legislative intent. The provisions of this section are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to section 536.028 to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule, or portion of a rule, are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.]

Section D. Because immediate action is necessary to properly oversee the laws of this state, section C of this act is deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, welfare, peace and safety, and is hereby declared to be an emergency act within the meaning of the constitution, and section C of this act shall be in full force and effect upon its passage and approval."

Further amend said bill, Page 1, In the Title, Line 4, by inserting immediately after the word "subject" the following: ", with an effective date"; and

"287.020. 1. The word "employee" as used in this chapter shall be construed to mean every person in the service of any employer, as defined in this chapter, under any contract of hire, express or implied, oral or written, or under any appointment or election, including executive officers of corporations. Any reference to any employee who has been injured shall, when the employee is dead, also include his dependents, and other persons to whom compensation may be payable. The word "employee" shall also include all minors who work for an employer, whether or not such minors are employed in violation of law, and all such minors are hereby made of full age for all purposes under, in connection with, or arising out of this chapter. [The word "employee" shall not include an individual who is the owner and operator of a motor vehicle which is leased or contracted with a driver to a for-hire common or contract motor vehicle carrier operating within a commercial zone as defined in section 390.020 or 390.041, RSMo, or operating under a certificate issued by the transportation division of the department of economic development or by the interstate commerce commission.]

2. The word "accident" as used in this chapter shall, unless a different meaning is clearly indicated by the context, be construed to mean an unexpected or unforeseen identifiable event or series of events happening suddenly and violently, with or without human fault, and producing at the time objective symptoms of an injury. An injury is compensable if it is clearly work related. An injury is clearly work related if work was a substantial factor in the cause of the resulting medical condition or disability. An injury is not compensable merely because work was a triggering or precipitating factor.

3. (1) In this chapter the term "injury" is hereby defined to be an injury which has arisen out of and in the course of employment. The injury must be incidental to and not independent of the relation of employer and employee. Ordinary, gradual deterioration or progressive degeneration of the body caused by aging shall not be compensable, except where the deterioration or degeneration follows as an incident of employment.

(2) An injury shall be deemed to arise out of and in the course of the employment only if:

(a) It is reasonably apparent, upon consideration of all the circumstances, that the employment is a substantial factor in causing the injury; and

(b) It can be seen to have followed as a natural incident of the work; and

(c) It can be fairly traced to the employment as a proximate cause; and

(d) It does not come from a hazard or risk unrelated to the employment to which workers would have been equally exposed outside of and unrelated to the employment in normal nonemployment life;

(3) The terms "injury" and "personal injuries" shall mean violence to the physical structure of the body and to the personal property which is used to make up the physical structure of the body, such as artificial dentures, artificial limbs, glass eyes, eyeglasses, and other prostheses which are placed in or on the body to replace the physical structure and such disease or infection as naturally results therefrom. These terms shall in no case except as specifically provided in this chapter be construed to include occupational disease in any form, nor shall they be construed to include any contagious or infectious disease contracted during the course of the employment, nor shall they include death due to natural causes occurring while the worker is at work.

4. "Death" when mentioned as a basis for the right to compensation means only death resulting from such violence and its resultant effects occurring within three hundred weeks after the accident; except that in cases of occupational disease, the limitation of three hundred weeks shall not be applicable.

5. Without otherwise affecting either the meaning or interpretation of the abridged clause, "personal injuries arising out of and in the course of such employment", it is hereby declared not to cover workers except while engaged in or about the premises where their duties are being performed, or where their services require their presence as a part of such service.

6. A person who is employed by the same employer for more than five and one-half consecutive work days shall for the purpose of this chapter be considered an "employee".

7. The term "total disability" as used in this chapter shall mean inability to return to any employment and not merely mean inability to return to the employment in which the employee was engaged at the time of the accident.

8. As used in this chapter and all acts amendatory thereof, the term "commission" shall hereafter be construed as meaning and referring exclusively to the labor and industrial relations commission of Missouri, and the term "director" shall hereafter be construed as meaning the director of the department of insurance of the state of Missouri or such agency of government as shall exercise the powers and duties now conferred and imposed upon the department of insurance of the state of Missouri.

9. The term "division" as used in this chapter means the division of workers' compensation of the department of labor and industrial relations of the state of Missouri.

10. For the purposes of this chapter, the term "minor" means a person who has not attained the age of eighteen years; except that, for the purpose of computing the compensation provided for in this chapter, the provisions of section 287.250 shall control.

287.030. 1. The word "employer" as used in this chapter shall be construed to mean:

(1) Every person, or sole proprietor, limited liability partners, partners or copartners comprising a partnership, association, corporation, trustee, receiver, the legal representatives of a deceased employer, and every other person, including any person or corporation operating a railroad and any public service corporation, using the service of another for pay;

(2) The state, county, municipal corporation, township, school or road, drainage, swamp and levee districts, or school boards, board of education, regents, curators, managers or control commission, board or any other political subdivision, corporation, or quasi-corporation, or cities under special charter, or under the commission form of government;

(3) Any of the above defined employers must have five or more employees to be deemed an employer for the purposes of this chapter unless election is made to become subject to the provisions of this chapter as provided in subsection 2 of section 287.090, except that construction industry employers who erect, demolish, alter or repair improvements shall be deemed an employer for the purposes of this chapter if they have one or more employees.

2. Any reference to the employer shall also include his insurer.

[287.037. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, beginning January 1, 1997, those insurance companies providing coverage pursuant to chapter 287, to a limited liability company, as defined in section 347.015, RSMo, shall provide coverage for the employees of the limited liability company who are not members of the limited liability company. Members of the limited liability company, as defined in section 347.015, RSMo, shall also be provided coverage pursuant to chapter 287, but such members may individually elect to reject such coverage by providing a written notice of such rejection on a form developed by the department of insurance to the limited liability company and its insurer. Failure to provide notice to the limited liability company shall not be grounds for any member to claim that the rejection of such coverage is not legally effective. A member who elects to reject such coverage shall not thereafter be entitled to workers' compensation benefits under the policy, even if serving or working in the capacity of an employee of the limited liability company, at least until such time as said member provides the limited liability company and its insurer with a written notice which rescinds the prior rejection of such coverage. The written notice which rescinds the prior rejection of such coverage shall be on a form developed by the department of insurance. Any rescission shall be prospective in nature and shall entitle the member only to such benefits which accrue on or after the date the notice of rescission form is received by the insurance company.]

287.061. 1. Any city or county which issues an occupational or business license for a contractor in the construction industry shall require a certificate of insurance for workers' compensation coverage [if the applicant for the license is required to cover his liability under this chapter.] or an affidavit, the form of which shall be provided by the division of worker's compensation, signed by the applicant attesting that he or she is exempt.

2. Any [applicant] contractor who fails to comply with the provisions of subsection 1 of this section shall be denied such a license until [he] such person furnishes a certificate of insurance.

3. It is unlawful, pursuant to section 287.128, for any [applicant] contractor to provide fraudulent information pursuant to this section.

4. Nothing in this section shall be construed to create or constitute a liability to or a cause of action against a city or county in regard to the issuance of any license pursuant to this section.

[287.090. 1. This chapter shall not apply to:

(1) Employment of farm labor, domestic servants in a private home, including family chauffeurs, or occasional labor performed for and related to a private household;

(2) Any worker who is a member of the employer's family within the third degree of affinity or consanguinity but such shall be included in the total number of employees of such employer for purposes of subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of section 287.030;

(3) Qualified real estate agents and direct sellers as those terms are defined in section 3508 of title 26 United States Code;

(4) Employment where the person employed is an inmate confined in a state prison, penitentiary or county or municipal jail, or a patient or resident in a state mental health facility, and the labor or services of such inmate, patient, or resident are exclusively on behalf of the state, county or municipality having custody of said inmate, patient, or resident. Nothing in this subdivision is intended to exempt employment where the inmate, patient or resident was hired by a state, county or municipal government agency after direct competition with persons who are not inmates, patients or residents and the compensation for the position of employment is not contingent upon or affected by the worker's status as an inmate, patient or resident;

(5) Volunteers of a tax-exempt organization which operates under the standards of section 501(c)(3) of the federal Internal Revenue Code, where such volunteers are not paid wages, but provide services purely on a charitable and voluntary basis;

(6) Persons providing services as adjudicators, sports officials, or contest workers for interscholastic activities programs or similar amateur youth programs who are not otherwise employed by the sponsoring school, association of schools or nonprofit tax-exempt organization sponsoring the amateur youth programs.

2. Any employer in this section exempted under subsection 1 of this section may bring himself within the provisions of this chapter by filing with the division notice of his election to accept the provisions, or by the purchasing and accepting by the employer of a valid compensation insurance policy, and the election by the purchase and acceptance of the insurance policy shall include the exempted employments described in subsection 1 of this section if such intent is shown by the terms of the policy. The election shall take effect and continue from the date of filing with the division by the employer of his election to accept liability under this chapter, or from the effective date of the insurance policy. Any employer electing to become liable under this chapter may withdraw his election by filing with the division a notice that he desires to withdraw his election, which withdrawal shall take effect thirty days after the date of the filing, or at such later date as may be specified in the notice of withdrawal.

3. Any insurance company authorized to write insurance under the provisions of this chapter in this state shall file with the division a memorandum on a form prescribed by the division of any workers' compensation policy issued to any employer and of any renewal or cancellation thereof.

4. The mandatory coverage sections of this chapter shall not apply to the employment of any member of a family owning a family farm corporation as defined in section 350.010, RSMo, or to the employment of any salaried officer of a family farm corporation organized pursuant to the laws of this state, but such family members and officers of such family farm corporations may be covered under a policy of workers' compensation insurance if approved by a resolution of the board of directors. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to apply to any other type of corporation other than a family farm corporation.

5. A corporation may be exempt from the provisions of this chapter, when there are no more than two owners of the corporation who are also the only employees of the corporation, by filing with the division notice of election to be exempt. The election shall take effect and continue from the date of filing with the division by the corporation of the notice of exemption from liability under this chapter. Any corporation making such an election may withdraw its election by filing with the division a notice to withdraw the election, which shall take effect thirty days after the date of the filing, or at such later date as may be specified in the notice of withdrawal.]

287.090. 1. This chapter shall not apply to:

(1) Employment of farm labor, domestic servants in a private home, including family chauffeurs, or occasional labor performed for and related to a private household;

(2) Employment where the person employed is an inmate confined in a state prison, penitentiary or county or municipal jail, or a patient or resident in a state mental health facility, and the labor or services of such inmate, patient, or resident are exclusively on behalf of the state, county or municipality having custody of said inmate, patient or resident. Nothing in this subdivision is intended to exempt employment where the inmate, patient or resident was hired by a state, county or municipal government agency after direct competition with persons who are not inmates, patients or residents and the compensation for the position of employment is not contingent upon or affected by the worker's status as an inmate, patient or resident;

(3) The employment of any member of a family owning a family farm corporation as defined in section 350.010, RSMo, or to the employment of any salaried officer of a family farm corporation organized pursuant to the laws of this state;

(4) Qualified real estate agents and direct sellers as those terms are defined in Section 3508 of Title 26 United States Code;

(5) An individual who is the owner or operator of a motor vehicle which is leased or contracted with a driver to a for-hire common or contract motor vehicle carrier operating within a commercial zone as defined in section 390.020 or 390.041, RSMo, or operating under a certificate issued by the division of motor carrier and railroad safety of the department of economic development or by the interstate commerce commission.

2. Any exempted employer in this section may bring himself within the provisions of this chapter by filing with the division notice of his election to accept the provisions, or by purchasing and accepting a valid compensation insurance policy, which lists such election in a manner and such form as determined by the department of insurance, and shall include the exempted employments described in subsection 1 of this section. The election shall take effect and continue from the date of filing with the division by the employer of his election to accept liability, under this chapter, or from the effective date of the insurance policy to the expiration date of the insurance policy. Any employer electing to become liable under this chapter by filing with the division notice of election may withdraw his election by filing with the division a notice that he desires to withdraw his election, which withdrawal shall take effect thirty days after the date of the filing, or at such later date as may be specified in the notice of withdrawal, or by non-renewing a valid compensation insurance policy.

287.091. 1. The following employers and classes of employees may be exempted from coverage if the employer so elects:

(1) Volunteers of a tax-exempt organization which operates under the standards of section 501(c)(3) of the federal Internal Revenue Code, where such volunteers are not paid wages, but provide services purely on a charitable and voluntary basis;

(2) Any worker who is a member of the employer's family within the third degree of affinity or consanguinity, except this provision applies only to employers who are sole proprietors;

(3) Persons providing services as adjudicators, sports officials or contest workers for interscholastic activities programs or similar amateur youth programs who are not otherwise employed by the sponsoring school, association of schools or nonprofit tax exempt organization sponsoring the amateur youth programs;

(4) A corporation where there are no more than two owners of the corporation who are also the only employees of the corporation.

2. Any employer in subsection 1 of this section who wishes to exempt himself or his employees from the provisions of this chapter may do so by filing with the division notice of such elections on a form determined by the division, or by the purchase and acceptance of a valid compensation insurance policy which lists such exemptions in a manner and such form as determined by the department of insurance, and shall include the exempted employments described in subsection 1 of this section. The exemption shall take effect and continue from the date of filing with the division by the employer of his exemption from liability pursuant to this chapter, or from the effective date of the insurance policy to the expiration date of the insurance policy. Any employer electing to become exempted pursuant to this chapter may withdraw his exemption by filing with the division a notice that he desires to withdraw his exemption, which withdrawal shall take effect thirty days after the date of the filing, or at such later date as may be specific in the notice of withdrawal, or by nonrenewing the valid compensation insurance policy.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, beginning on the effective date of this section, those insurance companies providing coverage pursuant to chapter 287, to a limited liability company, as defined in section 347.015, RSMo, shall provide coverage for the employees of the limited liability company who are not members of the limited liability company. Members of the limited liability company, as defined in section 347.015, RSMo, shall also be provided coverage pursuant to chapter 287, but such members may individually elect to reject such coverage by providing a written notice of such rejection on a form developed by the department of insurance to the limited liability company and its insurer. Failure to provide notice to the limited liability company shall not be grounds for any member to claim that the rejection of such coverage is not legally effective. A member who elects to reject such coverage shall not thereafter be entitled to workers' compensation benefits under the policy, even if serving or working in the capacity of an employee of the limited liability company, at least until such time as said member provides the limited liability company and its insurer with a written notice which rescinds the prior rejection of such coverage. The written notice which rescinds the prior rejection of such coverage shall be on a form developed by the department of insurance. Any rescission shall be prospective in nature and shall entitle the member only to such benefits which accrue on or after the date the notice of rescission form is received by the insurance company.

287.220. 1. All cases of permanent disability where there has been previous disability shall be compensated as herein provided. Compensation shall be computed on the basis of the average earnings at the time of the last injury. If any employee who has a preexisting permanent partial disability whether from compensable injury or otherwise, of such seriousness as to constitute a hindrance or obstacle to employment or to obtaining reemployment if the employee becomes unemployed, and the preexisting permanent partial disability, if a body as a whole injury, equals a minimum of fifty weeks of compensation or, if a major extremity injury only, equals a minimum of fifteen percent permanent partial disability, according to the medical standards that are used in determining such compensation, receives a subsequent compensable injury resulting in additional permanent partial disability so that the degree or percentage of disability, in an amount equal to a minimum of fifty weeks compensation, if a body as a whole injury or, if a major extremity injury only, equals a minimum of fifteen percent permanent partial disability, caused by the combined disabilities is substantially greater than that which would have resulted from the last injury, considered alone and of itself, and if the employee is entitled to receive compensation on the basis of the combined disabilities, the employer at the time of the last injury shall be liable only for the degree or percentage of disability which would have resulted from the last injury had there been no preexisting disability. After the compensation liability of the employer for the last injury, considered alone, has been determined by an administrative law judge or the commission, the degree or percentage of employee's disability that is attributable to all injuries or conditions existing at the time the last injury was sustained shall then be determined by that administrative law judge or by the commission and the degree or percentage of disability which existed prior to the last injury plus the disability resulting from the last injury, if any, considered alone, shall be deducted from the combined disability, and compensation for the balance, if any, shall be paid out of a special fund known as the second injury fund, hereinafter provided for. If the previous disability or disabilities, whether from compensable injury or otherwise, and the last injury together result in total and permanent disability, the minimum standards under this subsection for a body as a whole injury or a major extremity injury shall not apply and the employer at the time of the last injury shall be liable only for the disability resulting from the last injury considered alone and of itself; except that if the compensation for which the employer at the time of the last injury is liable is less than the compensation provided in this chapter for permanent total disability, then in addition to the compensation for which the employer is liable and after the completion of payment of the compensation by the employer, the employee shall be paid the remainder of the compensation that would be due for permanent total disability under section 287.200 out of a special fund known as the "Second Injury Fund" hereby created exclusively for the purposes as in this section provided and for special weekly benefits in rehabilitation cases as provided in section 287.141. Maintenance of the second injury fund shall be as provided by section 287.710. The state treasurer shall be the custodian of the second injury fund which shall be deposited the same as are state funds and any interest accruing thereon shall be added thereto. The fund shall be subject to audit the same as state funds and accounts and shall be protected by the general bond given by the state treasurer. Upon the requisition of the director of the division of workers' compensation, warrants on the state treasurer for the payment of all amounts payable for compensation and benefits out of the second injury fund shall be issued.

2. In all cases in which a recovery against the second injury fund is sought for permanent partial disability, permanent total disability, or death, the state treasurer as custodian thereof shall be named as a party, and shall be entitled to defend against the claim. The state treasurer, with the advice and consent of the attorney general of Missouri, may enter into compromise settlements as contemplated by section 287.390, or agreed statements of fact that would affect the second injury fund. All awards for permanent partial disability, permanent total disability, or death affecting the second injury fund shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter governing review and appeal. For all claims filed against the second injury fund on or after July 1, 1994, the attorney general shall use assistant attorneys general except in circumstances where an actual or potential conflict of interest exists, to provide legal services as may be required in all claims made for recovery against the fund. Any legal expenses incurred by the attorney general's office in the handling of such claims, including, but not limited to, medical examination fees, expert witness fees, court reporter expenses, travel costs, and related legal expenses shall be paid by the fund. Effective July 1, 1993, the payment of such legal expenses shall be contingent upon annual appropriations made by the general assembly, from the fund, to the attorney general's office for this specific purpose.

3. If more than one injury in the same employment causes concurrent temporary disabilities, compensation shall be payable only for the longest and largest paying disability.

4. If more than one injury in the same employment causes concurrent and consecutive permanent partial disability, compensation payments for each subsequent disability shall not begin until the end of the compensation period of the prior disability.

5. If an employer fails to insure or self-insure as required in section 287.280, funds from the second injury fund may be withdrawn to cover the fair, reasonable, and necessary expenses to cure and relieve the effects of the injury or disability of an injured employee in the employ of an uninsured employer, or in the case of death of an employee in the employ of an uninsured employer, funds from the second injury fund may be withdrawn to cover fair, reasonable, and necessary expenses in the manner required in sections 287.240 and 287.241. In defense of claims arising under this subsection, the treasurer of the state of Missouri, as custodian of the second injury fund, shall have the same defenses to such claims as would the uninsured employer. Any funds received by the employee or the employee's dependents, through civil or other action, must go towards reimbursement of the second injury fund, for all payments made to the employee, the employee's dependents, or paid on the employee's behalf, from the second injury fund pursuant to this subsection. The office of the attorney general of the state of Missouri shall bring suit in the circuit court of the county in which the accident occurred against any employer not covered by this chapter as required in section 287.280.

6. Every three years the second injury fund shall have an actuarial study made to determine the solvency of the fund, appropriate funding level of the fund, and forecasted expenditures from the fund. The first actuarial study shall be completed prior to July 1, 1988. The expenses of such actuarial studies shall be paid out of the fund for the support of the division of workers' compensation.

7. The director of the division of workers' compensation shall maintain the financial data and records concerning the fund for the support of the division of workers' compensation and the second injury fund. The division shall also compile and report data on claims made pursuant to subsection 9 of this section. The attorney general shall provide all necessary information to the division for this purpose.

8. All claims for fees and expenses filed against the second injury fund and all records pertaining thereto shall be open to the public.

[9. Any employee who at the time a compensable work-related injury is sustained is employed by more than one employer, the employer for whom the employee was working when the injury was sustained shall be responsible for wage loss benefits applicable only to the earnings in that employer's employment and the injured employee shall be entitled to file a claim against the second injury fund for any additional wage loss benefits attributed to loss of earnings from the employment or employments where the injury did not occur, up to the maximum weekly benefit less those benefits paid by the employer in whose employment the employee sustained the injury. The employee shall be entitled to a total benefit based on the total average weekly wage of such employee computed according to subsection 8 of section 287.250. The employee shall not be entitled to a greater rate of compensation than allowed by law on the date of the injury. The employer for whom the employee was working where the injury was sustained shall be responsible for all medical costs incurred in regard to that injury. The provisions of this subsection shall expire on August 28, 1996.]

9. Any employee who at the time a compensable work-related injury is sustained is employed by more than one employer, the employer for whom the employee was working when the injury was sustained shall be responsible for wage loss benefits applicable only to the earnings in that employer's employment and the injured employee shall be entitled to file a claim against the second injury fund for any additional wage loss benefits attributed to loss of earnings from the employment or employments where the injury did not occur, up to the maximum weekly benefit less those benefits paid by the employer in whose employment the employee sustained the injury. The employee shall be entitled to a total benefit based on the total average weekly wage of such employee computed according to subsection 8 of section 287.250. The employee shall not be entitled to a greater rate of compensation than allowed by law on the date of the injury. The employer for whom the employee was working where the injury was sustained shall be responsible for all medical costs incurred in regard to that injury.

[287.337. Rates and rating systems used by any insurer with regard to employers within the construction group of code classifications for work performed within this state shall, where applicable, be based upon the principles that an employer with a credible Missouri intrastate modification rate shall be required to apply only that intrastate modification rate on Missouri payroll exposure. Such employers without a credible Missouri intrastate modification rate shall be subjected to the higher of one point zero or their credible interstate modification rate on Missouri payroll exposure.]

287.380. 1. [Except as provided in subsection 2 of this section,] Every employer or his insurer in this state, whether he has accepted or rejected the provisions of this chapter, shall within ten days after knowledge of an accident resulting in personal injury to any employee notify the division thereof, and shall, within one month from the date of filing of the original notification of injury, file with the division under such rules and regulations and in such form and detail as the division may require, a full and complete report of every injury or death to any employee for which the employer would be liable to furnish medical aid, other than immediate first aid which does not result in further medical treatment or lost time from work, or compensation hereunder had he accepted this chapter, and every employer or insurer shall also furnish the division with such supplemental reports in regard thereto as the division shall require. All reports submitted under this subsection shall include the name, address, date of birth and wages of the deceased or injured employee, the time and cause of the accident, the nature and extent of the injury, the name and address of the employee's and the employer's or insurer's attorney of record, if any, the medical cost incurred in treating the injured employee, the amount of lost work time of the employee as a result of the injury and such other information as the director may reasonably require in order to maintain in the division, accurate and complete data on the impact of work-related injuries on the workers' compensation system. The division shall collect and maintain such data in such a form as to be readily retrieved and available for analysis by the division. SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 3

Amend House Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 472, Page 1, Section A, Line 3, by inserting immediately after said section the following:

"285.230. 1. As used in this section, "transient employer" means an employer as defined in sections 143.191, RSMo, 287.030, RSMo, and 288.032, RSMo, making payment of wages taxable under chapters 143, RSMo, 287, RSMo, and 288, RSMo, who is not domiciled in this state and who temporarily transacts any business within the state, but shall not include any employer who is not subject to Missouri income tax because of the provisions of 15 U.S.C. 381. The transaction of business shall be considered temporary at any time it cannot be reasonably expected to continue for a period of twenty-four consecutive months. Professional athletic teams and professional entertainers domiciled in a state other than Missouri shall be deemed a "transient employer" for the purposes of this section.

2. Employers meeting the following criteria shall not be required to file a financial assurance instrument as required by this section:

(1) The principal place of business of the employer must be in a county of another state which is contiguous to the state of Missouri; and

(2) The employer must have been under contract to perform work in Missouri for at least sixty days cumulatively out of twelve months during each of the two calendar years immediately preceding the employer's initial application for exemption from the provisions of this section; and

(3) The employer must have in his possession a tax clearance from the department of revenue and the division of employment security stating that the employer has faithfully complied with the tax laws of this state during the period set out in subdivision (2) of this subsection. Within ninety days of August 13, 1988, such employers must obtain initial tax clearances in accordance with subdivision (3) of this subsection. Any tax clearance issued under the provisions of this section by the division of employment security shall be submitted to the department of revenue. On or before January thirty-first of each year, except January thirty-first following the year during which the employer first meets these criteria, the employer shall submit application to the department of revenue and division of employment security for a renewed tax clearance. Failure to submit such renewal applications or failure to comply with applicable Missouri taxing and employment security laws during the period between annual renewal dates or removal of the employer's principal place of business from a county in another state which is contiguous to Missouri to a state other than Missouri shall immediately subject the employer to all provisions of this section. An employer meeting the requirements of this subsection shall still be subject to the provisions of subsection 5 of this section.

3. Every transient employer shall file with the director of revenue a financial assurance instrument including, but not limited to, a cash bond, a surety bond, or an irrevocable letter of credit as defined in section 400.5-103, RSMo, issued by any state or federal financial institution. The financial assurance instrument shall be in an amount not less than the average estimated quarterly withholding tax liability of the applicant, but in no case less than five thousand dollars nor more than twenty-five thousand dollars. Any corporate surety shall be licensed to do such business in this state and approved by the director of revenue to act as a surety. The transient employer shall be the principal obligor and the state of Missouri shall be the obligee. The financial assurance instrument shall be conditioned upon the prompt filing of true reports and the payment by such employer to the director of revenue of any and all withholding taxes which are now or which hereafter may be levied or imposed by the state of Missouri, upon the employer, together with any and all penalties and interest thereon, and generally upon the faithful compliance with the provisions of chapters 143, RSMo, 287, RSMo, and 288, RSMo.

4. Any transient employer who is already otherwise required to file a financial assurance instrument as a condition of any contract, provided said financial assurance instrument guarantees payment of all applicable state taxes and all withholding taxes levied or imposed by the state and provided that such financial assurance instrument is delivered by certified mail to the department of revenue by the applicable awarding entity at least fourteen days before the execution of the contract for the performance of work, may use the same financial assurance instrument to comply with the provisions of this section. Before such financial assurance instrument is approved by the awarding entity, the director of revenue shall be satisfied that such financial assurance instrument is sufficient to cover all taxes imposed by this state and the director shall so notify the awarding entity of the decision within the fourteen days prior to the execution of the contract. Failure to do so by the director shall waive any right to disapprove such financial assurance instrument. Before a financial assurance instrument is released by the entity awarding the contract, a tax clearance shall be obtained from the director of revenue that such transient employer has faithfully complied with all the tax laws of this state.

5. Every transient employer shall certify to the director of revenue that such employer has sufficient workers' compensation insurance either through a [self-insured plan or through a private company (carrier). Such insurance shall be approved by the division of workers' compensation of the department of labor and industrial relations of the state. A financial assurance instrument including, but not limited to, a cash bond, a surety bond, or an irrevocable letter of credit as defined in section 400.5-103, RSMo, shall be required of every transient employer who in the opinion of the division of workers' compensation does not have sufficient workers' compensation coverage. Such financial assurance instrument shall be in an amount not less than one hundred thousand dollars nor more than five hundred thousand dollars.] self-insurance program or a policy of workers' compensation insurance issued by an approved workers' compensation carrier. The self-insurance program shall be approved by the division of workers' compensation pursuant to section 287.280, RSMo. The insurance policy shall be in a contract form approved by the department of insurance.

6. In the event that liability upon the financial assurance instrument thus filed by the transient employer shall be discharged or reduced, whether by judgment rendered, payment made or otherwise, or if in the opinion of the director of revenue any surety on a bond theretofore given or financial institution shall have become unsatisfactory or unacceptable, then the director of revenue may require the employer to file a new financial assurance instrument in the same form and amount. If such new financial assurance instrument shall be furnished by such employer as above provided, the director of revenue shall upon satisfaction of any liability that has accrued, release the surety on the old bond or financial institution issuing the irrevocable letter of credit.

7. Any surety on any bond or financial institution issuing an irrevocable letter of credit furnished by any transient employer as provided in this section shall be released and discharged from any and all liability to the state of Missouri accruing on such bond or irrevocable letter of credit after the expiration of sixty days from the date upon which such surety or financial institution shall have lodged with the director of revenue a written request to be released and discharged; but the request shall not operate to relieve, release or discharge such surety or financial institution from any liability already accrued or which shall accrue during and before the expiration of said sixty-day period. The director of revenue shall promptly on receipt of notice of such request notify the employer who furnished such bond or irrevocable letter of credit and such employer shall on or before the expiration of such sixty-day period file with the director of revenue a new financial assurance instrument satisfactory to the director of revenue in the amount and form provided in this section.

8. Notwithstanding the limitation as to the amount of any financial assurance instrument fixed by this section, if a transient employer becomes delinquent in the payment of any tax or tenders a check in payment of tax which check is returned unpaid because of insufficient funds, the director may demand an additional instrument of such employer in an amount necessary, in the judgment of the director, to protect the revenue of the state. The penal sum of the additional instrument and the instrument furnished under the provisions of the law requiring such instrument may not exceed two quarters estimated tax liability.

9. For any period when a transient employer fails to meet the requirements of this section, there shall be added to any deficiency assessed against a transient employer, in addition to any other addition, interest, and penalties, an amount equal to twenty-five percent of the deficiency.

10. A taxpayer commits the crime of failure to file a financial assurance instrument if he knowingly fails to comply with the provisions of this section.

11. Failure to file a financial assurance instrument is a class A misdemeanor. Pursuant to section 560.021, RSMo, a corporation found guilty of failing to file a financial assurance instrument may be fined up to five thousand dollars or any higher amount not exceeding twice the amount the employer profited from the commission of the offense.

12. Failing to register with the department of revenue and execute the financial assurance instrument herein provided, prior to beginning the performance of any contract, shall prohibit the employer from performing on such contract until he complies with such requirements.

13. Each employer shall keep full and accurate records clearly indicating the names, occupations, and crafts, if applicable, of every person employed by him together with an accurate record of the number of hours worked by each employee and the actual wages paid. The payroll records required to be so kept shall be open to inspection by any authorized representative of the department of revenue at any reasonable time and as often as may be necessary and such records shall not be destroyed or removed from the state for a period of one year following the completion of the contract in connection with which the records are made.

14. The entering into of any contract for the performance of work in the state of Missouri by any such employer shall be deemed to constitute an appointment of the secretary of state as registered agent of such employer for purposes of accepting service of any process, or of any notice or demand required or permitted by law. The service of any such process, notice or demand, when served on the secretary of state shall have the same legal force and validity as if served upon the employer personally within the state.

15. In addition, any employer who fails to file a financial assurance instrument as required by this section shall be prohibited from contracting for or performing labor on any public works project in this state for a period of one year.

16. Whenever a transient employer ceases to engage in activity within the state it shall be the duty of such transient employer to notify the director of revenue in writing at least ten days prior to the time the discontinuance takes effect.

285.232. 1. Subject to the provisions of section 285.230, any county, city, town, village or any other political subdivision which requires a building permit for a person to perform certain construction projects shall require a transient employer to show proof that the employer has been issued a tax clearance and has filed a financial assurance instrument as required by section 285.230 before such entity issues a building permit to the transient employer. If any transient employer obtains a building permit without providing such proof, provides a fraudulently obtained tax clearance or a fraudulent financial assurance instrument or through any misrepresentation or any other fraudulent act or in any way violates the provisions of sections 285.230 to 285.234, the Missouri department of revenue shall request a temporary restraining order or seek injunctive relief to immediately prohibit further performance of work by the transient employer on such contract or project. The court may direct that any payments due such transient employer be equitably distributed in satisfaction of the transient employer's obligations pursuant to sections 285.230 to 285.234. Upon issuance of such order by a court of competent jurisdiction, the person for whom the work is being performed may engage another contractor as provided by law or any provision of contract and the person shall not be deemed to be in violation of the contract with such transient employer removed by the court. Nothing in this section shall be construed to create or constitute a liability to or a cause of action against a city or county in regard to the issuance of any license pursuant to this section.

2. Any contractor for private or public construction work in this state which contracts with or otherwise engages a subcontractor, which is deemed a transient employer as defined in section 285.230, to perform any portion of such work, shall require such subcontractor to show proof of having filed a financial assurance instrument with the director of revenue as required by section 285.230 and to show proof that the subcontractor holds a current valid certificate of insurance for workers' compensation coverage in this state, prior to the subcontractor performing any work on the project. If the subcontractor is self-insured for purposes of workers' compensation, the contractor shall require proof that such self-insurance by the subcontractor has been approved by the division of workers' compensation. The contractor shall not allow the subcontractor to perform on such contract until proof of compliance as required by this section has been provided to the contractor. If a subcontractor which is deemed to be a transient employer has previously submitted proof of compliance as required by this section to a state agency or political subdivision for which the contract is being performed as a condition of being qualified to perform work for such agency or political subdivision, the general contractor shall not be required to obtain the proofs required by this section. If at any time prior to final payment to a subcontractor for work performed on a project, a contractor is notified in writing by the director of revenue or the director of the division of workers' compensation that a subcontractor is in violation of sections 285.230 to 285.234, the contractor shall withhold all or part of any payment to the subcontractor under the contract for payment in satisfaction of the subcontractor's obligations as a transient employer if so directed by the director of revenue or the director of the division of workers' compensation. Any contractor withholding payment and paying such funds in satisfaction of the subcontractor's obligations as a transient employer if so directed by the director of revenue or the director of the division of workers' compensation. Any contractor withholding payment and paying such funds in satisfaction of the subcontractor's obligations as a transient employer shall be deemed in compliance with the contract with the subcontractor to the extent of the amount paid to fulfill such obligation and with the laws of this state regarding timely payment under construction contracts and shall not be subject to any civil or criminal penalty for withholding such payment.

3. Notwithstanding the provision of section 32.057, RSMo, the Missouri department of revenue shall at least quarterly submit for publication in the Missouri Register a list of construction contractors performing work on construction projects in Missouri who are known by the department to be deemed transient employers pursuant to section 285.230. The department shall also update such list monthly and make such list available upon request without cost to any person.

285.234. 1. Every transient employer, as defined in section 285.230 shall post in a prominent and easily accessible place at the worksite a clearly legible copy of the following:

- (1) The notice of registration for employer withholding issued to such transient employer by the director of revenue;
- (2) [The notice of registration for workers' compensation issued to such transient employer] Proof of coverage for workers' compensation insurance or self-insurance signed by the transient employer and verified by the department of revenue through the records of by the division of workers' compensation; and
- (3) The notice of registration for unemployment insurance issued to such transient employer by the division of employment security.

2. Any transient employer failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be liable for a penalty of five hundred dollars per day until the notices required by this section are posted as provided by this section."; and

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 207, Page 1, In the Title, Line 6, by striking the following: "vehicle commission" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "vehicles"; and Further amend said bill, page 1, section A, line 8, by inserting immediately after all of said line the following:

"301.140. 1. Upon the transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle or trailer, the certificate of registration and the right to use the number plates shall expire and the number plates shall be removed by the owner at the time of the transfer of possession, and it shall be unlawful for any person other than the person to whom such number plates were originally issued to have the same in his or her possession whether in use or not; except that the buyer of a motor vehicle or trailer who trades in a motor vehicle or trailer may attach the license plates from the traded-in motor vehicle or trailer to the newly purchased motor vehicle or trailer. The operation of a motor vehicle with such transferred plates shall be lawful for no more than thirty days. As used in this subsection, the term "trade-in motor vehicle or trailer" shall include any single motor vehicle or trailer sold by the buyer of the newly purchased vehicle or trailer, as long as the license plates for the trade-in motor vehicle or trailer are still valid.

2. In the case of a transfer of ownership the original owner may register another motor vehicle under the same number, upon the payment of a fee of two dollars, if the motor vehicle is of horsepower, gross weight or (in the case of a passenger-carrying commercial motor vehicle) seating capacity, not in excess of that originally registered. When such motor vehicle is of greater horsepower, gross weight or (in the case of a passenger-carrying commercial motor vehicle) seating capacity, for which a greater fee is prescribed, applicant shall pay a transfer fee of two dollars and a pro rata portion for the difference in fees. When such vehicle is of less horsepower, gross weight or (in case of a passenger-carrying commercial motor vehicle) seating capacity, for which a lesser fee is prescribed, applicant shall not be entitled to a refund.

3. License plates may be transferred from a motor vehicle which will no longer be operated to a newly purchased motor vehicle by the owner of such vehicles. The owner shall pay a transfer fee of two dollars if the newly purchased vehicle is of horsepower, gross weight or (in the case of a passenger-carrying commercial motor vehicle) seating capacity, not in excess of that of the vehicle which will no longer be operated. When the newly purchased motor vehicle is of greater horsepower, gross weight or (in the case of a passenger-carrying commercial motor vehicle) seating capacity, for which a greater fee is prescribed, the applicant shall pay a transfer fee of two dollars and a pro rata portion of the difference in fees. When the newly purchased vehicle is of less horsepower, gross weight or (in the case of a passenger-carrying commercial motor vehicle) seating capacity, for which a lesser fee is prescribed, the applicant shall not be entitled to a refund.

[3.] 4. Upon the sale of a motor vehicle or trailer by a dealer, a buyer who has made application for registration, by mail or otherwise, may operate the same for a period of fifteen days after taking possession thereof, if during such period the motor vehicle or trailer shall have attached thereto, in the manner required by section 301.130, number plates issued to the dealer. Upon application and presentation of satisfactory evidence that the buyer has applied for registration, a dealer may furnish such number plates to the buyer for such temporary use. In such event, the dealer shall require the buyer to deposit the sum of ten dollars and fifty cents to be returned to the buyer upon return of the number plates as a guarantee that said buyer will return to the dealer such number plates within fifteen days. The director shall issue a temporary permit or paper plate authorizing the operation of a motor vehicle or trailer by a buyer for not more than twenty days of the date of purchase.

[4.] 5. The temporary permit or paper plate shall be made available by the director of revenue and may be purchased from the department of revenue upon proof of purchase of a motor vehicle or trailer for which the buyer has no registration plate available for transfer, or from a dealer upon purchase of a motor vehicle or trailer for which the buyer has no registration plate available for transfer. The director shall make temporary plates or permits available to registered dealers in this state in sets of ten plates or permits. The fee for the temporary permit or plate shall be seven dollars and fifty cents for each permit or plate issued. No dealer shall charge more than seven dollars and fifty cents for each permit issued. The permit or plate shall be valid for a period of twenty days from the date of issuance by the director of revenue to the purchaser of a motor vehicle or trailer, or from the date of sale of the motor vehicle or trailer by a dealer for which the purchaser obtains a permit or plate as set out above.

[5.] 6. The permit or plate shall be issued on a form prescribed by the director and issued only for the applicant's use in the operation of the motor vehicle or trailer purchased to enable him to legally operate the vehicle while proper title and registration plate are being obtained, and shall be displayed on no other vehicle. Permits or paper plates issued under this section shall not be transferable or renewable and shall not be valid upon issuance of proper registration plates for the motor vehicle or trailer. The director shall determine the size and numbering configuration, construction, and color of the permit and plate.

[6.] 7. The dealer or authorized agent shall insert the date of issuance and expiration date, year, make, and manufacturer's number of vehicle on the paper plate or permit when issued to the buyer. The dealer shall also insert his dealer's number on the paper plate. Every dealer that issues a temporary permit or paper plate shall keep, for inspection of proper officers, a correct record of each permit or plate issued by him by recording the permit or plate number, buyer's name and address, year, make, manufacturer's number of vehicle on which the permit or plate is to be used, and the date of issuance.

301.210. 1. In the event of a sale or transfer of ownership of a motor vehicle or trailer for which a certificate of ownership has been issued, the holder of such certificate shall endorse on the same an assignment thereof, with warranty of title in form printed thereon, and prescribed by the director of revenue, with a statement of all liens or encumbrances on such motor vehicle or trailer, and deliver the same to the buyer at the time of the delivery to him of such motor vehicle or trailer.

2. The buyer shall then present such certificate, assigned as aforesaid, to the director of revenue, at the time of making application for the registration of such motor vehicle or trailer, whereupon a new certificate of ownership shall be issued to the buyer, the fee therefor being that prescribed in subsection 5 of section 301.190.

3. If such motor vehicle or trailer is sold to a resident of another state or country, or if such motor vehicle or trailer is destroyed or dismantled, the owner thereof shall immediately notify the director of revenue. Certificates when so signed and returned to the director of revenue shall be retained by the director of revenue and all certificates shall be appropriately indexed so that at all times it will be possible for him to expeditiously trace the ownership of the motor vehicle or trailer designated therein.

4. Except as provided in subsection 5 of this section, it shall be unlawful for any person to buy or sell in this state any motor vehicle or trailer registered under the laws of this state, unless, at the time of the delivery thereof, there shall pass between the parties such certificates of ownership with an assignment thereof, as provided in this section, and the sale of any motor vehicle or trailer registered under the laws of this state, without the assignment of such certificate of ownership, shall be fraudulent and void.

5. A sale of a motor vehicle or trailer which has been completed without a transfer of the certificate of ownership at the time of the sale shall not be fraudulent or void if the seller has applied for a duplicate certificate of ownership and, upon receiving the duplicate, assigns the certificate of title within ten days. Any purchaser of a motor vehicle or trailer may obtain a temporary permit to operate such vehicle or trailer if the seller provides a signed and dated, notarized bill of sale as evidence of the transfer."; and

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 5

Amend Senate Substitute for Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 207, Page 9, Section 301.553, Line 10, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"No rule or portion of a rule promulgated pursuant to this section shall become effective unless it has been promulgated in accordance with the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, including, but not limited to, section 536.028, after the effective date of this act. All rulemaking authority delegated prior to the effective date of this act is of no force and effect and repealed. The provisions of this section and section 536.028 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to section 536.028 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void."; and

Further amend page 34, section 301.573, line 26, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"536.028. 1. The delegation of authority to any state agency to propose to the general assembly rules as provided under this section is contingent upon the agency complying with the provisions of this section and this delegation of legislative power to the agency to propose an order of rulemaking containing a rule or portion thereof that has the effect of substantive law, other than a rule relating to the agency's organization and internal management, is contingent and dependent upon the power of the general assembly to review such proposed order of rulemaking, to delay the effective date of such proposed order of rulemaking until the expiration of at least thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the general assembly and the secretary of state, and to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in such order of rulemaking.

2. No rule or portion of a rule that has the effect of substantive law shall become effective until the order of rulemaking, in which such rule or portion thereof is contained, has been reviewed by the general assembly in accordance with the procedures provided herein and the agency's authority to propose an order of rulemaking is dependent upon the power of the general assembly to disapprove and annul any such proposed rule or portion thereof as provided herein.

3. In order for the general assembly to have an effective opportunity to be advised of rules proposed by any state agency under the authority of this section, an agency may propose a rule by complying with the procedures provided in section 536.021, except that the notice of proposed rulemaking shall first be filed with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings upon any proposed rule or portion thereof at any time. The agency shall cooperate with the joint committee on administrative rules by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

4. In order to propose an order of rulemaking to the general assembly, the agency shall comply with the provisions of section 536.021, except that the agency may file a proposed order of rulemaking with the secretary of state only by first filing such proposed order with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives. The president pro tem of the senate shall direct that a copy of the proposed order of rulemaking be delivered to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings thereon. The agency shall cooperate with the committee by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

5. Such proposed order of rulemaking shall not become effective prior to the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

6. The committee may, by majority vote of its members, recommend that the general assembly disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in an order of rulemaking after hearings thereon and, upon a finding that such rule or portion thereof should be disapproved and annulled upon the following grounds:

(1) Such rule is substantive in nature in that it creates rights or liabilities or provides for sanctions as to any person, corporation or other legal entity; and

(2) Such rule or portion thereof is not in the public interest or is not authorized by the general assembly for one or more of the following grounds:

(a) An absence of statutory authority for the proposed rule;

(b) The proposed rule is in conflict with state law;

(c) Such proposed rule is likely to substantially endanger the public health, safety or welfare;

(d) The rule exceeds the purpose, or is more restrictive than is necessary to carry out the purpose, of the statute granting rulemaking authority;

(e) A substantial change in circumstance has occurred since enactment of the law upon which the proposed rule is based as to result in a conflict between the purpose of the law and the proposed rule, or as to create a substantial danger to public health and welfare;

(f) The proposed rule is so arbitrary and capricious as to create such substantial inequity as to be unreasonably burdensome on persons affected.

7. Any recommendation or report issued by the committee pursuant to subsection 6 of this section shall be admissible as evidence in any judicial proceeding and entitled to judicial notice without further proof.

8. The general assembly may adopt a concurrent resolution in accordance with the provisions of article IV, section 8 of the Missouri constitution to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof upon one or more of the grounds stated in subsection 6 of this section.

9. Any rule or portion thereof not disapproved within thirty legislative days of a regular session pursuant to subsection 8 of this section shall be deemed approved by the general assembly and the secretary of state may publish such order of rulemaking as soon as practicable upon the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after the order of rulemaking was filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

10. Upon adoption of such concurrent resolution as provided in subsection 8 of this section, the secretary of state shall not publish the order of rulemaking until the expiration of time necessary for such resolution to be signed by the governor, or vetoed and subsequently acted upon by the general assembly pursuant to article III, section 32 of the Missouri Constitution. If such concurrent resolution is adopted and signed by the governor or reconsidered pursuant to article III, section 32, the secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, the order of rulemaking along with notice of the proposed rules or portions thereof which are disapproved and annulled by the general assembly.

11. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 1.140, RSMo, the provisions of this section are nonseverable and the delegation of legislative authority to an agency to propose orders of rulemaking is essentially dependent upon the powers vested with the general assembly as provided herein. If any of the powers vested with the general assembly to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule contained in an order of rulemaking, are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking pursuant thereto shall be invalid and void.

12. Nothing in this section shall prevent the general assembly from adopting by bill within thirty legislative days of a regular session the rules or portions thereof, or as the same may be amended, as contained in a proposed order of rulemaking. In that event, the proposed order of rulemaking shall have been superseded and any rule proposed therein shall be void and only such rules adopted by the general assembly and submitted to the governor may become effective. Rules so adopted shall be published by the secretary of state as soon as practicable. In that event, the secretary of state shall not publish the proposed order of rulemaking and such proposed order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.

13. Upon adoption of any rule now in effect or hereafter promulgated, any such rule or portion thereof may be revoked by the general assembly either by bill, or by concurrent resolution pursuant to article IV, section 8 of the constitution on recommendation of the committee on administrative rules upon the grounds listed in subsection 6 of this section. The secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, notice of the revocation."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 32, Section 184.880, Line 7, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"321.300. 1. The boundaries of any district organized [under] pursuant to the provisions of this chapter may be changed in the manner [herein] prescribed in this section; but any change of boundaries of the district shall not impair or affect its organization or its rights in or to property, or any of its rights or privileges whatsoever; nor shall it affect or impair or discharge any contract, obligation, lien or charge for or upon which it might be liable or chargeable had any change of boundaries not been made.

2. The boundaries may be changed as follows:

(1) [Seventy-five percent of the owners of any territory or tract of land near or adjacent to a fire protection district who own not less than fifty percent of the real estate in such territory or tract of land and not located within only a part of any municipality or another fire protection district] Twenty-five percent of the number of voters who voted in the most recent gubernatorial election in the area to be annexed may file with the board a petition in writing praying that such real property be included within the district; provided that in the case of a municipality having less than twenty percent of its total population in one fire protection district, the entire remaining portion may be included in another district so that none of the city is outside of a fire protection district at the time. The petition shall describe the property to be included in the district and shall describe the property owned by the petitioners and shall be deemed to give assent of the petitioners to the inclusion in the district of the property described in the petition; and such petition shall be in substantially the form set forth in section 321.495 dealing with referendums and verified in like manner; provided, however, that [in cases wherein the territory to be annexed contains more than two hundred taxpaying electors, a petition signed by at least one hundred taxpaying electors shall be sufficient, and] in the event that there are more than twenty-five property owners or taxpaying electors signing the petition, it shall be deemed sufficient description of their property in the petition as required in this section to list the addresses of such property; or

(2) All of the owners of any territory or tract of land near or adjacent to a fire protection district who own all of the real estate in such territory or tract of land may file a petition with the board praying that such real property be included in the district. The petition shall describe the property owned by the petitioners and shall be deemed to give assent of the petitioners to the inclusion in the district of the property described in the petition;

(3) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, in any fire protection district which is partly or wholly located in a noncharter county of the first classification with a population of less than one hundred thousand which adjoins any county of the first classification with a charter form of government with a population of nine hundred thousand or more inhabitants, if such fire protection district serves any portion of a city which is located in both such counties, the boundaries of the district may be expanded so as to include the entire city within the fire protection district, but the boundaries of the district shall not be expanded beyond the city limits of such city, as the boundaries of such city existed on January 1, 1993. Such change in the boundaries of the district shall be accomplished only if [seventy-five percent of the owners of any territory or tract of land within that part of the city which is not within the fire protection district] twenty-five percent of the number of voters who voted in the most recent gubernatorial election in the area to be annexed file with the board a petition in writing praying that such real property be included within the district. The petition shall describe the property to be included in the district and shall describe the property owned by the petitioners and shall be deemed to give assent of the petitioners to the inclusion in the district of the property described in the petition; and such petition shall be in substantially the form set forth in section 321.495 dealing with referendums and verified in like manner.

3. The secretary of the board shall cause notice of the filing of any petition filed pursuant to this section to be given and published in the county in which the property is located, which notice shall recite the filing of such petition, the number of petitioners, a general description of the boundaries of the area proposed to be included and the prayer of the petitioners; giving notice to all persons interested to appear at the office of the board at the time named in the notice and show cause in writing, if any they have, why the petition should not be granted. The board shall at the time and place mentioned, or at such time or times to which the hearing may be adjourned, proceed to hear the petition and all objections thereto presented in writing by any person showing cause why the petition should not be granted. The failure of any person interested to show cause in writing why such petition shall not be granted shall be deemed as an assent on his part to the inclusion of such lands in the district as prayed for in the petition.

4. If the board deems it for the best interest of the district, it shall grant the petition, but if the board determines that some portion of the property mentioned in the petition cannot as a practical matter be served by the district, or if it deems it for the best interest of the district that some portion of the property in the petition not be included in the district, then the board shall grant the petition in part only. If the petition is granted, the board shall make an order to that effect and file the same with the circuit clerk; and upon the order of the court having jurisdiction over the district, the property shall be included in the district. If the petition contains the signatures of all the owners of the property pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (2) of subsection 2 of this section, the property shall be included in the district upon the order of the court. If the petition contains the signatures of [seventy-five percent of the property owners] twenty-five percent of the number of voters who voted in the most recent gubernatorial election in the area to be annexed pursuant to subdivision (1) or subdivision (3) of subsection 2 of this section, the property shall be included in the district subject to the election provided in section 321.301. The circuit court having jurisdiction over the district shall proceed to make any such order including such additional property within the district as is provided in the order of the board, unless the court shall find that such order of the board was not authorized by law or that such order of the board was not supported by competent and substantial evidence.

5. Any person aggrieved by any decision of the board made pursuant to the provisions of this section may appeal that decision to the circuit court of the county in which the property is located within thirty days of the decision by the board.

6. No fire protection district, or employee thereof, in which territory is annexed pursuant to this section shall be required to comply with any prescribed firefighter training program or regimen which would not otherwise apply to the district or its employees, but for the requirements applicable to the annexed territory."

210.109. 1. [By January 1, 1995,] The division of family services shall establish a child protection system in [five] eight areas of the state selected by the division.

2. The child protection system shall seek to promote the safety of children and the integrity and preservation of their families by conducting investigations or family assessments in response to reports of child abuse or neglect. (1) Receive and maintain reports pursuant to the provisions of subsections 1 and 2 of section 210.145;

(2) Forward the report to the appropriate division staff who shall determine, through the use of protocols developed by the division, whether an investigation or the family assessment and services approach should be used to respond to the allegation. The protocols developed by the division shall give priority to ensuring the well-being and safety of the child. The division may investigate any report, but shall conduct an investigation involving reports, which if true, would constitute a violation of section 565.050, RSMo, if the victim is a child less than eighteen years of age, a violation of section 566.030 or 566.060, RSMo, if the victim is a child less than eighteen years of age, or any other violation of chapter 566, RSMo, if the victim is a child less than eighteen years of age and the perpetrator is twenty-one years of age or older, a violation of section 567.050, RSMo, if the victim is a child less than eighteen years of age, a violation of section 568.020, 568.030, 568.045, 568.050, 568.060, 568.080, or 568.090, RSMo, a violation of section 573.025 or 573.035, RSMo, or an attempt to commit any such crimes;

(3) Communicate reports of child abuse or neglect to the appropriate local office, pursuant to the provisions of subsection 4 of section 210.145;

(4) Contact the appropriate law enforcement agency upon receipt of a report of a violation of section 565.020, 565.021, 565.023, 565.024 or 565.050, RSMo, if the victim is a child less than eighteen years of age, a violation of section 566.030 or 566.060, RSMo, if the victim is a child less than eighteen years of age, or any other violation of chapter 566, RSMo, if the victim is a child less than eighteen years of age and the perpetrator is twenty-one years of age or older, a violation of section 567.050, RSMo, if the victim is a child less than eighteen years of age, a violation of section 568.020, 568.030, 568.045, 568.050, 568.060, 568.080, or 568.090, RSMo, a violation of section 573.025 or 573.035, RSMo, or an attempt to commit any such crimes, and shall provide such agency with a detailed description of the report received. The appropriate law enforcement agency shall assist the division in the investigation or provide the division, within a reasonable time, an explanation in writing detailing the reasons why it is unable to assist;

(5) Cause a thorough investigation or family assessment and services approach to be initiated within twenty-four hours of receipt of the report from the division, except in cases where the sole basis for the report is educational neglect. If the report indicates that educational neglect is the only complaint and there is no suspicion of other neglect or abuse, the investigation or family assessment and services approach shall be initiated within seventy-two hours of receipt of the report. If the report indicates the child is in danger of serious physical harm or threat to life, an investigation or family assessment and services approach shall include direct observation of the subject child within twenty-four hours of the receipt of the report;

(6) Investigate, if it is determined that an investigation is necessary, in compliance with the provisions of section 210.145;

(7) Assess, in cases where the family assessment and services approach is used, any service needs of the family. The assessment of risk and service needs shall be based on information gathered from the family and other sources;

(8) Provide services, in cases in which the family assessment and services approach is used, which are voluntary and time-limited unless it is determined by the division based on the assessment of risk that there will be a high risk of abuse or neglect if the family refuses to accept the services. The division shall identify services for families where it is determined that the child is at high risk of future abuse or neglect. The division shall thoroughly document in the record its attempt to provide voluntary services and the reasons these services are important to reduce the risk of future abuse or neglect to the child. If the family continues to refuse voluntary services or the child needs to be protected, the division may commence an investigation;

(9) Commence an immediate investigation if at any time during the family assessment and services approach the division determines that an investigation, as delineated in sections 210.109 to 210.183, is required. The division staff who have conducted the assessment may remain involved in the provision of services to the child and family;

(10) Document at the time the case is closed, the outcome of the family assessment and services approach, any service provided and the removal of risk to the child, if it existed;

(11) Conduct a family assessment and services approach on reports initially referred for an investigation, if it is determined that a complete investigation is not required. If law enforcement officers are involved in the investigation, they shall provide written agreement with this decision. The reason for the termination of the investigative process shall be documented in the record;

(12) Assist the child and family in obtaining services, if at any time during the investigation it is determined that the child or any member of the family needs services;

(13) Collaborate with the community to identify comprehensive local services and assure access to those services for children and families where there is risk of abuse or neglect;

(14) Contact the person who made the report under section 210.115, pursuant to the provisions of section 210.145;

(15) Forward any evidence of malice or harassment to the local prosecuting or circuit attorney as required by the provisions of section 210.145;

(16) Provide services as required by section 210.145;

(17) Use multidisciplinary services as required by section 210.145;

(18) Update the information in the information system within thirty days of an oral report of abuse or neglect. The information system shall contain, at a minimum, the determination made by the division as a result of the investigation or family assessment and services approach, identifying information on the subjects of the report, those responsible for the care of the subject child and other relevant dispositional information. The division shall complete all investigations or family assessments within thirty days, unless good cause for the failure to complete the investigation or assessment is documented in the information system. If the investigation or family assessment is not completed within thirty days the information system shall be updated at regular intervals and upon the completion of the investigation. The information in the information system shall be updated to reflect any subsequent findings, including any changes to the findings based on an administrative or judicial hearing on the matter;

(19) Maintain a record which contains the facts ascertained which support the determination as well as the facts that do not support the determination.

4. By January 1, 1998, the division of family services shall submit documentation to the speaker of the house of representatives and the president pro tem of the senate on the success or failure of the child protection system established in this section. The general assembly may recommend statewide implementation or cancellation of the child protection system based on the success or failure of the system established in this section.

SENATE COMMITTEE AMENDMENT NO. 3

Amend House Bill No. 787, Page 2, Section 160.021, Line 3, by inserting immediately after all of said line the following:

"164.013. 1. When the revenue from the rate of one cent on the dollar of the state sales is collected for distribution under the provisions of section 163.087, RSMo, the school board of each six-director, including special districts, urban and metropolitan school districts, after determining its budget for the school year and the rate of levy needed to produce the required revenue as provided in section 164.011, and after making any other adjustments to the levy that may be required by any other law, shall, unless at least a simple majority of district voters voting thereon have approved a proposal to forego all or part of a reduction in the total operating levy for school purposes as provided for in this section, reduce the total operating levy for school purposes in an amount sufficient to decrease the revenue it would have received therefrom by an amount equal to fifty percent of the previous fiscal year's sales tax receipts excluding the sales tax revenue estimated to be received by the district attributable to pupils residing on federal lands and excluding the amount of sales tax revenue estimated to be necessary to offset the loss of property tax revenue to the school district under the provisions of section 50.338, RSMo[, except that the provision of this section shall not require a school board to reduce its total operating levy for school purposes below an amount which is equal to]. A school board may, after making all levy adjustments required by law and the constitution of this state, increase the district's operating levy to the lesser of the district's tax rate ceiling or the highest amount specified in subsection 2 of section 163.021, RSMo, as an eligibility requirement for state aid or increased state aid pursuant to section 163.031, RSMo. Loss of revenue, due to a decrease in the assessed valuation of real property located within the school district as a result of general reassessment, and from state-assessed railroad and utility distributable property based upon the previous fiscal year's receipts shall be considered in lowering the rate of levy to comply with this section in the year of general reassessment and in each subsequent year. For any district for which the total assessed valuation of the district is reduced as a result of a natural disaster for which the county or counties containing the district were designated a disaster area, the reduction of the total operating levy for school purposes pursuant to this section may, at the district's discretion, be calculated either on the district's current assessed valuation or upon the district's assessed valuation for the year preceding the natural disaster, until the fifth year following the designation as a disaster area or until the district's assessed valuation equals or exceeds the district's assessed valuation for the year preceding the disaster, whichever first occurs. In the event that in the immediately preceding year the school district actually received more or less sales tax revenue than estimated, the school board shall adjust its operating levy for the current year to reflect such increase or decrease. Adjustments in the tax rate of a school district pursuant to the provisions of this section shall in no way affect the eligibility of claimants for benefits, or the amount of claimants' benefits, under the provisions of sections 135.010 to 135.035, RSMo. Such claimants shall, if they are otherwise qualified, receive the benefits to which they were or would have been entitled in the year prior to March 3, 1983. There shall be transferred from the school district trust fund to the general revenue fund an amount equal to the difference in the amount paid or credited or which would have been paid or credited to individuals qualifying under sections 135.010 to 135.035, RSMo, in the year prior to March 3, 1983, and the amount paid or credited under the provisions of such sections each year thereafter. The director of revenue shall certify the amount payable from the school district trust fund to the general revenue fund to the state treasurer, the commissioner of administration and the state board of education on or before the first day of each month. Any school district required to reduce its total operating levy under the provisions of this section shall not become ineligible for state aid under the provisions of section 163.021, RSMo, because of such required reduction. In the event a district fails to reduce its operating levy in compliance with this section, an amount equivalent to the amount by which the district fails to reduce its levy shall be deducted from the district's apportionment of state aid under the provisions of section 163.031, RSMo, for the following year.

2. In a year of general reassessment, as defined by section 137.073, RSMo, or assessment maintenance as defined by section 137.115, RSMo, in which a school district in reliance upon the information then available to it relating to the total assessed valuation of such school district revises its property tax levy pursuant to section 137.073 or 137.115, RSMo, and it is subsequently determined by decisions of the state tax commission or a court pursuant to sections 138.430 to 138.433, RSMo, or due to clerical errors or corrections in the calculation or recordation of assessed valuations that the assessed valuation of such school district has been changed, and but for such change the school district would have adopted a different levy on the date of its original action, then the school district may adjust its levy to an amount to reflect such change in assessed valuation, including, if necessary, a change in the levy reduction required by this section to the amount it would have levied had the correct assessed valuation been known to it on the date of its original action, provided:

(1) The school district first levies the maximum levy allowed without a vote of the people by article X, section 11(b) of the constitution; and

(2) The school district first adopts the tax rate ceiling otherwise authorized by other laws of this state; and

(3) The levy adjustment or reduction may include a one-time correction to recoup lost revenues the school district was entitled to receive during the prior year."; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

SENATE COMMITTEE AMENDMENT NO. 4

(1) Present abstinence from sexual activity as the preferred choice of behavior in relation to all sexual activity for unmarried persons;

(2) Devote more attention to abstinence from sexual activity than to any other behavior;

(3) Emphasize that abstinence from sexual activity is the only method that is one hundred percent effective in preventing pregnancy, sexually transmitted diseases and the emotional trauma associated with adolescent sexual activity;

(4) Direct adolescents to a standard of behavior in which abstinence from sexual activity before marriage is recognized as the most effective way to prevent pregnancy and sexually transmitted diseases;

(5) Teach contraception and condom use in terms of real human use failure rates instead of theoretical laboratory rates, if instruction on contraception and condoms is included in curriculum content;

(6) Stress that sexually transmitted diseases are serious, possible, health hazards of sexual activity. (9) Advise pupils of the laws pertaining to their financial responsibility to children born in and out of wedlock and that it is unlawful for persons of any age to have sexual relations with underage persons to whom they are not married pursuant to chapter 566, RSMo;

(10) Emphasize that the pupil has the power to control personal behavior. Pupils shall be encouraged to base their actions on reasoning, self-discipline, sense of responsibility, self-control, and ethical considerations, such as respect for one's self and others; and

(11) Teach pupils to not make unwanted physical and verbal sexual advances and how to say no to unwanted sexual advances. Pupils shall be taught that it is wrong to take advantage of, or exploit, another person. The material and instruction shall also encourage youth to resist negative peer pressure.

2. A school district shall not distribute condoms or other contraceptives. Policies concerning referrals and parental notification regarding contraception may be determined by local school boards. Such policies shall be applied in a manner which is consistent with the provisions of section 167.611, RSMo.

3. A school district which provides human sexuality instruction may separate students according to gender for instructional purposes.

4. The board of a school district shall determine the specific content of the district's instruction in human sexuality, in accordance with subsections 1 to 3 of this section, and shall ensure that all instruction in human sexuality is appropriate to the age of the students receiving such instruction.

5. A school district shall notify the parent or legal guardian of each student enrolled in the district of:

(1) The basic content of the district's human sexuality instruction to be provided to the student; and

(2) The parent's right to remove the student from any part of the district's human sexuality instruction.

6. A school district shall make all curriculum materials used in the district's human sexuality instruction available for public inspection pursuant to chapter 610, RSMo, prior to the use of such materials in actual instruction."; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

SENATE COMMITTEE AMENDMENT NO. 5

Amend House Bill No. 787, Page 2, Section 160.021, Line 3, by inserting immediately after all of said line the following:

"168.221. 1. The first three years of employment of all teachers [and principals] entering the employment of the metropolitan school district shall be deemed a period of probation during which period all appointments of teachers [and principals] shall expire at the end of each school year. During the probationary period any probationary teacher [or principal] whose work is unsatisfactory shall be furnished by the superintendent of schools with a written statement setting forth the nature of his incompetency. If improvement satisfactory to the superintendent is not made within one semester after the receipt of the statement, the probationary teacher [or principal] shall be dismissed. The semester granted the probationary teacher [or principal] in which to improve shall not in any case be a means of prolonging the probationary period beyond three years and six months from the date on which the teacher [or principal] entered the employ of the board of education. The superintendent of schools on or before the fifteenth day of April in each year shall notify probationary teachers [or principals] who will not be retained by the school district of the termination of their services. Any probationary teacher [or principal] who is not so notified shall be deemed to have been appointed for the next school year.

2. After completion of satisfactory probationary services, appointments of teachers [and principals] shall become permanent, subject to removal for any one or more causes herein described and to the right of the board to terminate the services of all who attain the age of compulsory retirement fixed by the retirement system. In determining the duration of the probationary period of employment in this section specified, the time of service rendered as a substitute teacher or substitute principal shall not be included.

3. No teacher [or principal] whose appointment has become permanent may be removed except for one or more of the following causes: Immorality, inefficiency in line of duty, violation of the published regulations of the school district, violation of the laws of Missouri governing the public schools of the state, or physical or mental condition which incapacitates him for instructing or associating with children, and then only by a vote of not less than a majority of all the members of the board, upon written charges presented by the superintendent of schools, to be heard by the board after thirty days' notice, with copy of the charges served upon the person against whom they are preferred, who shall have the privilege of being present, together with counsel, offering evidence and making defense thereto. Notifications received by an employee during a vacation period shall be considered as received on the first day of the school term following. At the request of any person so charged the hearing shall be public. The action and decision of the board upon the charges shall be final. Pending the hearing of the charges, the person charged may be suspended if the rules of the board so prescribe, but in the event the board does not by a majority vote of all the members remove the teacher [or principal] upon charges presented by the superintendent, the person shall not suffer any loss of salary by reason of the suspension. Inefficiency in line of duty is cause for dismissal only after the teacher or principal has been notified in writing at least one semester prior to the presentment of charges against him by the superintendent. The notification shall specify the nature of the inefficiency with such particularity as to enable the teacher or principal to be informed of the nature of his inefficiency.

4. No teacher [or principal] whose appointment has become permanent shall be demoted nor shall his salary be reduced unless the same procedure is followed as herein stated for the removal of the teacher [or principal] because of inefficiency in line of duty, and any teacher [or principal] whose salary is reduced or who is demoted may waive the presentment of charges against him by the superintendent and a hearing thereon by the board. The foregoing provision shall apply only to permanent teachers [and principals] prior to the compulsory retirement age under the retirement system. Nothing herein contained shall in any way restrict or limit the power of the board of education to make reductions in the number of teachers or principals, or both, because of insufficient funds, decrease in pupil enrollment, or abolition of particular subjects or courses of instruction, except that the abolition of particular subjects or courses of instruction shall not cause those teachers who have been teaching the subjects or giving the courses of instruction to be placed on leave of absence as herein provided who are qualified to teach other subjects or courses of instruction, if positions are available for the teachers in the other subjects or courses of instruction.

5. Whenever it is necessary to decrease the number of teachers [or principals, or both,] because of insufficient funds or a substantial decrease of pupil population within the school district, the board of education upon recommendation of the superintendent of schools may cause the necessary number of teachers [or principals, or both,] beginning with those serving probationary periods, to be placed on leave of absence without pay, but only in the inverse order of their appointment. Nothing herein stated shall prevent a readjustment by the board of education of existing salary schedules. No teacher [or principal] placed on a leave of absence shall be precluded from securing other employment during the period of the leave of absence. Each teacher [or principal] placed on leave of absence shall be reinstated in inverse order of his placement on leave of absence. Such reemployment shall not result in a loss of status or credit for previous years of service. No new appointments shall be made while there are available teachers [or principals] on leave of absence who are seventy years of age or less and who are adequately qualified to fill the vacancy unless the teachers [or principals] fail to advise the superintendent of schools within thirty days from the date of notification by the superintendent of schools that positions are available to them that they will return to employment and will assume the duties of the position to which appointed not later than the beginning of the school year next following the date of the notice by the superintendent of schools.

6. If any regulation which deals with the promotion of either teachers [or principals, or both,] is amended by increasing the qualifications necessary to be met before a teacher [or principal] is eligible for promotion, the amendment shall fix an effective date which shall allow a reasonable length of time within which teachers [or principals] may become qualified for promotion under the regulations.

7. A principal shall serve in that role at the pleasure of the superintendent of schools. If a principal is removed from that position, he shall retain the tenure rights of a teacher as provided by this section."; and Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

"208.151. 1. (14) Children who have attained six years of age but have not attained nineteen years of age. As necessary to provide medicaid coverage under this subdivision, the department of social services may revise the state medicaid plan to extend coverage under 42 U.S.C. 1396a (a)(10)(A)(i)(III) to children who have attained six years of age but have not attained nineteen years of age as permitted by paragraph (2) of subsection (n) of 42 U.S.C. 1396d using a more liberal income assessment methodology as authorized by paragraph (2) of subsection (r) of 42 U.S.C. 1396a;

Coverage under this subdivision shall be subject to the receipt of notification by the director of the department of social services and the revisor of statutes of approval from the secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services of applications for waivers of federal requirements necessary to promulgate regulations to implement this subdivision. The director of the department of social services shall apply for such waivers. The regulations may provide for a basic primary and preventive health care services package, not to include all medical services covered by section 208.152, and may also establish copayment, coinsurance, deductible, or premium requirements for medical assistance under this subdivision. Eligibility for medical assistance under this subdivision shall be available only to those infants and children who do not have or have not been eligible for employer-subsidized health care insurance coverage for the six months prior to application for medical assistance. Children are eligible for employer-subsidized coverage through either parent, including the noncustodial parent. The division of family services may establish a resource eligibility standard in assessing eligibility for persons under this subdivision. The division of medical services shall define the amount and scope of benefits which are available to individuals under this subdivision in accordance with the requirement of federal law and regulations. Coverage under this subdivision shall be subject to appropriation to provide services approved under the provisions of this subdivision;

(16) The division of family services shall not establish a resource eligibility standard in assessing eligibility for persons under subdivision (12), (13) or (14) of this subsection. The division of medical services shall define the amount and scope of benefits which are available to individuals eligible under each of the subdivisions (12), (13), and (14) of this subsection, in accordance with the requirements of federal law and regulations promulgated thereunder except that the scope of benefits shall include case management services;

(17) Notwithstanding any other provisions of law to the contrary, ambulatory prenatal care shall be made available to pregnant women during a period of presumptive eligibility pursuant to 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-1, as amended;

(18) A child born to a woman eligible for and receiving medical assistance under this section on the date of the child's birth shall be deemed to have applied for medical assistance and to have been found eligible for such assistance under such plan on the date of such birth and to remain eligible for such assistance for a period of time determined in accordance with applicable federal and state law and regulations so long as the child is a member of the woman's household and either the woman remains eligible for such assistance or for children born on or after January 1, 1991, the woman would remain eligible for such assistance if she were still pregnant. Upon notification of such child's birth, the division of family services shall assign a medical assistance eligibility identification number to the child so that claims may be submitted and paid under such child's identification number;

(19) Pregnant women and children eligible for medical assistance pursuant to subdivision (12), (13) or (14) of this subsection shall not as a condition of eligibility for medical assistance benefits be required to apply for aid to families with dependent children. The division of family services shall utilize an application for eligibility for such persons which eliminates information requirements other than those necessary to apply for medical assistance. The division shall provide such application forms to applicants whose preliminary income information indicates that they are ineligible for aid to families with dependent children. Applicants for medical assistance benefits under subdivision (12), (13) or (14) shall be informed of the aid to families with dependent children program and that they are entitled to apply for such benefits. Any forms utilized by the division of family services for assessing eligibility under this chapter shall be as simple as practicable;

(20) Subject to appropriations necessary to recruit and train such staff, the division of family services shall provide one or more full-time, permanent case workers to process applications for medical assistance at the site of a health care provider, if the health care provider requests the placement of such case workers and reimburses the division for the expenses including but not limited to salaries, benefits, travel, training, telephone, supplies, and equipment, of such case workers. The division may provide a health care provider with a part-time or temporary case worker at the site of a health care provider if the health care provider requests the placement of such a case worker and reimburses the division for the expenses, including but not limited to the salary, benefits, travel, training, telephone, supplies, and equipment, of such a case worker. The division may seek to employ such case workers who are otherwise qualified for such positions and who are current or former welfare recipients. The division may consider training such current or former welfare recipients as case workers for this program;

(21) Pregnant women who are eligible for, have applied for and have received medical assistance under subdivision (2), (10), (11) or (12) of this subsection shall continue to be considered eligible for all pregnancy-related and postpartum medical assistance provided under section 208.152 until the end of the sixty-day period beginning on the last day of their pregnancy;

(22) Case management services for pregnant women and young children at risk shall be a covered service. To the greatest extent possible, and in compliance with federal law and regulations, the department of health shall provide case management services to pregnant women by contract or agreement with the department of social services through local health departments organized under the provisions of chapter 192, RSMo, or chapter 205, RSMo, or a city health department operated under a city charter or a combined city-county health department or other department of health designees. To the greatest extent possible the department of social services and the department of health shall mutually coordinate all services for pregnant women and children with the crippled children's program, the prevention of mental retardation program and the prenatal care program administered by the department of health. The department of social services shall by regulation establish the methodology for reimbursement for case management services provided by the department of health. For purposes of this section, the term "case management" shall mean those activities of local public health personnel to identify prospective medicaid-eligible high-risk mothers and enroll them in the state's medicaid program, refer them to local physicians or local health departments who provide prenatal care under physician protocol and who participate in the medicaid program for prenatal care and to ensure that said high-risk mothers receive support from all private and public programs for which they are eligible and shall not include involvement in any medicaid prepaid, case-managed programs;

(23) By January 1, 1988, the department of social services and the department of health shall study all significant aspects of presumptive eligibility for pregnant women and submit a joint report on the subject, including projected costs and the time needed for implementation, to the general assembly. The department of social services, at the direction of the general assembly, may implement presumptive eligibility by regulation promulgated pursuant to chapter 207, RSMo;

(24) All recipients who would be eligible for aid to families with dependent children benefits except for the requirements of paragraph (d) of subdivision (1) of section 208.150;

(25) All persons who would be determined to be eligible for old age assistance benefits, permanent and total disability benefits, or aid to the blind benefits, under the eligibility standards in effect December 31, 1973, or those supplemental security income recipients who would be determined eligible for general relief benefits under the eligibility standards in effect December 31, 1973, except income; or less restrictive standards as established by rule of the division of family services. If federal law or regulation authorizes the division of family services to, by rule, exclude the income or resources of a parent or parents of a person under the age of eighteen and such exclusion of income or resources can be limited to such parent or parents, then notwithstanding the provisions of section 208.010:

(a) The division may by rule exclude such income or resources in determining such person's eligibility for permanent and total disability benefits; and

(b) Eligibility standards for permanent and total disability benefits shall not be limited by age;

(26) Within thirty days of the effective date of an initial appropriation authorizing medical assistance on behalf of "medically needy" individuals for whom federal reimbursement is available under 42 U.S.C. 1396a (a)(10)(c), the department of social services shall submit an amendment to the medicaid state plan to provide medical assistance on behalf of, at a minimum, an individual described in subclause (I) or (II) of clause 42 U.S.C. 1396a (a)(10)(C)(ii).

2. Rules and regulations to implement this section shall be promulgated in accordance with section 431.064, RSMo, and chapter 536, RSMo. No rule or portion of a rule promulgated under the authority of this chapter shall become effective unless it has been promulgated pursuant to the provisions of section 536.024, RSMo.

3. After December 31, 1973, and before April 1, 1990, any family eligible for assistance pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 601 et seq., as amended, in at least three of the last six months immediately preceding the month in which such family became ineligible for such assistance because of increased income from employment shall, while a member of such family is employed, remain eligible for medical assistance for four calendar months following the month in which such family would otherwise be determined to be ineligible for such assistance because of income and resource limitation. After April 1, 1990, any family receiving aid pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 601 et seq., as amended, in at least three of the six months immediately preceding the month in which such family becomes ineligible for such aid, because of hours of employment or income from employment of the caretaker relative, shall remain eligible for medical assistance for six calendar months following the month of such ineligibility as long as such family includes a child as provided in 42 U.S.C. 1396r-6. 5. When any individual has been determined to be eligible for medical assistance, such medical assistance will be made available to him for care and services furnished in or after the third month before the month in which he made application for such assistance if such individual was, or upon application would have been, eligible for such assistance at the time such care and services were furnished; provided, further, that such medical expenses remain unpaid."; and

"208.151. 1. For the purpose of paying medical assistance on behalf of needy persons and to comply with Title XIX, Public Law 89-97, 1965 amendments to the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. section 301 et seq.) as amended, the following needy persons shall be eligible to receive medical assistance to the extent and in the manner hereinafter provided:

(1) All recipients of state supplemental payments for the aged, blind and disabled;

(10) Pregnant women who meet the requirements for aid to families with dependent children, except for the existence of a dependent child in the home;

(11) Pregnant women who meet the requirements for aid to families with dependent children, except for the existence of a dependent child who is deprived of parental support as provided for in subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of section 208.040;

(12) Pregnant women or infants under one year of age, or both, whose family income does not exceed an income eligibility standard equal to [one hundred eighty-five] two hundred percent of the federal poverty level as established and amended by the federal Department of Health and Human Services, or its successor agency;

(13) Children who have attained one year of age but have not attained six years of age who are eligible for medical assistance under 6401 of P.L. 101-239 (Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1989). (14) Children who have attained six years of age but have not attained nineteen years of age. For children who have attained six years of age but have not attained nineteen years of age, the division of family services shall use an income assessment methodology which provides for eligibility when family income is equal to or less than equal to [one] two hundred percent of the federal poverty level established by the Department of Health and Human Services, or its successor agency. As necessary to provide medicaid coverage under this subdivision, the department of social services may revise the state medicaid plan to extend coverage under 42 U.S.C. 1396a (a)(10)(A)(i)(III) to children who have attained six years of age but have not attained nineteen years of age as permitted by paragraph (2) of subsection (n) of 42 U.S.C. 1396d using a more liberal income assessment methodology as authorized by paragraph (2) of subsection (r) of 42 U.S.C. 1396a;

(15) The following children with family income which does not exceed [two] three hundred percent of the federal poverty guideline for the applicable family size:

(c) Children who have attained six years of age but have not attained nineteen years of age with family income greater than [one] two hundred percent of the federal poverty guideline for the applicable family size. Coverage under this subdivision shall be subject to the receipt of notification by the director of the department of social services and the revisor of statutes of approval from the secretary of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services of applications for waivers of federal requirements necessary to promulgate regulations to implement this subdivision. The director of the department of social services shall apply for such waivers. The regulations may provide for a basic primary and preventive health care services package, not to include all medical services covered by section 208.152, and may also establish copayment, coinsurance, deductible, or premium requirements for medical assistance under this subdivision. Eligibility for medical assistance under this subdivision shall be available only to those infants and children who do not have or have not been eligible for employer-subsidized health care insurance coverage for the six months prior to application for medical assistance. Children are eligible for employer-subsidized coverage through either parent, including the noncustodial parent. The division of family services may establish a resource eligibility standard in assessing eligibility for persons under this subdivision. The division of medical services shall define the amount and scope of benefits which are available to individuals under this subdivision in accordance with the requirement of federal law and regulations. Coverage under this subdivision shall be subject to appropriation to provide services approved under the provisions of this subdivision;

(16) The division of family services shall not establish a resource eligibility standard in assessing eligibility for persons under subdivision (12), (13) or (14) of this subsection. The division of medical services shall define the amount and scope of benefits which are available to individuals eligible under each of the subdivisions (12), (13), and (14) of this subsection, in accordance with the requirements of federal law and regulations promulgated thereunder except that the scope of benefits shall include case management services;

(17) Notwithstanding any other provisions of law to the contrary, ambulatory prenatal care shall be made available to pregnant women during a period of presumptive eligibility pursuant to 42 U.S.C. section 1396r-1, as amended;

(18) A child born to a woman eligible for and receiving medical assistance under this section on the date of the child's birth shall be deemed to have applied for medical assistance and to have been found eligible for such assistance under such plan on the date of such birth and to remain eligible for such assistance for a period of time determined in accordance with applicable federal and state law and regulations so long as the child is a member of the woman's household and either the woman remains eligible for such assistance or for children born on or after January 1, 1991, the woman would remain eligible for such assistance if she were still pregnant. Upon notification of such child's birth, the division of family services shall assign a medical assistance eligibility identification number to the child so that claims may be submitted and paid under such child's identification number;

(19) Pregnant women and children eligible for medical assistance pursuant to subdivision (12), (13) or (14) of this subsection shall not as a condition of eligibility for medical assistance benefits be required to apply for aid to families with dependent children. The division of family services shall utilize an application for eligibility for such persons which eliminates information requirements other than those necessary to apply for medical assistance. The division shall provide such application forms to applicants whose preliminary income information indicates that they are ineligible for aid to families with dependent children. Applicants for medical assistance benefits under subdivision (12), (13) or (14) shall be informed of the aid to families with dependent children program and that they are entitled to apply for such benefits. Any forms utilized by the division of family services for assessing eligibility under this chapter shall be as simple as practicable;

(20) Subject to appropriations necessary to recruit and train such staff, the division of family services shall provide one or more full-time, permanent case workers to process applications for medical assistance at the site of a health care provider, if the health care provider requests the placement of such case workers and reimburses the division for the expenses including but not limited to salaries, benefits, travel, training, telephone, supplies, and equipment, of such case workers. The division may provide a health care provider with a part-time or temporary case worker at the site of a health care provider if the health care provider requests the placement of such a case worker and reimburses the division for the expenses, including but not limited to the salary, benefits, travel, training, telephone, supplies, and equipment, of such a case worker. The division may seek to employ such case workers who are otherwise qualified for such positions and who are current or former welfare recipients. The division may consider training such current or former welfare recipients as case workers for this program;

(21) Pregnant women who are eligible for, have applied for and have received medical assistance under subdivision (2), (10), (11) or (12) of this subsection shall continue to be considered eligible for all pregnancy-related and postpartum medical assistance provided under section 208.152 until the end of the sixty-day period beginning on the last day of their pregnancy;

(22) Case management services for pregnant women and young children at risk shall be a covered service. To the greatest extent possible, and in compliance with federal law and regulations, the department of health shall provide case management services to pregnant women by contract or agreement with the department of social services through local health departments organized under the provisions of chapter 192, RSMo, or chapter 205, RSMo, or a city health department operated under a city charter or a combined city-county health department or other department of health designees. To the greatest extent possible the department of social services and the department of health shall mutually coordinate all services for pregnant women and children with the crippled children's program, the prevention of mental retardation program and the prenatal care program administered by the department of health. The department of social services shall by regulation establish the methodology for reimbursement for case management services provided by the department of health. For purposes of this section, the term "case management" shall mean those activities of local public health personnel to identify prospective medicaid-eligible high-risk mothers and enroll them in the state's medicaid program, refer them to local physicians or local health departments who provide prenatal care under physician protocol and who participate in the medicaid program for prenatal care and to ensure that said high-risk mothers receive support from all private and public programs for which they are eligible and shall not include involvement in any medicaid prepaid, case-managed programs;

(23) By January 1, 1988, the department of social services and the department of health shall study all significant aspects of presumptive eligibility for pregnant women and submit a joint report on the subject, including projected costs and the time needed for implementation, to the general assembly. The department of social services, at the direction of the general assembly, may implement presumptive eligibility by regulation promulgated pursuant to chapter 207, RSMo;

(24) All recipients who would be eligible for aid to families with dependent children benefits except for the requirements of paragraph (d) of subdivision (1) of section 208.150;

(25) All persons who would be determined to be eligible for old age assistance benefits, permanent and total disability benefits, or aid to the blind benefits, under the eligibility standards in effect December 31, 1973, or those supplemental security income recipients who would be determined eligible for general relief benefits under the eligibility standards in effect December 31, 1973, except income; or less restrictive standards as established by rule of the division of family services. If federal law or regulation authorizes the division of family services to, by rule, exclude the income or resources of a parent or parents of a person under the age of eighteen and such exclusion of income or resources can be limited to such parent or parents, then notwithstanding the provisions of section 208.010:

(a) The division may by rule exclude such income or resources in determining such person's eligibility for permanent and total disability benefits; and

(b) Eligibility standards for permanent and total disability benefits shall not be limited by age;

(26) Within thirty days of the effective date of an initial appropriation authorizing medical assistance on behalf of "medically needy" individuals for whom federal reimbursement is available under 42 U.S.C. 1396a (a)(10)(c), the department of social services shall submit an amendment to the medicaid state plan to provide medical assistance on behalf of, at a minimum, an individual described in subclause (I) or (II) of clause 42 U.S.C. 1396a (a)(10)(C)(ii).

2. Rules and regulations to implement this section shall be promulgated in accordance with section 431.064, RSMo, and chapter 536, RSMo. No rule or portion of a rule promulgated under the authority of this chapter shall become effective unless it has been promulgated pursuant to the provisions of section 536.024, RSMo.

3. After December 31, 1973, and before April 1, 1990, any family eligible for assistance pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 601 et seq., as amended, in at least three of the last six months immediately preceding the month in which such family became ineligible for such assistance because of increased income from employment shall, while a member of such family is employed, remain eligible for medical assistance for four calendar months following the month in which such family would otherwise be determined to be ineligible for such assistance because of income and resource limitation. After April 1, 1990, any family receiving aid pursuant to 42 U.S.C. 601 et seq., as amended, in at least three of the six months immediately preceding the month in which such family becomes ineligible for such aid, because of hours of employment or income from employment of the caretaker relative, shall remain eligible for medical assistance for six calendar months following the month of such ineligibility as long as such family includes a child as provided in 42 U.S.C. 1396r-6. Each family which has received such medical assistance during the entire six-month period described in this section and which meets reporting requirements and income tests established by the division and continues to include a child as provided in 42 U.S.C. 1396r-6 shall receive medical assistance without fee for an additional six months. The division of medical services may provide by rule the scope of medical assistance coverage to be granted to such families.

4. For purposes of section 1902(1), (10) of Title XIX of the federal Social Security Act, as amended, any individual who, for the month of August, 1972, was eligible for or was receiving aid or assistance pursuant to the provisions of Titles I, X, XIV, or Part A of Title IV of such act and who, for such month, was entitled to monthly insurance benefits under Title II of such act, shall be deemed to be eligible for such aid or assistance for such month thereafter prior to October, 1974, if such individual would have been eligible for such aid or assistance for such month had the increase in monthly insurance benefits under Title II of such act resulting from enactment of Public Law 92-336 amendments to the federal Social Security Act (42 U.S.C. 301 et seq.), as amended, not been applicable to such individual.

5. When any individual has been determined to be eligible for medical assistance, such medical assistance will be made available to him for care and services furnished in or after the third month before the month in which he made application for such assistance if such individual was, or upon application would have been, eligible for such assistance at the time such care and services were furnished; provided, further, that such medical expenses remain unpaid."; and

The board of directors shall make reasonable remediation within a reasonable time of any service determined by the board to be inadequate.

3. The amount of the tax credit claimed shall not exceed the amount of the taxpayer's state tax liability for the taxable year that the credit is claimed, and such taxpayer shall not be allowed to claim a tax credit in excess of fifty thousand dollars per taxable year. However, any tax credit that cannot be claimed in the taxable year the contribution was made may be carried over to the next four succeeding taxable years until the full credit has been claimed.

[536.028. 1. The delegation of authority to any state agency to propose to the general assembly rules as provided under this section is contingent upon the agency complying with the provisions of this section and this delegation of legislative power to the agency to propose an order of rulemaking containing a rule or portion thereof that has the effect of substantive law, other than a rule relating to the agency's organization and internal management, is contingent and dependent upon the power of the general assembly to review such proposed order of rulemaking, to delay the effective date of such proposed order of rulemaking until the expiration of at least thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the general assembly and the secretary of state, and to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in such order of rulemaking.

2. No rule or portion of a rule that has the effect of substantive law shall become effective until the order of rulemaking, in which such rule or portion thereof is contained, has been reviewed by the general assembly in accordance with the procedures provided herein and the agency's authority to propose an order of rulemaking is dependent upon the power of the general assembly to disapprove and annul any such proposed rule or portion thereof as provided herein.

3. In order for the general assembly to have an effective opportunity to be advised of rules proposed by any state agency under the authority of this section, an agency may propose a rule by complying with the procedures provided in section 536.021, except that the notice of proposed rulemaking shall first be filed with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings upon any proposed rule or portion thereof at any time. The agency shall cooperate with the joint committee on administrative rules by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

4. In order to propose an order of rulemaking to the general assembly, the agency shall comply with the provisions of section 536.021, except that the agency may file a proposed order of rulemaking with the secretary of state only by first filing such proposed order with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives. The president pro tem of the senate shall direct that a copy of the proposed order of rulemaking be delivered to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings thereon. The agency shall cooperate with the committee by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

5. Such proposed order of rulemaking shall not become effective prior to the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

6. The committee may, by majority vote of its members, recommend that the general assembly disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in an order of rulemaking after hearings thereon and, upon a finding that such rule or portion thereof should be disapproved and annulled upon the following grounds:

(1) Such rule is substantive in nature in that it creates rights or liabilities or provides for sanctions as to any person, corporation or other legal entity; and

(2) Such rule or portion thereof is not in the public interest or is not authorized by the general assembly for one or more of the following grounds:

(a) An absence of statutory authority for the proposed rule;

(b) The proposed rule is in conflict with state law;

(c) Such proposed rule is likely to substantially endanger the public health, safety or welfare;

(d) The rule exceeds the purpose, or is more restrictive than is necessary to carry out the purpose, of the statute granting rulemaking authority;

(e) A substantial change in circumstance has occurred since enactment of the law upon which the proposed rule is based as to result in a conflict between the purpose of the law and the proposed rule, or as to create a substantial danger to public health and welfare;

(f) The proposed rule is so arbitrary and capricious as to create such substantial inequity as to be unreasonably burdensome on persons affected.

7. Any recommendation or report issued by the committee pursuant to subsection 6 of this section shall be admissible as evidence in any judicial proceeding and entitled to judicial notice without further proof.

8. The general assembly may adopt a concurrent resolution in accordance with the provisions of article IV, section 8 of the Missouri constitution to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof upon one or more of the grounds stated in subsection 6 of this section.

9. Any rule or portion thereof not disapproved within thirty legislative days of a regular session pursuant to subsection 8 of this section shall be deemed approved by the general assembly and the secretary of state may publish such order of rulemaking as soon as practicable upon the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after the order of rulemaking was filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

10. Upon adoption of such concurrent resolution as provided in subsection 8 of this section, the secretary of state shall not publish the order of rulemaking until the expiration of time necessary for such resolution to be signed by the governor, or vetoed and subsequently acted upon by the general assembly pursuant to article III, section 32 of the Missouri Constitution. If such concurrent resolution is adopted and signed by the governor or reconsidered pursuant to article III, section 32, the secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, the order of rulemaking along with notice of the proposed rules or portions thereof which are disapproved and annulled by the general assembly.

11. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 1.140, RSMo, the provisions of this section are nonseverable and the delegation of legislative authority to an agency to propose orders of rulemaking is essentially dependent upon the powers vested with the general assembly as provided herein. If any of the powers vested with the general assembly to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule contained in an order of rulemaking, are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking pursuant thereto shall be invalid and void.

12. Nothing in this section shall prevent the general assembly from adopting by bill within thirty legislative days of a regular session the rules or portions thereof, or as the same may be amended, as contained in a proposed order of rulemaking. In that event, the proposed order of rulemaking shall have been superseded and any rule proposed therein shall be void and only such rules adopted by the general assembly and submitted to the governor may become effective. Rules so adopted shall be published by the secretary of state as soon as practicable. In that event, the secretary of state shall not publish the proposed order of rulemaking and such proposed order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.

13. Upon adoption of any rule now in effect or hereafter promulgated, any such rule or portion thereof may be revoked by the general assembly either by bill, or by concurrent resolution pursuant to article IV, section 8 of the constitution on recommendation of the committee on administrative rules upon the grounds listed in subsection 6 of this section. The secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, notice of the revocation.]

2. Any rule that has the effect of creating or substantially modifying a legal right, liability, obligation or sanction shall be considered substantive. The director may only promulgate substantive rules on subject matters specifically authorized pursuant to sections 1 to 11 and any substantive rule or portion of a rule shall become effective only as provided pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, including, but not limited to, section 536.028, after the effective date of this act. Thereafter the commission shall consist of the six members appointed by the municipality, except that members representing school boards and other taxing districts shall be appointed as provided in this section prior to any amendments to any redevelopment plans, redevelopment projects or designation of a redevelopment area. Of the members first appointed by the municipality, two shall be designated to serve for terms of two years, two shall be designated to serve for a term of three years and two shall be designated to serve for a term of four years from the date of such initial appointments. The commission shall hear and consider all protests [and], objections, comments and other evidence presented at the hearing. The hearing may be [adjourned] continued to another date without further notice other than a motion to be entered upon the minutes fixing the time and place of the subsequent hearing. After the public hearing but prior to the adoption of an ordinance approving a redevelopment plan or [substantially change the nature of the] redevelopment project, [without further hearing or notice; provided, that notice of such changes is given at the hearing] or designating a redevelopment area, changes may be made to the redevelopment plan, redevelopment projects or redevelopment areas without a further hearing, if such changes do not enlarge the exterior boundaries of the redevelopment area or areas, and do not substantially affect the general land uses established in the redevelopment plan or substantially change the nature of the redevelopment projects, provided that notice of such changes shall be given by mail to each affected taxing district and by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the area of the proposed redevelopment not less than ten days prior to the adoption of the changes by ordinance. After the adoption of an ordinance approving a redevelopment plan or redevelopment project, or designating a redevelopment area, no ordinance shall be adopted altering the exterior boundaries, affecting the general land uses established pursuant to the redevelopment plan or changing the nature of the redevelopment project without complying with the procedures provided in this section pertaining to the initial approval of a redevelopment plan or redevelopment project and designation of a redevelopment area. Hearings with regard to a redevelopment project, redevelopment area, or redevelopment plan may be held simultaneously.

2. Tax incremental financing projects within an economic development area shall apply to and fund only the following infrastructure projects: highways, roads, streets, bridges, sewers, traffic control systems and devices, water distribution and supply systems, curbing, sidewalks and any other similar public improvements, but in no case shall it include buildings.

4. A copy of any and all hearing notices required by section 99.825 shall be submitted by the commission to the "184.800. Sections 184.800 to 184.880 shall be known as the "Missouri Museum District Act".

184.805. 1. As used in sections 184.800 to 184.880, the following terms mean:

(1) "Board", the board of directors of a district;

(2) "District", a museum district organized pursuant to sections 184.800 to 184.880;

(3) "Museum", a building or area used for the purpose of exhibiting and/or preserving objects or specimens of interest to the public, including but not limited to art, items of natural history, and items connected with wildlife and conservation;

(4) "Owner of real property", the owner of the fee interest in the real property, except that when the real property is subject to a lease of ten or more years, the lessee rather than the owner of the fee interest shall be considered as the "owner of real property". An owner may be either a natural person or a juridical entity.

2. For the purposes of sections 11(c), 16 and 22 of article X of the constitution of Missouri, section 137.073, RSMo, and as used in sections 184.800 to 184.880, the following terms shall have the meanings given:

(1) "Approval of the required majority" or "direct voter approval", a simple majority;

(2) "Qualified voters", the owners of real property located within the proposed district or any person residing in the district who is a legal voter within the district.

184.810. 1. A district may be created to fund, promote, plan, design, construct, improve, maintain and operate one or more projects relating to a museum or to assist in such activity.

2. A district is a political subdivision of the state.

184.815. 1. Whenever the creation of a district is desired, the owners of real property who own at least two-thirds of the real property within the proposed district may file a petition requesting the creation of a district. The petition shall be filed in the circuit court of the county in which the proposed district is located. Any petition to create a museum district pursuant to the provisions of sections 184.800 to 184.880 shall be filed on or before December 31, 1998.

2. The proposed district area shall be contiguous and may contain any portion of one or more municipalities.

3. The petition shall set forth:

(1) The name and address of each owner of real property located within the proposed district or who is a legal voter resident within the proposed district;

(2) A specific description of the proposed district boundaries including a map illustrating such boundaries;

(3) A general description of the purpose or purposes for which the district is being formed, including a description of the proposed museum or museums and a general plan for its operation; and

(4) The name of the proposed district.

3. In the event any owner of real property within the proposed district who is named in the petition or any legal voter resident within the district shall not join in the petition or file an entry of appearance and waiver of service of process in the case, a copy of the petition shall be served upon said owner or legal voter in the manner provided by supreme court rule for the service of petitions generally. Any objections to the petition shall be raised by answer within the time provided by supreme court rule for the filing of an answer to a petition.

184.820. 1. Any owner of real property within the proposed district and any legal voter who is a resident within the proposed district may join in or file a petition supporting or answer opposing the creation of the district and seeking a judgment respecting these same issues.

2. The court shall hear the case without a jury. If the court determines the petition is defective or the proposed district or its plan of operation is unconstitutional, it shall enter its judgment to that effect and shall refuse to incorporate the district as requested in the pleadings. If the court determines the petition is not legally defective and the proposed district and plan of operation are not unconstitutional, the court shall determine and declare the district organized and incorporated and shall approve the plan of operation stated in the petition.

3. Any party having filed a petition or answer or petition may appeal the circuit court's order or judgment in the same manner as provided for other appeals. Any order either refusing to incorporate the district or incorporating the district shall be deemed a final judgment for purposes of appeal

184.825. The costs of filing and defending the petition and all publication and incidental costs incurred in obtaining circuit court certification of the petition for voter approval shall be paid by the petitioners. If a district is organized pursuant to sections 184.800 to 184.880, the petitioners may be reimbursed for such costs out of the revenues received by the district.

184.830. 1. Within thirty days after the order declaring the district organized has become final, the circuit clerk of the county in which the petition was filed shall, give notice by causing publication to be made once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the county, the last publication of which shall be at least ten days before the day of the meeting required by this section, call a meeting of the owners of real property within the district at a day and hour specified in a public place in the county in which the petition was filed for the purpose of electing a board of five directors, to be composed of owners or representatives of owners of real property in the district.

2. The owners of real property, when assembled, shall organize by the election of a chairman and secretary of the meeting who shall conduct the election. At the election, each acre of real property within the district shall be considered as a voting interest, and each owner of real property shall have one vote in person or by proxy for every acre of real property owned within the district for each director to be elected. A director need not be a legal voter of the district.

3. Each director shall serve for a term of three years and until his successor is duly elected and qualified. Successor director shall be elected in the same manner as the initial directors at a meeting of the owners of real property called by the board. Each successor director shall serve a three-year term. The remaining directors shall have the authority to elect an interim director to complete any unexpired term of a director caused by resignation or disqualification.

4. Directors shall be at least twenty-one years of age.

184.835. 1. The board shall possess and exercise all of the district's legislative and executive powers.

2. Within thirty days after the election of the initial directors, the board shall meet. At its first meeting and after each election of new board members the board shall elect a chairman, a secretary, a treasurer and such other officers as it deems necessary from its members. A director may fill more than one office, except that a director may not fill both the office of chairman and secretary.

3. The board may employ such employees as it deems necessary; provided, however, that the board shall not employ any employee who is related within the fourth degree by blood or marriage to a member of the board.

4. At the first meeting, the board, by resolution, shall define the first and subsequent fiscal years of the district, and shall adopt a corporate seal.

5. A simple majority of the board shall constitute a quorum. If a quorum exists, a majority of those voting shall have the authority to act in the name of the board, and approve any board resolution.

6. Each director shall devote such time to the duties of the office as the faithful discharge thereof may require and may be reimbursed for his or her actual expenditures in the performance of his or her duties on behalf of the district.

184.840. 1. A district may receive and use funds for the purposes of planning, designing, constructing, reconstructing, maintaining and operating a museum, conducting educational programs in connection therewith for any public purpose which is reasonably connected with the museum and for any other purposes authorized by sections 184.840 to 184.880. Such funds may be derived from any funding method which is authorized by sections 184.800 to 184.880 and from any other source, including but not limited to funds from federal sources, the state of Missouri or an agency thereof, a political subdivision of the state or private sources.

2. The general assembly may annually for a period of twenty years after the effective date of this act make appropriations from general revenue to a district which is created pursuant to the provisions of sections 184.800 to 184.880. In no event shall the amount appropriated to any district exceed on an annual basis the annual state sales tax revenues generated from businesses within the district.

184.845. 1. The board of the district may impose a museum district sales tax by resolution on all retail sales made in such museum district which are subject to taxation pursuant to the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo. Such museum district sales tax may be imposed for any museum purpose designated by the board of the museum district. If the resolution is adopted the board of the district may submit the question of whether to impose a sales tax authorized by this section to either the legal voters of the district and/or to the owners of real property within the district who shall have the same voting interests as with the election of members of the board of the district.

2. The sales tax authorized by this section shall become effective on the first day of the second calendar quarter following adoption of the tax by the qualified voters.

3. In each museum district in which a sales tax has been imposed in the manner provided by this section, every retailer shall add the tax imposed by the museum district pursuant to this section to the retailer's sale price, and when so added such tax shall constitute a part of the price, shall be a debt of the purchaser to the retailer until paid, and shall be recoverable at law in the same manner as the purchase price.

4. In order to permit sellers required to collect and report the sales tax authorized by this section to collect the amount required to be reported and remitted, but not to change the requirements of reporting or remitting tax or to serve as a levy of the tax, and in order to avoid fractions of pennies, the museum district may establish appropriate brackets which shall be used in district imposing a tax pursuant to this section in lieu of those brackets provided in section 144.825, RSMo.

5. All revenue received by a museum district from the tax authorized by this section which has been designated for a certain museum purpose shall be deposited in a special trust fund and shall be used solely for such designated purpose. All funds remaining in the special trust fund shall continue to be used solely for such designated museum purpose. Any funds in such special trust fund which are not needed for current expenditures may be invested by the board of directors in accordance with applicable laws relating to the investment of other museum district funds.

6. The sales tax may be imposed at a rate of one-half of one percent, three-fourths of one percent or one percent on the receipts from the sale at retail of all tangible personal property or taxable services at retail within the museum district adopting such tax, if such property and services are subject to taxation by the state of Missouri pursuant to the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo. Any museum district sales tax imposed pursuant to this section shall be imposed at a rate that shall be uniform throughout the district.

7. On and after the effective date of any tax imposed pursuant to this section, the museum district shall perform all functions incident to the administration, collection, enforcement, and operation of the tax. The tax imposed pursuant to this section shall be collected and reported upon such forms and under such administrative rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the museum district.

8. All applicable provisions contained in sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, governing the state sales tax, sections 32.085 and 32.087, RSMo, and section 32.057, RSMo, the uniform confidentiality provision, shall apply to the collection of the tax imposed by this section, except as modified in this section.

9. All exemptions granted to agencies of government, organizations, persons and to the sale of certain articles and items of tangible personal property and taxable services pursuant to the provisions of sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, are hereby made applicable to the imposition and collection of the tax imposed by this section.

10. The same sales tax permit, exemption certificate and retail certificate required by sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo for the administration and collection of the state sales tax shall satisfy the requirements of this section, and no additional permit or exemption certificate or retail certificate shall be required; except that the museum district may prescribe a form of exemption certificate for an exemption from the tax imposed by this section.

11. The penalties provided in section 32.057, RSMo, and sections 144.010 to 144.525, RSMo, for violation of those sections are hereby made applicable to violations of this section.

12. For the purpose of a sales tax imposed by a resolution pursuant to this section, all retail sales except retail sales of motor vehicles shall be deemed to be consummated at the place of business of the retailer unless the tangible personal property sold is delivered by the retailer or the retailer's agent to an out-of-state destination or to a common carrier for delivery to an out-of-state destination. In the event a retailer has more than one place of business in this state which participates in the sale, the sale shall be deemed to be consummated at the place of business of the retailer where the initial order for the tangible personal property is taken, even though the order shall be forwarded elsewhere for acceptance, approval of credit, shipment or billing. A sale by a retailer's employee shall be deemed to be consummated at the place of business form which the employee works.

13. All sales taxes collected by the museum district shall be deposited by the museum district in a special fund to be expended for the purposes authorized in this section. The museum district shall keep accurate records of the amount of money which was collected pursuant to this section, and the records shall be open to the inspection by the officers and directors of each museum district and the Missouri department of revenue. Tax returns filed by businesses with the district shall otherwise be considered as confidential in the same manner as sales tax returns filed with the Missouri department of revenue.

14. No museum district imposing a sales tax pursuant to this section may repeal or amend such sales tax unless such repeal or amendment will not impair the district's ability to repay any liabilities which it has incurred, money which it has borrowed or revenue bonds, notes or other obligations which it has issued or which have been issued to finance any project or projects.

184.850. 1. A district may contract and incur obligations appropriate to accomplish its purposes.

2. A district may enter into any lease or lease-purchase agreement for or with respect to any real or personal property necessary or convenient for its purposes.

3. A district may enter into operating agreements and/or management agreements with not for profit corporations to operate the museum or carry out any other authorized purposes of functions of the district.

4. A district may borrow money for its purposes at such rates of interest as the district may determine.

5. A district may issue bonds, notes and other obligations, and may secure any of such obligations by mortgage, pledge, assignment, security agreement or deed of trust of any or all of the property and income of the district, subject to the restrictions provided in sections 184.800 to 184.880. The district shall also have the power and authority to secure financing on the issuance of bonds for financing through another political subdivision or an agency of the state.

6. A district may enter into labor agreements, establish all bid conditions, decide all contract awards, pay all contractors and generally supervise the construction of the museum project.

184.860. 1. A district may at any time authorize or issue revenue bonds for the purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of any project. Every issue of such bonds shall be payable out of the revenues of the district and may be further secured by other property of the district which may be pledged, assigned, mortgaged, or a security interest granted for such payment, without preference or priority of the first bonds issued, subject to any agreement with the holders of any other bonds pledging any specified property or revenues. Such bonds shall be authorized by resolution of the board of the district, and if issued by the district, shall bear such date or dates, and shall mature at such time or times, but not in excess of forty years, as the resolution shall specify. Such bonds shall be in such denomination, bear interest at such rate or rates, be in such form, either coupon or registered, be issued as current interest bonds, compound interest bonds, variable rate bonds, convertible bonds, or zero coupon bonds, be issued in such manner, be payable in such place or places and subject to redemption as such resolution may provide notwithstanding the provisions of section 108.170, RSMo. The bonds may be sold at either public or private sale, at such interest rates, and at such price or prices as the district shall determine.

2. Any issue of district bonds outstanding may be refunded at any time by the district by issuing its refunding bonds in such amount as the district may deem necessary. Such bonds may not exceed the amount sufficient to refund the principal of the bonds so to be refunded together with any unpaid interest thereon and any premiums, commissions, service fees, and other expenses necessary to be paid in connection with the refunding. Any such refunding may be effected whether the bonds to be refunded then shall have matured or thereafter shall mature, either by sale of the refunding bonds and the application of the proceeds thereof to the payment of the bonds being refunded or by the exchange of the refunding bonds for the bonds being refunded with the consent of the holder or holders of the bonds being refunded. Refunding bonds may be issued regardless of whether the bonds being refunded were issued in connection with the same project or a separate project and regardless of whether the bonds proposed to be refunded shall be payable on the same date or different date or shall be due serially or otherwise.

3. Bonds issued pursuant to this section shall exclusively be the responsibility of the district and shall not constitute a debt or liability of the state of Missouri or any agency or political subdivision of the state other than the district. The district shall not be obligated to pay such bonds with any funds other than those specifically pledged to repayment of the bonds. Any bonds issued by a district shall state on their face that they are not obligations of the state of Missouri or any agency or political subdivision thereof other than the district.

4. Bonds issued pursuant to this section, the interest thereon, or any proceeds from such bonds shall be exempt from taxation in the state of Missouri for all purposes except the state estate tax.

184.865. The district may contract with a federal agency, a state or its agencies and political subdivisions, a corporation, partnership or individual regarding funding, promotion, planning, designing, constructing, improving, maintaining, or operating a project or to assist in such activity; provided, however, that any contract providing for the overall management and operation of the museum for the district shall only be with a governmental entity or a not for profit corporation.

184.870. In addition to all other powers granted by sections 184.800 to 184.880 the district shall have the following general powers:

(1) To sue and be sued in its own name, and to receive service of process, which shall be served upon the district secretary;

(2) To fix compensation of its employees and contractors;

(3) To purchase any personal property necessary or convenient for its activities;

(4) To collect and disburse funds for its activities; and

(5) To exercise such other implied powers necessary or convenient for the district to accomplish its purposes which are not inconsistent with its express powers.

184.880. 1. The district may obtain such insurance as it deems appropriate, considering its legal limits of liability, to protect itself, its officers and its employees from any potential liability and may also obtain such other types of insurance as it deems necessary to protect against loss of its real or personal property of any kind. The cost of this insurance shall be charged against the project.

2. The district may also require contractors performing construction or maintenance work on the project and companies providing operational and management services to obtain liability insurance having the district, its directors and employees as additional named insureds.

3. The district shall not attempt to self-insure for its potential liabilities unless it finds that it has sufficient funds available to cover any anticipated judgments or settlements and still complete its project without interruption. The district may self-insure if it is unable to obtain liability insurance coverage at a rate which is economically feasible to the district, considering its resources."

For the purposes of sections 100.250 to 100.297, a "direct or indirect interest" means the ownership of ten percent or more of any class of equity securities in any corporation seeking a guarantee pursuant to the provisions of sections 100.250 to 100.297, occupying the office of vice president or other office senior to the office of vice president, or a director, of any corporation seeking a guarantee pursuant to the provisions of sections 100.250 to 100.297; provided, nothing contained in sections 100.250 to 100.297, nor the provisions of chapter 105, RSMo, shall prevent any corporation, bank, or trust company from purchasing, selling, or otherwise dealing in bonds or notes or mortgages guaranteed pursuant to the provisions of sections 100.250 to 100.297. The development and reserve fund may be pledged to secure loans made through a participating lender with which a member of the board is affiliated so long as the member does not participate in or attempt to influence the approval of any such loan.

2. The board shall not knowingly extend or secure a loan or grant a tax credit to, or issue any bonds or enter into any other agreement with or on behalf of any business entity in which a board member, statewide elected official, state legislator or employee of this state has a substantial interest as defined in section 105.450, RSMo.

3. The board shall not knowingly extend or secure a loan or grant a tax credit to, or issue any bonds or enter into any other agreement with or on behalf of any business entity until each officer of the business entity has notified the board of all campaign contributions such officer has made within the previous two years [which are], to the extent such contributions are not otherwise reportable by the recipient, under the provisions of chapter 130, RSMo. 100.297. 1. The board may authorize a tax credit, as described in this section, to the owner of any revenue bonds or notes issued by the board under the provisions of sections 100.250 to 100.297, for infrastructure facilities as defined in subdivision (9) of section 100.255, if, prior to the issuance of such bonds or notes, the board determines that:

(1) The availability of such tax credit is a material inducement to the undertaking of the project in the state of Missouri and to the sale of the bonds or notes;

(2) The loan with respect to the project is adequately secured by a first deed of trust or mortgage or comparable lien, or other security satisfactory to the board.

2. Upon making the determinations specified in subsection 1 of this section, the board may declare that each owner of an issue of revenue bonds or notes shall be entitled, in lieu of any other deduction with respect to such bonds or notes, to a tax credit against any tax otherwise due by such owner under the provisions of chapter 143, RSMo, excluding withholding tax imposed by sections 143.191 to 143.261, RSMo, chapter 147, RSMo, or chapter 148, RSMo, in the amount of one hundred percent of the unpaid principal of and [accrued] unpaid interest on such bonds or notes held by such owner in the taxable year of such owner following the calendar year of the default of the loan by the borrower with respect to the project. The occurrence of a default shall be governed by documents authorizing the issuance of the bonds. The tax credit allowed under this section shall be available to the original owners of the bonds or notes or any subsequent owner or owners thereof. Once an owner is entitled to a claim, any such tax credits shall be transferable as provided in subsection 7 of section 100.286. Notwithstanding any provision of Missouri law to the contrary, any portion of the tax credit to which any owner of a revenue bond or note is entitled under this section which exceeds the total income tax liability of such owner of a revenue bond or note shall be carried forward and allowed as a credit against any future taxes imposed on such owner within the next ten years under the provisions of chapter 143, RSMo, excluding withholding tax imposed by sections 143.191 to 143.261, RSMo, chapter 147, RSMo, or chapter 148, RSMo. The eligibility of the owner of any revenue bond or note issued under the provisions of sections 100.250 to 100.297 for the tax credit provided by this section shall be expressly stated on the face of each such bond or note. The tax credit allowed pursuant to this section shall also be available to any financial institution or guarantor which executes any credit facility as security for bonds issued pursuant to this section to the same extent as if such financial institution or guarantor was an owner of the bonds or notes, provided however, in such case the tax credits provided by this section shall be available immediately following any default of the loan by the borrower with respect to the project. In addition to reimbursing the financial institution or guarantor for claims relating to unpaid principal and interest, such claim may include payment of any unpaid fees imposed by such financial institution or guarantor for use of the credit facility.

3. The aggregate principal amount of revenue bonds or notes outstanding at any time with respect to which the tax credit provided in this section shall be available shall not exceed fifty million dollars."

At each annual meeting after such classification a number of directors equal to the number of the class whose term expires at the time of such meeting shall be elected to hold office until the third succeeding annual meeting.

4. A majority of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum.

5. The board of directors may exercise all of the powers of a company except such as are conferred upon the members by sections 49 to 66 of this act, or its articles of incorporation or bylaws. Nothing in sections 49 to 66 of this act shall be deemed to prohibit a nonprofit sewer company from contracting with any other person or entity for any services needed by the nonprofit sewer company including, but not limited to, management or operations services.

Section 59. The officers of a nonprofit sewer company shall consist of a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, who shall be elected annually. No person shall continue to hold the offices of president or vice president after he shall have ceased to be a director. The offices of secretary and of treasurer may be held by the same person and need not be a member of the board of directors. The board of directors may also elect or appoint such other officers, agents, or employees as it shall deem necessary or advisable and shall prescribe the powers and duties thereof. Any officer may be removed from office and his successor elected in the manner prescribed in the bylaws.

Section 59. The officers of a nonprofit sewer company shall consist of a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, who shall be elected annually. No person shall continue to hold the offices of president or vice president after he shall have ceased to be a director. The offices of secretary and of treasurer may be held by the same person and need not be a member of the board of directors. The board of directors may also elect or appoint such other officers, agents, or employees as it shall deem necessary or advisable and shall prescribe the powers and duties thereof. Any officer may be removed from office and his successor elected in the manner prescribed in the bylaws.

"99.845. 1. A municipality, either at the time a redevelopment project is approved or, in the event a municipality has undertaken acts establishing a redevelopment plan and redevelopment project and has designated a redevelopment area after the passage and approval of sections 99.800 to 99.865 but prior to August 13, 1982, which acts are in conformance with the procedures of sections 99.800 to 99.865, may adopt tax increment allocation financing by passing an ordinance providing that after the total equalized assessed valuation of the taxable real property in a redevelopment project exceeds the certified total initial equalized assessed valuation of the taxable real property in the redevelopment project, the ad valorem taxes, and payments in lieu of taxes, if any, arising from the levies upon taxable real property in such redevelopment project by taxing districts and tax rates determined in the manner provided in subsection 2 of section 99.855 each year after the effective date of the ordinance until redevelopment costs have been paid shall be divided as follows:

(1) That portion of taxes, penalties and interest levied upon each taxable lot, block, tract, or parcel of real property which is attributable to the initial equalized assessed value of each such taxable lot, block, tract, or parcel of real property in the area selected for the redevelopment project shall be allocated to and, when collected, shall be paid by the county collector to the respective affected taxing districts in the manner required by law in the absence of the adoption of tax increment allocation financing;

(2) Payments in lieu of taxes, and any applicable penalty and interest, attributable to the increase in the current equalized assessed valuation of each taxable lot, block, tract, or parcel of real property in the area selected for the redevelopment project over and above the initial equalized assessed value of each such unit of property in the area selected for the redevelopment project shall be allocated to and, when collected, shall be paid to the municipal treasurer who shall deposit such payment in lieu of taxes into a special fund called the "Special Allocation Fund" of the municipality for the purpose of paying redevelopment costs and obligations incurred in the payment thereof. Payments in lieu of taxes which are due and owing shall constitute a lien against the real estate of the redevelopment project from which they are derived and shall be collected in the same manner as the real property tax, including the assessment of penalties and interest where applicable. The municipality may, in the ordinance, pledge the funds in the special allocation fund for the payment of such costs and obligations and provide for the collection of payments in lieu of taxes, the lien of which may be foreclosed in the same manner as a special assessment lien as provided in section 88.861, RSMo. No part of the current equalized assessed valuation of each lot, block, tract, or parcel of property in the area selected for the redevelopment project attributable to any increase above the total initial equalized assessed value of such properties shall be used in calculating the general state school aid formula provided for in section 163.031, RSMo, until such time as all redevelopment costs have been paid as provided for in this section and section 99.850[.];

(3) For purposes of this section, "levies upon real property in such redevelopment project by taxing districts" shall not include the blind pension fund tax levied by article X, section 38(b) of the Missouri Constitution.

2. In addition to the payments in lieu of taxes described in subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of this section, for redevelopment plans and projects adopted or redevelopment projects approved by ordinance after July 12, 1990, and prior to August 31, 1991, fifty percent of the total additional revenue from taxes, penalty and interest imposed by the municipality, or other taxing districts, which are generated by economic activities within the area of the redevelopment project over the amount of such taxes generated by economic activities within the area of the redevelopment project in the calendar year prior to the adoption of the redevelopment project by ordinance, while tax increment financing remains in effect, but excluding sales and use taxes on motor vehicles, trailers, boats and outboard motors, taxes imposed on sales or charges for sleeping rooms paid by transient guests of hotels and motels, taxes levied pursuant to section 70.500, RSMo, licenses, fees or special assessments other than payments in lieu of taxes and any penalty and interest thereon, shall be allocated to, and paid by the collecting officer to the treasurer or other designated financial officer of the municipality, who shall deposit such funds in a separate segregated account within the special allocation fund. Any provision of an agreement, contract or covenant entered into prior to July 12, 1990, between a municipality and any other political subdivision which provides for an appropriation of other municipal revenues to the special allocation fund shall be and remain enforceable.

3. In addition to the payments in lieu of taxes described in subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of this section, for redevelopment plans and projects adopted or redevelopment projects approved by ordinance after August 31, 1991, fifty percent of the total additional revenue from taxes, penalty and interest which are imposed by the municipality or other taxing districts, and which are generated by economic activities within the area of the redevelopment project over the amount of such taxes generated by economic activities within the area of the redevelopment project in the calendar year prior to the adoption of the redevelopment project by ordinance, while tax increment financing remains in effect, but excluding personal property taxes, sales and use taxes on motor vehicles, trailers, boats and outboard motors, taxes imposed on sales or charges for sleeping rooms paid by transient guests of hotels and motels, taxes levied pursuant to section 70.500, RSMo, licenses, and fees or special assessments [and personal property taxes], other than payments in lieu of taxes and penalty and interest thereon, shall be allocated to, and paid by the collecting officer to the treasurer or other designated financial officer of the municipality, who shall deposit such funds in a separate segregated account within the special allocation fund.

4. Beginning January 1, 1998, for redevelopment plans and projects adopted or redevelopment projects approved by ordinance after August 31, 1991, in addition to the payments in lieu of taxes and economic activity taxes described in subsections 1, 2 and 3 of this section, up to fifty percent of new state revenues as defined in this section, reported by businesses within the redevelopment area as identified by the municipality over and above the amount of such taxes reported by businesses within the redevelopment area as identified by the municipality in the calendar year prior to the approval of the redevelopment project by ordinance, while tax increment financing remains in effect, shall be rebated to, and paid by the director of the department of revenue according to rules promulgated by the department, pursuant to section 536.024, RSMo, to the treasurer or other designated financial officer of the municipality who shall deposit such funds in a separate segregated account within the special allocation fund established pursuant to section 99.805. For all redevelopment plans or projects adopted after the effective date of this act, new revenues from state taxes shall not be rebated or deposited into the special allocation fund unless the municipality's redevelopment plan ensures that one hundred percent of payments in lieu of taxes and fifty percent of economic activity taxes generated by the project shall be used for eligible redevelopment project costs for twenty-three years following the adoption of the ordinance approving the redevelopment project. This account shall be separate from the account into which payments in lieu of taxes are deposited, and separate from the account into which economic activity taxes are deposited.

5. Subsection 4 of this section shall apply only to blighted areas located within state enterprise zones or federal empowerment zones which, at the time of the approval of the project by ordinance:

(2) Suffered from generally declining population or property taxes over the twenty-year period immediately preceding their designation as a project area by ordinance; or

6. The rebate of fifty percent of new state revenues authorized pursuant to subsection 4 of this section shall not be rebated by the department of revenue to a municipality until all of the following conditions have been satisfied:

(1) The department of economic development and the commissioner of administration have approved an application made to the department of economic development by the municipality for the rebate of new state revenues. For new projects approved after August 28, 1997, such application must be made at least one month prior to the adoption by the municipality of an ordinance approving a redevelopment project;

(2) The affidavit required by section 99.810 shall specify that the redevelopment area would not be reasonably anticipated to be developed without the rebate of the new state revenues. Such affidavit shall be signed by the developer or developers attesting that the provisions of subdivision (1) of section 99.810 have been met; and

(3) The cost-benefit analysis required by section 99.810 includes a fiscal impact study upon the state of Missouri.

7. In addition to those areas authorized in subsection 5 of this section, the rebate authorized pursuant to subsection 4 of this section shall also be available in a federally approved levee district, where construction of a levee begins after the effective date of this act, and which are contained within a county of the first classification without a charter form of government which contains part of a city in excess of three hundred fifty thousand residents.

8. There is hereby established within the state treasury a special fund to be known as the "Missouri Tax Increment Financing Fund", to be administered by the department of revenue. The department shall annually credit to the Missouri tax increment financing fund the tax authorized under the provisions of subsection 4 of this section. The fund shall also consist of any gifts, contributions, grants, or bequests received from federal, private, or other sources. Moneys in the Missouri tax increment financing fund shall be disbursed pursuant to appropriations by the general assembly. The department shall disburse such appropriated funds in a timely manner into the separate, segregated account as authorized by subsection 4 of this section. Each administering agency shall make a plan or plans, available to the public, to carry out the purposes of this section. "163.031. 1. School districts which meet the requirements of section 163.021 shall be entitled to an amount computed as follows: an amount determined by multiplying the number of eligible pupils by the district's equalized operating levy for school purposes as defined in section 163.011 multiplied by the guaranteed tax base per eligible pupil times the proration factor. For the purposes of this section, the proration factor shall be equal to the sum of the total appropriation for distribution under subsections 1 and 2 of this section; and the state total of the deductions as calculated in subsection 2 of this section which do not exceed the district entitlements as adjusted by the same proration factor; divided by the amount of the state total of district entitlements before proration as calculated pursuant to this subsection.

2. From the district entitlement for each district there shall be deducted the following amounts: an amount determined by multiplying the district equalized assessed valuation by the district's equalized operating levy for school purposes times the district income factor plus ninety percent of any payment received the current year of protested taxes due in prior years no earlier than the 1997 tax year minus the amount of any protested taxes due in the current year and for which notice of protest was received during the current year; one hundred percent of the amount received the previous year for school purposes from intangible taxes, fines, forfeitures and escheats, payments in lieu of taxes and receipts from state assessed railroad and utility tax, except that any penalty paid after July 1, 1995, by a concentrated animal feeding operation as defined by the department of natural resources rule shall not be included; one hundred percent of the amounts received the previous year for school purposes from federal properties pursuant to sections 12.070 and 12.080, RSMo; federal impact aid received the previous year for school purposes pursuant to P.L. 81-874 less fifty thousand dollars multiplied by ninety percent or the maximum percentage allowed by federal regulation if that percentage is less than ninety; fifty percent, or the percentage otherwise provided in section 163.087, of Proposition C revenues received the previous year for school purposes from the school district trust fund pursuant to section 163.087; one hundred percent of the amount received the previous year for school purposes from the fair share fund pursuant to section 149.015, RSMo; and one hundred percent of the amount received the previous year for school purposes from the free textbook fund, pursuant to section 148.360, RSMo.

3. School districts which meet the requirements of section 163.021 shall receive categorical add-on revenue as provided in this subsection. There shall be individual proration factors for each categorical entitlement provided for in this subsection, and each proration factor shall be determined by annual appropriations, but no categorical proration factor shall exceed the entitlement proration factor established pursuant to subsection 1 of this section, except that the vocational education entitlement proration factor established pursuant to line 16 of subsection 6 of this section and the educational and screening program entitlements proration factor established pursuant to line 17 of subsection 6 of this section may exceed the entitlement proration factor established pursuant to subsection 1 of this section. The categorical add-on for the district shall be the sum of: seventy-five percent of the district allowable transportation costs pursuant to section 163.161 multiplied by the proration factor; the special education approved or allowed cost entitlement for the district, provided for by section 162.975, RSMo, multiplied by the proration factor; seventy-five percent of the district gifted education approved or allowable cost entitlement as determined pursuant to section 162.975, RSMo, multiplied by the proration factor; the free and reduced lunch eligible pupil count for the district, as defined in section 163.011, multiplied by twenty percent times the guaranteed tax base per eligible pupil times the minimum value for an operating levy for school purposes as provided in section 163.011 times the proration factor; the career ladder entitlement for the district, as provided for in sections 168.500 to 168.515, RSMo, multiplied by the proration factor; the vocational education entitlement for the district, as provided for in section 167.332, RSMo, multiplied by the proration factor and the district educational and screening program entitlements as provided for in sections 178.691 to 178.699, RSMo, times the proration factor.

4. Each district's apportionment shall be the prorated categorical add-ons plus the greater of the district's prorated entitlement minus the total deductions for the district or zero.

5. (1) In the 1993-94 school year and all subsequent school years, pursuant to section 10(c) of article X of the state constitution, a school district shall adjust upward its operating levy for school purposes to the extent necessary for the district to at least maintain the current operating expenditures per pupil received by the district from all sources in the 1992-93 school year, except that its operating levy for school purposes shall not exceed the highest tax rate in effect subsequent to the 1980 tax year, or the minimum rate required by subsection 2 of section 163.021, whichever is less.

(2) Beginning with the 1993-94 school year, the revenue per eligible pupil received by a district from the following sources: line 1 minus line 10, or zero if line 1 minus line 10 is less than zero, plus line 14 of subsection 6 of this section; plus the product of the current assessed valuation of the district multiplied by the following tax rate - the greater of zero

The provisions of other law to the contrary notwithstanding, the plan presented to the superintendent shall provide a summary waiver, with no conditions, for the pupil testing requirements pursuant to section 160.257, RSMo. Further, the provisions of other law to the contrary notwithstanding, the plan shall detail a means for the waiver of requirements otherwise imposed on the school district related to the authority of the state board of education to classify school districts pursuant to section 161.092, RSMo, and such other rules as determined by the commissioner of education, except that such waivers shall not include the provisions established pursuant to sections 160.514 and 160.518, RSMo.

(4) In the 1993-94 school year and each school year thereafter for two years, those districts which are entitled to receive state aid under subsections 1 to 4 of this section, shall receive state aid in an amount per eligible pupil as provided in this subsection. For the 1993-94 school year, the amount per eligible pupil shall be twenty-five percent of the amount of state aid per eligible pupil calculated for the district for the 1993-94 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section plus seventy-five percent of the total amount of state aid received by the district from all sources for the 1992-93 school year for which the district is entitled and which are distributed in the 1993-94 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section. For the 1994-95 school year, the amount per eligible pupil shall be fifty percent of the amount of state aid per eligible pupil calculated for the district for the 1994-95 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section plus fifty percent of the total amount of state aid received by the district from all sources for the 1992-93 school year for which the district is entitled and which are distributed in the 1994-95 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section. For the 1995-96 school year, the amount of state aid per eligible pupil shall be seventy-five percent of the amount of state aid per eligible pupil calculated for the district for the 1995-96 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section plus twenty-five percent of the total amount of state aid received by the district from all sources for the 1992-93 school year for which the district is entitled and which are distributed in the 1995-96 school year pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section. Nothing in this subdivision shall be construed to limit the authority of a school district to raise its district operating levy pursuant to subdivision (1) of this subsection.

(5) If the total of state aid apportionments to all districts pursuant to subdivision (3) of this subsection is less than the total of state aid apportionments calculated pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section, then the difference shall be deposited in the outstanding schools trust fund. If the total of state aid apportionments to all districts pursuant to subdivision (1) of this subsection is greater than the total of state aid apportionments calculated pursuant to subsections 1 to 4 of this section, then funds shall be transferred from the outstanding schools trust fund to the state school moneys fund to the extent necessary to fund the district entitlements as modified by subdivision (4) of this subsection for that school year with a district entitlement proration factor no less than one and such transfer shall be given priority over all other uses for the outstanding schools trust fund as otherwise provided by law.

The school board of any district, after notice to parents or others having custodial care and a hearing upon charges preferred, may suspend or expel a pupil for conduct which is prejudicial to good order and discipline in the schools or which tends to impair the morale or good conduct of the pupils. In addition to the authority granted in section 167.171, a school board may authorize, by general rule, the immediate removal of a pupil upon a finding by the principal, superintendent, or school board that the pupil poses a threat of harm to such pupil or others, as evidenced by the prior conduct of such pupil. Prior disciplinary actions shall not be used as the sole basis for removal, suspension or expulsion of a pupil. Removal of any pupil who is a student with a disability is subject to state and federal procedural rights. At the hearing upon any such removal, suspension or expulsion, the board shall consider the evidence and statements that the parties present and may consider records of past disciplinary actions, criminal court records or juvenile court records consistent with other provisions of the law, or the actions of the pupil which would constitute a criminal offense. The board may provide by general rule not inconsistent with this section for the procedure and conduct of such hearings. After meeting with the superintendent or his designee to discuss the expulsion, the parent, custodian or the student, if at least eighteen years of age, may, in writing, waive any right to a hearing before the board of education.

2. The school board of any district, after notice to parents or others having custodial care and a hearing upon the matter, may suspend a pupil upon a finding that the pupil has been charged, convicted or pled guilty in a court of general jurisdiction for the commission of a felony criminal violation of state or federal law. At a hearing required by this subsection, the board shall consider statements that the parties present. The board may provide for the procedure and conduct of such hearings.

3. The school board shall make a good-faith effort to have the parents or others having custodial care present at any such hearing. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, student discipline hearings or proceedings related to the rights of students to attend school or to receive academic credit shall not be required to comply with the requirements applicable to contested case hearings as provided in chapter 536, RSMo, provided that appropriate due process procedures shall be observed which shall include the right for a direct appeal for a de novo review by the circuit court."; and Practitioners shall be registered to dispense any controlled substance or to conduct research with controlled substances in Schedules II through V if they are authorized to dispense or conduct research under the laws of this state. The department of health need not require separate registration under sections 195.005 to 195.425 for practitioners engaging in research with nonnarcotic substances in Schedules II through V where the registrant is already registered under sections 195.005 to 195.425 in another capacity. Practitioners registered under federal law to conduct research with Schedule I substances may conduct research with Schedule I substances within this state upon furnishing the department of health evidence of that federal registration.

6. Compliance by manufacturers and distributors with the provisions of federal law respecting registration (excluding fees) shall entitle them to be registered under sections 195.005 to 195.425.

7. A registration to manufacture, distribute, or dispense a controlled substance may be suspended or revoked by the department of health upon a finding that the registrant:

(1) Has furnished false or fraudulent material information in any application filed under sections 195.005 to 195.425;

(2) Has been convicted of a felony under any state or federal law relating to any controlled substance;

(5) Has had the registrant's professional license to practice suspended or revoked.

8. The department of health may warn or censure a registrant; limit a registration to particular controlled substances or schedules of controlled substances; limit revocation or suspension of a registration to a particular controlled substance with respect to which grounds for revocation or suspension exist; restrict or limit a registration under such terms and conditions as the department of health considers appropriate for a period of five years; suspend or revoke a registration for a period not to exceed five years; or deny an application for registration. In any order of revocation, the department of health may provide that the registrant may not apply for a new registration for a period of time ranging from one to five years following the date of the order of revocation. All stay orders shall toll this time period. Any registration placed under a limitation or restriction by the department of health shall be termed "under probation".

9. If the department of health suspends or revokes a registration, all controlled substances owned or possessed by the registrant at the time of suspension or the effective date of the revocation order may be placed under seal by such agency and held pending final disposition of the case. No disposition may be made of substances under seal until the time for taking an appeal has elapsed or until all appeals have been concluded, unless a court, upon application therefor, orders the sale of perishable substances and the deposit of the proceeds of the sale with the court. Upon a revocation order becoming final, all [narcotic and dangerous drugs] controlled substances may be forfeited to the state.

11. If after first providing the registrant an opportunity for an informal conference, the department of health proposes to deny, suspend, restrict, limit or revoke a registration or refuse a renewal of registration, the department of health shall serve upon the applicant or registrant written notice of the proposed action to be taken on the application or registration. The notice shall contain a statement of the type of discipline proposed, the basis therefor, the date such action shall go into effect and a statement that the registrant shall have thirty days to request in writing a hearing before the administrative hearing commission. If no written request for a hearing is received by the department of health within thirty days of the applicant's or registrant's receipt of the notice, the proposed discipline shall take effect thirty-one days from the date the original notice was received by the applicant or registrant. If the registrant or applicant makes a written request for a hearing, the department of health shall file a complaint with the administrative hearing commission within sixty days of receipt of the written request for a hearing. The complaint shall comply with the laws and regulations for actions brought before the administrative hearing commission. The department of health may issue letters of censure or warning and may enter into agreements with a registrant or applicant which restrict or limit a registration without formal notice or hearing.

12. The department of health may suspend any registration simultaneously with the institution of proceedings under subsection 7 of this section if the department of health finds that there is imminent danger to the public health or safety which warrants this action. The suspension shall continue in effect until the conclusion of the proceedings, including review thereof, unless sooner withdrawn by the department of health, dissolved by a court of competent jurisdiction or stayed by the administrative hearing commission.

No rule or portion of a rule that has the effect of substantive law shall become effective until the order of rulemaking, in which such rule or portion thereof is contained, has been reviewed by the general assembly in accordance with the procedures provided herein and the agency's authority to propose an order of rulemaking is dependent upon the power of the general assembly to disapprove and annul any such proposed rule or portion thereof as provided herein.

3. In order for the general assembly to have an effective opportunity to be advised of rules proposed by any state agency under the authority of this section, an agency may propose a rule by complying with the procedures provided in section 536.021, except that the notice of proposed rulemaking shall first be filed with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings upon any proposed rule or portion thereof at any time. The agency shall cooperate with the joint committee on administrative rules by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

4. In order to propose an order of rulemaking to the general assembly, the agency shall comply with the provisions of section 536.021, except that the agency may file a proposed order of rulemaking with the secretary of state only by first filing such proposed order with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives. The president pro tem of the senate shall direct that a copy of the proposed order of rulemaking be delivered to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings thereon. The agency shall cooperate with the committee by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

5. Such proposed order of rulemaking shall not become effective prior to the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

6. The committee may, by majority vote of its members, recommend that the general assembly disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in an order of rulemaking after hearings thereon and, upon a finding that such rule or portion thereof should be disapproved and annulled upon the following grounds:

(1) Such rule is substantive in nature in that it creates rights or liabilities or provides for sanctions as to any person, corporation or other legal entity; and

(2) Such rule or portion thereof is not in the public interest or is not authorized by the general assembly for one or more of the following grounds:

- (a) An absence of statutory authority for the proposed rule;
- (b) The proposed rule is in conflict with state law;
- (c) Such proposed rule is likely to substantially endanger the public health, safety or welfare;
- (d) The rule exceeds the purpose, or is more restrictive than is necessary to carry out the purpose, of the statute granting rulemaking authority;
- (e) A substantial change in circumstance has occurred since enactment of the law upon which the proposed rule is based as to result in a conflict between the purpose of the law and the proposed rule, or as to create a substantial danger to public health and welfare;
- (f) The proposed rule is so arbitrary and capricious as to create such substantial inequity as to be unreasonably burdensome on persons affected.

7. Any recommendation or report issued by the committee pursuant to subsection 6 of this section shall be admissible as evidence in any judicial proceeding and entitled to judicial notice without further proof.

8. The general assembly may adopt a concurrent resolution in accordance with the provisions of article IV, section 8 of the Missouri constitution to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof upon one or more of the grounds stated in subsection 6 of this section.

9. Any rule or portion thereof not disapproved within thirty legislative days of a regular session pursuant to subsection 8 of this section shall be deemed approved by the general assembly and the secretary of state may publish such order of rulemaking as soon as practicable upon the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after the order of rulemaking was filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

10. Upon adoption of such concurrent resolution as provided in subsection 8 of this section, the secretary of state shall not publish the order of rulemaking until the expiration of time necessary for such resolution to be signed by the governor, or vetoed and subsequently acted upon by the general assembly pursuant to article III, section 32 of the Missouri Constitution. If such concurrent resolution is adopted and signed by the governor or reconsidered pursuant to article III, section 32, the secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, the order of rulemaking along with notice of the proposed rules or portions thereof which are disapproved and annulled by the general assembly.

11. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 1.140, RSMo, the provisions of this section are nonseverable and the delegation of legislative authority to an agency to propose orders of rulemaking is essentially dependent upon the powers vested with the general assembly as provided herein. If any of the powers vested with the general assembly to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule contained in an order of rulemaking, are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking pursuant thereto shall be invalid and void.

12. Nothing in this section shall prevent the general assembly from adopting by bill within thirty legislative days of a regular session the rules or portions thereof, or as the same may be amended, as contained in a proposed order of rulemaking. In that event, the proposed order of rulemaking shall have been superseded and any rule proposed therein shall be void and only such rules adopted by the general assembly and submitted to the governor may become effective. Rules so adopted shall be published by the secretary of state as soon as practicable. In that event, the secretary of state shall not publish the proposed order of rulemaking and such proposed order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.

13. Upon adoption of any rule now in effect or hereafter promulgated, any such rule or portion thereof may be revoked by the general assembly either by bill, or by concurrent resolution pursuant to article IV, section 8 of the constitution on recommendation of the committee on administrative rules upon the grounds listed in subsection 6 of this section. The secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, notice of the revocation.]

[Section 14. 1. The director may, after notice and hearing, promulgate reasonable rules to carry out the provisions of sections 1 to 11. The director shall have the authority to promulgate rules to accomplish the following purposes:

- (1) To regulate the internal affairs of the department of insurance;
- (2) To prescribe forms and procedures to be followed in proceedings before the department of insurance; and
- (3) To effectuate or aid in the interpretation of any law of this state pertaining to the subject matters of sections 1 to 11.

2. Any rule that has the effect of creating or substantially modifying a legal right, liability, obligation or sanction shall be considered substantive. The director may only promulgate substantive rules on subject matters specifically authorized pursuant to sections 1 to 11 and any substantive rule or portion of a rule shall become effective only as provided pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, including, but not limited to, section 536.028, after the effective date of this act. All such substantive rules and all substantive rulemaking authority granted pursuant to sections 1 to 11 shall expire on August 31, 1998. Any act by the general assembly that serves to extend or postpone the expiration of any rule or rulemaking authority shall not constitute legislative approval of the rule or authority nor be admissible in any court as evidence of legislative intent. The provisions of this section are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to section 536.028 to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule, or portion of a rule, are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.]".

376.1399. The director may, after notice and hearing, promulgate reasonable rules to carry out the provisions of sections 376.1350 to 376.1390. Any rule or portion of a rule promulgated shall become effective only as provided in chapter 536, RSMo.

[376.1399. 1. The director may, after notice and hearing, promulgated reasonable rules to carry out the provisions of sections 376.1350 to 376.1390. The director shall have the authority to promulgate rules to accomplish the following purposes:

(2) To prescribe forms and procedures to be followed in proceedings before the department of insurance; and

(3) To effectuate or aid in the interpretation of any law of this state pertaining to the subject matters of sections 376.1350 to 376.1390.

2. Any rule that has the effect of creating or substantially modifying a legal right, liability, obligation or sanction shall be considered substantive. The director may only promulgate substantive rules on subject matters specifically authorized pursuant to sections 376.1350 to 376.1390 and any substantive rule or portion of a rule shall become effective only as provided pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, including, but not limited to, section 536.028, after the effective date of this act. All such substantive rules and all substantive rulemaking authority granted pursuant to sections 376.1350 to 376.1390 shall expire on August 31, 1998. Any act by the general assembly that serves to extend or postpone the expiration of any rule or rulemaking authority shall not constitute legislative approval of the rule or authority nor be admissible in any court as evidence of legislative intent. The provisions of this section are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to section 536.028 to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule, or portion of a rule, are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.]

[536.028. 1. The delegation of authority to any state agency to propose to the general assembly rules as provided under this section is contingent upon the agency complying with the provisions of this section and this delegation of legislative power to the agency to propose an order of rulemaking containing a rule or portion thereof that has the effect of substantive law, other than a rule relating to the agency's organization and internal management, is contingent and dependent upon the power of the general assembly to review such proposed order of rulemaking, to delay the effective date of such proposed order of rulemaking until the expiration of at least thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the general assembly and the secretary of state, and to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in such order of rulemaking.

2. No rule or portion of a rule that has the effect of substantive law shall become effective until the order of rulemaking, in which such rule or portion thereof is contained, has been reviewed by the general assembly in accordance with the procedures provided herein and the agency's authority to propose an order of rulemaking is dependent upon the power of the general assembly to disapprove and annul any such proposed rule or portion thereof as provided herein.

3. In order for the general assembly to have an effective opportunity to be advised of rules proposed by any state agency under the authority of this section, an agency may propose a rule by complying with the procedures provided in section 536.021, except that the notice of proposed rulemaking shall first be filed with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings upon any proposed rule or portion thereof at any time. The agency shall cooperate with the joint committee on administrative rules by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

4. In order to propose an order of rulemaking to the general assembly, the agency shall comply with the provisions of section 536.021, except that the agency may file a proposed order of rulemaking with the secretary of state only by first filing such proposed order with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the secretary of the senate and the clerk of the house of representatives. The president pro tem of the senate shall direct that a copy of the proposed order of rulemaking be delivered to the joint committee on administrative rules which may hold hearings thereon. The agency shall cooperate with the committee by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

5. Such proposed order of rulemaking shall not become effective prior to the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

6. The committee may, by majority vote of its members, recommend that the general assembly disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in an order of rulemaking after hearings thereon and, upon a finding that such rule or portion thereof should be disapproved and annulled upon the following grounds:

(1) Such rule is substantive in nature in that it creates rights or liabilities or provides for sanctions as to any person, corporation or other legal entity; and

(2) Such rule or portion thereof is not in the public interest or is not authorized by the general assembly for one or more of the following grounds:

(a) An absence of statutory authority for the proposed rule;

(b) The proposed rule is in conflict with state law;

(c) Such proposed rule is likely to substantially endanger the public health, safety or welfare;

(d) The rule exceeds the purpose, or is more restrictive than is necessary to carry out the purpose, of the statute granting rulemaking authority;

(e) A substantial change in circumstance has occurred since enactment of the law upon which the proposed rule is based as to result in a conflict between the purpose of the law and the proposed rule, or as to create a substantial danger to public health and welfare;

(f) The proposed rule is so arbitrary and capricious as to create such substantial inequity as to be unreasonably burdensome on persons affected.

7. Any recommendation or report issued by the committee pursuant to subsection 6 of this section shall be admissible as evidence in any judicial proceeding and entitled to judicial notice without further proof.

8. The general assembly may adopt a concurrent resolution in accordance with the provisions of article IV, section 8 of the Missouri constitution to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof upon one or more of the grounds stated in subsection 6 of this section.

9. Any rule or portion thereof not disapproved within thirty legislative days of a regular session pursuant to subsection 8 of this section shall be deemed approved by the general assembly and the secretary of state may publish such order of rulemaking as soon as practicable upon the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after the order of rulemaking was filed with the secretary of state and the general assembly.

10. Upon adoption of such concurrent resolution as provided in subsection 8 of this section, the secretary of state shall not publish the order of rulemaking until the expiration of time necessary for such resolution to be signed by the governor, or vetoed and subsequently acted upon by the general assembly pursuant to article III, section 32 of the Missouri Constitution. If such concurrent resolution is adopted and signed by the governor or reconsidered pursuant to article III, section 32, the secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, the order of rulemaking along with notice of the proposed rules or portions thereof which are disapproved and annulled by the general assembly.

11. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 1.140, RSMo, the provisions of this section are nonseverable and the delegation of legislative authority to an agency to propose orders of rulemaking is essentially dependent upon the powers vested with the general assembly as provided herein. If any of the powers vested with the general assembly to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule contained in an order of rulemaking, are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking pursuant thereto shall be invalid and void.

12. Nothing in this section shall prevent the general assembly from adopting by bill within thirty legislative days of a regular session the rules or portions thereof, or as the same may be amended, as contained in a proposed order of rulemaking. In that event, the proposed order of rulemaking shall have been superseded and any rule proposed therein shall be void and only such rules adopted by the general assembly and submitted to the governor may become effective. Rules so adopted shall be published by the secretary of state as soon as practicable. In that event, the secretary of state shall not publish the proposed order of rulemaking and such proposed order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.

13. Upon adoption of any rule now in effect or hereafter promulgated, any such rule or portion thereof may be revoked by the general assembly either by bill, or by concurrent resolution pursuant to article IV, section 8 of the constitution on recommendation of the committee on administrative rules upon the grounds listed in subsection 6 of this section. The secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, notice of the revocation.]

Section 14. The director may, after notice and hearing, promulgate reasonable rules to carry out the provisions of sections 1 to 11. Any rule or portion of a rule promulgated shall become effective only as provided in chapter 536, RSMo.

[Section 14. 1. The director may, after notice and hearing, promulgate reasonable rules to carry out the provisions of sections 1 to 11. The director shall have the authority to promulgate rules to accomplish the following purposes:

(1) To regulate the internal affairs of the department of insurance;

- (2) To prescribe forms and procedures to be followed in proceedings before the department of insurance; and
- (3) To effectuate or aid in the interpretation of any law of this state pertaining to the subject matters of sections 1 to 11.

2. Any rule that has the effect of creating or substantially modifying a legal right, liability, obligation or sanction shall be considered substantive. The director may only promulgate substantive rules on subject matters specifically authorized pursuant to sections 1 to 11 and any substantive rule or portion of a rule shall become effective only as provided pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, including, but not limited to, section 536.028, after the effective date of this act. All such substantive rules and all substantive rulemaking authority granted pursuant to sections 1 to 11 shall expire on August 31, 1998. Any act by the general assembly that serves to extend or postpone the expiration of any rule or rulemaking authority shall not constitute legislative approval of the rule or authority nor be admissible in any court as evidence of legislative intent. The provisions of this section are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to section 536.028 to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule, or portion of a rule, are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.]; and

(a) The division may by rule exclude such income or resources in determining such person's eligibility for permanent and total disability benefits; and

(b) Eligibility standards for permanent and total disability benefits shall not be limited by age;

Further amend said bill, Page 196, Section 454.1027, Line 13 of said page, by inserting immediately after all of said line the following:

"473.399. 1. As used in this section, the following terms mean:

(1) "Assistance", funds expended by a state agency to or on behalf of a person in the form of aid, care, or services, except that for the purposes of this section, [aid to families with dependent children] work first program benefits shall not be considered assistance;

(2) "Obligor estate", the estate against which an obligation [under] pursuant to this section arises;

(3) "Recipient", a person to whom or on whose behalf assistance is provided;

(4) "State agency", the department of social services, department of health and department of mental health of the state of Missouri.

2. For the purposes of this section, the providing of assistance shall create an obligation which may be recovered by filing a claim in the probate division of the circuit court against the decedent estate of the spouse of the deceased recipient upon such spouse's death as provided by the probate code of Missouri, chapters 472, 473, 474 and 475, RSMo. The amount of the state debt shall be the full amount of assistance without interest provided to the recipient during the marriage of such recipient and spouse; provided that the liability of the obligor estate shall not exceed the value of the combined resources of the recipient and the spouse of the recipient on the date of death of the recipient.

3. The state agency providing the assistance may initiate a claim on the debt against the obligor estate.

4. The obligor estate may assert as a defense to the state agency's claim that more than two years prior to the providing of assistance, the recipient voluntarily abandoned the spouse.

5. An obligor estate shall have the right of setoff against the state debt for any amounts recovered by the state agency from the estate of the deceased recipient pursuant to section 473.398.

6. Claims shall not be filed [under] pursuant to this section when collection of the state debt would be contrary to federal statutes for assistance programs in which federal funds are received.

536.028. 1. Notwithstanding provisions of this chapter to the contrary, the delegation of authority to any state agency to propose to the general assembly rules as provided under this section is contingent upon the agency complying with the provisions of this chapter and this delegation of legislative power to the agency to propose a final order of rulemaking containing a rule or portion thereof that has the effect of substantive law, other than a rule relating to the agency's organization and internal management, is contingent and dependent upon the power of the general assembly to review such proposed order of rulemaking, to delay the effective date of such proposed order of rulemaking until the expiration of at least thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the general assembly and the secretary of state, and to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in such order of rulemaking.

2. No rule or portion of a rule that has the effect of substantive law shall become effective until the final order of rulemaking has been reviewed by the general assembly in accordance with the procedures provided pursuant to this chapter. Any agency's authority to propose an order of rulemaking is dependent upon the power of the general assembly to disapprove and annul any such proposed rule or portion thereof.

3. In order for the general assembly to have an effective opportunity to be advised of rules proposed by any state agency, an agency shall propose a rule or order of rulemaking by complying with the procedures provided in this chapter, except that the notice of proposed rulemaking shall first be filed with the general assembly by providing a copy thereof to the joint committee on administrative rules, which may hold hearings upon any proposed rule, order of rulemaking or portion thereof at any time. The agency shall cooperate with the joint committee on administrative rules by providing any witnesses, documents or information within the control of the agency as may be requested.

4. Such proposed order of rulemaking shall not become effective prior to the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after such order is filed with the secretary of state and the joint committee on administrative rules.

5. The committee may, by majority vote of its members, recommend that the general assembly disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof contained in an order of rulemaking after hearings thereon and upon a finding that such rule or portion thereof should be disapproved and annulled. Grounds upon which the committee may recommend such action include, but are not limited to:

(1) Such rule is substantive in nature in that it creates rights or liabilities or provides for sanctions as to any person, corporation or other legal entity; and

(2) Such rule or portion thereof is not in the public interest or is not authorized by the general assembly for one or more of the following grounds:

(a) An absence of statutory authority for the proposed rule;

(b) The proposed rule is in conflict with state law;

(c) Such proposed rule is likely to substantially endanger the public health, safety or welfare;

(d) The rule exceeds the purpose, or is more restrictive than is necessary to carry out the purpose, of the statute granting rulemaking authority;

(e) A substantial change in circumstance has occurred since enactment of the law upon which the proposed rule is based as to result in a conflict between the purpose of the law and the proposed rule, or as to create a substantial danger to public health and welfare; or

(f) The proposed rule is so arbitrary and capricious as to create such substantial inequity as to be unreasonably burdensome on persons affected.

6. Any recommendation or report issued by the committee pursuant to subsection 5 of this section shall be admissible as evidence in any judicial proceeding and entitled to judicial notice without further proof.

7. The general assembly may adopt a concurrent resolution in accordance with the provisions of article IV, section 8 of the Missouri constitution to disapprove and annul any rule or portion thereof.

8. Any rule or portion thereof not disapproved within thirty legislative days of a regular session pursuant to subsection 7 of this section shall be deemed approved by the general assembly and the secretary of state may publish such final order of rulemaking as soon as practicable upon the expiration of thirty legislative days of a regular session after the final order of rulemaking was filed with the secretary of state and the joint committee on administrative rules.

9. Upon adoption of such concurrent resolution as provided in subsection 7 of this section, the secretary of state shall not publish the order of rulemaking until the expiration of time necessary for such resolution to be signed by the governor, or vetoed and subsequently acted upon by the general assembly pursuant to article III, section 32 of the Missouri Constitution. If such concurrent resolution is adopted and signed by the governor or otherwise reconsidered pursuant to article III, section 32, the secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, the order of rulemaking along with notice of the proposed rules or portions thereof which are disapproved and annulled by the general assembly.

10. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 1.140, RSMo, the provisions of this section, section 536.021, RSMo, and section 536.025, RSMo, are nonseverable and the delegation of legislative authority to an agency to propose orders of rulemaking is essentially dependent upon the powers vested with the general assembly as provided herein. If any of the powers vested with the general assembly or the joint committee on administrative rules to review, to hold in abeyance the rule pending action by the general assembly, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule contained in an order of rulemaking, are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking shall be revoked and shall be null, void and unenforceable.

11. Nothing in this section shall prevent the general assembly from adopting by concurrent resolution or bill within thirty legislative days of a regular session the rules or portions thereof, or as the same may be amended or annulled, as contained in a proposed order of rulemaking. In that event, the proposed order of rulemaking shall have been superseded and the order and any rule proposed therein shall be null, void and unenforceable. The secretary of state shall not publish a proposed order of rulemaking acted upon as described herein.

12. Upon adoption of any rule now or hereafter in effect, such rule or portion thereof may be revoked by the general assembly either by bill or by concurrent resolution pursuant to article IV, section 8 of the constitution on recommendation of the joint committee on administrative rules. The secretary of state shall publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, notice of the revocation.

13. This section shall become effective only upon the expiration of twenty calendar days following the:

(1) Failure of the executive to sign executive order number 97-97; or

(2) Modification, amendment or rescission of executive order number 97-97; or

(3) An agency's failure to hold the rule in abeyance as required by executive order number 97-97; or

(4) Declaration by a court with jurisdiction that section 536.024, RSMo, or any portion of executive order number 97-97 is unconstitutional or invalid for any reason.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection to the contrary, no modification, amendment or rescission of executive order number 97-97 or failure to hold a rule in abeyance shall make this section effective if the modification, amendment or rescission of the executive order or failure to hold the rule in abeyance is approved by the general assembly by concurrent resolution."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 204, Section 620.145, Line 11 of said page, by inserting immediately after all of said line the following:

"660.016. If the state's net federal reimbursement allowance for fiscal year 1994 and subsequent fiscal years exceeds one hundred thirty million dollars, the department of social services shall include in its 1995 fiscal year budget recommendation that any revenues in excess of one hundred thirty million dollars subject to appropriation be designated for the following purposes:

(1) Loans for physicians and nurses who will serve in medically underserved areas of Missouri as designated by the director of health;

(2) Primary and preventive care initiatives, including parenting classes, as determined by the directors of health and social services; and

(3) Transitional medicaid expenses of [AFDC] work first program recipients who accept employment which does not provide a medical benefit. As used in this section, "net federal reimbursement allowance" shall mean that amount of the federal reimbursement allowance in excess of the amount of state matching funds necessary for the state to make payments required by subsection 1 of section 208.450, RSMo, or, if the payments exceed the amount so required, the actual payments made for the purposes specified in subsection 1 of section 208.450, RSMo. This section shall cease to be in effect if the revenues generated by sections 208.450 to 208.480, RSMo, become ineligible for federal financial participation, if payments cease to be made pursuant to section 208.471, RSMo, or if such sections expire in accordance with section 208.480, RSMo.

660.017. The department of social services may adopt, appeal and amend rules necessary to carry out the duties assigned to it. All rules shall be promulgated pursuant to the provisions of this section and chapter 536, RSMo. [No rule or portion of a rule promulgated under the authority of this section shall become effective unless it has been promulgated pursuant to the provisions of section 536.024, RSMo.] Including but not limited to sections 208.151, RSMo, 210.256, RSMo, and sections 6, 8, 10, 11, 13, 16, 23, 25 and 28 of this act any rule or portion of a rule promulgated shall become effective only as provided pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, including, but not limited to, section 536.028, RSMo, if applicable, after the effective date of this act. All rulemaking authority delegated prior to the effective date of this act is of no force and effect and repealed. The provisions of this section are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to section 536.028, RSMo, if applicable, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule or portion of a rule are held unconstitutional or invalid, the purported grant of rulemaking authority and any rule so proposed and contained in the order of rulemaking shall be invalid and void.

The director shall consider the recommendations of the caseload standards advisory committee, established pursuant to section 660.026 when developing these caseload standards.

2. In establishing standards pursuant to sections 660.020 to 660.026, the director shall:

(3) Consider standards developed by other states for workers in similar positions of employment.

3. Such standards shall be used by the director as the basis of the department's personnel budget request to the governor.

4. If an employee has failed to satisfactorily complete assignments that are in excess of specified caseload standards, good faith efforts to complete such assignments shall be among the factors considered in the employee's performance evaluation and before any disciplinary action is imposed. If an employee's performance evaluation is lowered or discipline is imposed by a supervisor, because the employee has failed to satisfactorily complete assignments that are in excess of specified caseload standards, the employee may file a grievance based on a claim of work expectations that exceed caseload standards, and the employee shall be entitled to an accelerated hearing of that grievance by the director.

5. Subject to appropriations, the department shall use the standards established pursuant to sections 660.020 to 660.026 to assign caseloads to individual employees.

6. The director shall promulgate rules prescribing the standards provided for in this section.

660.026. 1. The director shall convene, at least biannually, a caseload standards advisory committee which shall consist of seven nonsupervisory employees of the department and three division directors of the department or their designees. A representative of the employees' certified majority organization shall also serve on the committee. 2. The caseload standards advisory committee shall review professional and other caseload standards and recommendations the committee considers appropriate and recommend to the department suggestions for minimum and maximum caseloads for each category of workers employed by the department.

5. To reduce the number of applicants for public assistance, the department of social services may also use the Missouri general revenue maintenance of effort fund or Missouri families work program fund for temporary assistance for needy families to eliminate barriers to accepting employment and to assist individuals in remaining in the work place. Such funds may be used for, but not limited to, child support assurance payments, assisting families in making a child care payment, primary housing payment or rent or utilities payment, transportation allowance payment, work-related expense payment, medical expense payment, including personal care attendants for the disabled, that is not covered by Federal Title XIX or third party insurance payors. Such payment shall be limited to a non-recurring payment and shall be made directly to vendors or to reimburse individuals for the purchase of receipted necessary materials.

7. The Missouri general revenue maintenance of effort fund may also be used to provide assistance by establishing criteria for a state only funded program when the adult population served is not able to meet the federal work requirements due to incapacity of the adult to work because of the incapacity of the adult caretaker or the caretaker's dependent as determined by the department by rule. Beginning fiscal year 1999 the funding for this subsection shall be appropriated as a separate item. The provisions of this subsection shall expire on January 1, 2005.

The work first program will stress self-sufficiency through employment and shall require that adults be responsible for fulfilling their individual self-sufficiency plans, as defined in section 208.325, RSMo, while requiring the state to support targeted populations trying to secure and retain employment.

2. The work first program shall move able-bodied adults into work activities as an alternative to receiving public assistance. The department of social services shall establish the eligibility requirements for the work first program which shall be no more restrictive than those requirements in place on July 16, 1996.

3. Any individual wishing to make application for any of the public assistance programs administered or supervised by the state shall have the opportunity to do so. Section 11. 1. The department of social services shall determine eligibility requirements of the work first program. Such eligibility requirements shall include income and asset limits and shall also include, but not be limited to: convictions occurring after August 22, 1996, the date of the enactment of The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended;

(6) Compliance with all requirements regarding the assignment of rights to support by any recipient of or applicant for benefits; and

(7) Participation by any recipient of or applicant for benefits in procedures to establish paternity and to identify the father of a child for whom assistance is sought, unless such individual has good cause for refusing to cooperate as determined by the department of social services in accordance with federally prescribed standards in effect as of July 16, 1996.

2. For the purpose of determining eligibility to receive, or the amount of, any assistance or benefits through the Missouri work first program, the department of social services shall disregard funds made to or maintained in, including interest accruing on an individual development account.

Section 13. 1. The department shall require, as a condition of eligibility for benefits through the work first program, that each applicant for or recipient of benefits shall assign to the department any rights to support from any other person that such applicant or recipient may have on his or her own behalf or on behalf of any other family member for whom the applicant or recipient is applying for or is receiving benefits. Such assignment of rights to support shall take effect upon a determination by the department that the applicant is eligible for assistance through the work first program. 3. The department of social services shall implement the provisions necessary to collect current and accrued support obligations unless the department determines that such implementation is contrary to the best interest of a child on whose behalf benefits are claimed or of the caretaker of such a child. Such provisions shall include establishing the paternity of a child for whom support is claimed or obtaining any other payments or property that are due to such applicant or child. The divisions of family services and child support enforcement shall impose such sanctions as are consistent with The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended, and are otherwise provided for by state law and through rules and regulations promulgated by the department of social services.

4. If the division of child support enforcement determines that an individual who is receiving benefits through the work first program fails or refuses to cooperate in establishing paternity or in establishing, modifying, or enforcing a support order with respect to a child and for whom benefits are sought or received and if the individual does not demonstrate to the satisfaction of the department good cause for such failure or refusal to cooperate or enforce a support order, the department shall impose sanctions. The department shall promulgate such regulations as are necessary to implement this statute, including setting forth time frames for ineligibility and establishing such exemptions as are deemed appropriate. The department shall promulgate rules concerning the implementation of this section.

5. Child care support is defined as the legal obligation of an individual to provide an amount required to be paid under a judgment decree or order, whether temporary or final, issued by a court of competent jurisdiction or an administrative agency specifically for the child care expenses of a child. Any rights to receive child care support under a state program funded under Part A of the Social Security Act or under the state plan approved under Part A of the Social Security Act are assigned to the state as a pre-condition of receiving child care assistance. Assignment of child care support does not constitute an assignment of the child support amount awarded for the basic child needs of food, clothing and shelter but only for the assignment of the specific award for child care costs.

6. The department of social services is authorized to propose rules and regulations necessary to implement the programs and sanctions referenced in this section only as provided pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo and section 660.017, RSMo.

Section 16. 1. The department is not prohibited by federal law from testing applicants or recipients of public assistance for the use of controlled substances or from sanctioning those who test positive for the use of such substances. Recipients of work first program benefits and food stamp recipients, who are required to participate in a work activity in order to retain their eligibility for such programs and who are denied employment due to failing an employer-required controlled substance screening, shall have sixty days to become employed with the screening employer or obtain other employment.

2. (1) Denial of employment after failing a controlled substance screening and failure to become employed within sixty days of the screening shall result in a sanction of the work first program benefits and food stamp benefits for the household for a minimum of thirty days but not more than sixty days unless the department locates payment resources for drug rehabilitation.

(2) A second or subsequent denial of employment for failing a second or subsequent controlled substance screening and failure to become employed within sixty days of the screening shall result in a sanction of the work first program benefits and food stamp benefits for the household for a minimum of sixty days but not more than one hundred twenty days unless the department locates payment resources for drug rehabilitation.

3. All records obtained in an employer-required controlled substance screening, shall remain confidential between the applicant, the employer and the department.

5. Any person receiving public assistance benefits pursuant to chapter 208, RSMo, is deemed to have consented to a drug test to detect the use of controlled substances. Such test may be requested by the director of the department of social services. Any public assistance recipient who is found to have tested positive for the use of a controlled substance, which was not prescribed for such recipient by a licensed physician or dentist, may, after an administrative hearing conducted pursuant to the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, be sanctioned as determined by the department director or his designee, for some or all public assistance benefits for a period up to one year from the date of the administrative hearing.

6. The director shall promulgate rules to effectuate the provisions of this section.

Section 17. 1. A dependent child eighteen years of age shall, in order to retain eligibility for benefits through the work first program, be enrolled as a full-time student in a public or private secondary school, or an equivalent level of vocational or technical school.

2. Any sanction imposed by the department for a recipient's failure to comply with requirements of subsection 1 of this section shall continue until the minor child is attending school. Good cause exceptions to this requirement may be made by the department if there is substantial evidence that the action of the parent or caretaker presents a probability of serious harm to the parent or caretaker.

3. Prior to imposing a sanction, the department shall make a reasonable effort to resolve disputes when a recipient of benefits through the work first program fails to meet the program requirements. Reasonable efforts shall include a written notice to the recipient of an intent to sanction. The notice shall include actions the recipient may take to avoid sanctions, an offer to discuss barriers to participation and, if appropriate, alternative program provisions that may be incorporated in an individual responsibility plan.

Section 18. The department shall deny benefits through the work first program to or on behalf of:

(1) Any member of a family that includes an adult who has received benefits for sixty months or more, whether or not consecutive, through this program or any other state program that has been created and funded through the provisions of The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended, after the date such state program has commenced unless:

(a) In any month during which benefits were provided to that individual he or she:

a. Was a minor child; and

b. Was not the head of household or married to the head of household;

(b) Benefits were provided to the individual during a month in which he or she lived on an Indian reservation or in an Alaskan Native village as defined in The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended; or

(c) The department elects to extend the period of eligibility for benefits for the individual and his or her family members;

(2) An individual who has been convicted in federal or state court of having made a fraudulent statement or representation with respect to his or her place of residence in order to receive benefits simultaneously from two or more states under programs that have been created and funded through The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended, Title XIX, the Food Stamp Act of 1977, the Supplemental Security Income Program under Title XVI, or any program under Title IV-D of the Social Security Act. The period of ineligibility shall begin on the date the individual was convicted of the offense and shall continue for ten years;

(3) An individual who:

(a) Is fleeing to avoid prosecution for custody or confinement after he or she has been convicted under any federal or state law of a crime which is a felony or, in the state of New Jersey, is a high misdemeanor; or

(b) Is violating a condition of probation or parole imposed under any federal or state law;

(4) An individual or on behalf of a minor child who has been or is expected by a parent or other caretaker relative to be absent from the home for such period of time as is designated by the department in Missouri's state plan filed pursuant to The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended;

(5) The parent or other relative caretaker of a minor child who fails to notify the department of the absence of a minor child from the home by the end of the fifth day after it becomes apparent to the parent or relative caretaker that the child will be absent from the home for the period of time established by the department of social services and referred to in subdivision (4) of this section;

(6) An individual who is a recipient of assistance through other specific state programs designated to provide supplemental aid;

(7) Any other individual who is precluded from receiving benefits in accordance with the provisions of The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Act of 1996, as amended.

Section 19. Work first program benefits shall not be granted or continued:

(1) Unless the benefits granted are used to meet the needs of the child and the needy eligible relative caring for a dependent child;

(2) To any person who refuses to accept vocational rehabilitation services or training or medical or other legal healing treatment necessary to improve or restore his capacity to support himself and his dependents, and it is certified by competent medical authority designated by the division of family services that such physical or mental incapacity can be removed, corrected or substantially improved; provided, however, the division of family services may in its discretion waive this requirement, taking into consideration the age of the individual, nature and extent of training and treatment, or whether he endangers the health of others in his refusal, whether the training or treatment is such that a reasonably prudent person would accept it, and all other facts and circumstances in the individual case;

(3) To a household that receives in any month an amount of income which together with all other income for that month, not excluded or disregarded by the division, exceeds the standard of need established by the department of social services. For the purposes of this subdivision, where consistent with federal law or regulation, "income" as established by the department of social services in conformance with The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended, shall not include the proceeds of any life insurance policy, or prearranged funeral or burial contract, provided that such proceeds are actually used to pay for the funeral or burial expenses of the deceased family member, earnings of a student in school eighteen years of age or younger, child support assurance or earned income.

Section 20. 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, benefits through work first program shall not be provided to an unmarried individual who has not attained the age of eighteen years if the individual:

(1) Has a minor child at least twelve weeks of age in his or her care and the individual has not successfully completed a high school education or a course of study resulting in a certificate of general equivalence unless the individual participates in:

(a) Educational activities directed toward the attainment of a high school diploma or a certificate of general equivalence; or

(b) An alternative educational or training program that has been approved by the department; or

(2) Is a single custodial parent of a child not residing in a home in which his or her parent(s), guardian(s), or adult relative(s) is also residing. Exceptions to this requirement shall be allowed in circumstances in which:

(a) The single custodial parent does not have a parent, legal guardian or other appropriate adult relative who is living or whose whereabouts are known;

(b) The single custodial parent does not have a parent, legal guardian, or other appropriate adult relative, who would otherwise meet applicable criteria to act as their legal guardian, who allows the single custodial parent to live in their home;

(c) The department determines that the single custodial parent or the minor child is being or has been subjected to serious physical or emotional harm, sexual abuse, or exploitation in the residence of the single custodial parent's own parent or legal guardian;

(d) The department determines that substantial evidence exists of an act or failure to act that presents an imminent or serious harm to the single custodial parent or the minor child if the single custodial parent and the minor child lived in the same residence with the individual's parent or legal guardian; or

(e) The department otherwise determines that it is in the best interest of the minor child to waive these requirements with respect to the single custodial parent or the minor child.

2. In circumstances in which the department determines that an individual does not have an appropriate living arrangement in accordance with subsection 1 of this section, the division shall assist the individual in obtaining a second chance home, maternity home, or other appropriate adult-supervised supportive living arrangement. Thereafter, the division shall require the individual and any child who is in the care of the individual to reside in such home or other living arrangement as a condition of the individual's continued eligibility for benefits through the work first program.

Section 21. 1. Work activities for the work first program shall be those activities which are set forth in The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended, or those activities which are permitted under a federally approved waiver granted to the department of social services. The department shall promulgate such regulations as are necessary to implement and enforce work activities requirements, including waiver exemptions that are inconsistent with the requirements of The Personal Responsibility and

2. An individual who is a single parent head of household of one or more children of any age who is himself or herself not yet twenty years of age is deemed to be engaged in work for a month if the individual:

(1) Maintains satisfactory attendance, during the month, in a secondary school or a course of study leading to a certificate of general equivalence; or

(2) Participates in education directly related to employment.

3. The department shall establish a system of sanctions that shall be imposed regarding an individual's continued qualification for benefits through the work first program in circumstances in which the individual fails or refuses to cooperate in participating in work activities as set forth in this section. Such system of sanctions shall set forth the types of benefits for which a sanctioned individual will be disqualified and the period of time that such sanctioned individual will remain disqualified from receiving such benefits. The state shall reduce the amount of assistance otherwise payable to the family pro rata with respect to any period during a month in which the individual so refuses to engage in work requirements in accordance with The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended, subject to good cause and other exceptions as the state might establish. Imposition of such sanctions shall be subject to good cause and such other exceptions as are established by the department. However, sanctions may not be imposed for benefits provided through the Medicaid for pregnant women program or the Medicaid for children program as set forth in section 208.151, RSMo. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 208.180, RSMo, the department may establish that an individual who has been sanctioned for any period of time for failure to cooperate with work activities requirements shall be able to receive benefits through the work first program only after he or she is in compliance on a monthly basis with work activities requirements.

Section 22. 1. The department of social services through the families work program shall establish the "Child Support Assurance Program". The child support assurance program shall provide benefits to children who meet specific eligibility requirements.

2. The department will aggressively collect child support and intensify its efforts consistently with the new child support requirements of The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended.

3. The state shall provide monthly child support assurance money payment benefits to needy children in all appropriate circumstances and it will also intensify its efforts to ensure that families obtain self-sufficiency.

4. In order to participate in the child support assurance program:

(1) The custodial parent shall be employed and have an earned, gross income that does not exceed one hundred percent of the federal poverty limit by household size;

(2) The department ascertains that the noncustodial parent has a legal order to pay child support;

5. The department shall design the necessary administrative procedures for the timely review of custodial parent earnings;

6. When a custodial parent is receiving a cash grant from the department to support the family, and the custodial parent begins and receives earnings from an employer, if the household has a legal order to establish child support, child support assurance shall be initiated for the children. When the household's earning exceeds the standard of need for cash assistance, they will transition to the below poverty level child support assurance.

7. If the funds at the disposal or which may be obtained by the department of social services for the payment of child support assurance program benefits shall at any time become insufficient to pay the full amount thereof, the amount of any payment to or on behalf of each of such persons shall be reduced pro rata in proportion to such deficiency in the total amount available or to become available for such purpose.

Section 23. 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, an adult receiving benefits through the work first program may fill a vacant employment position in order to engage in work activities. An adult receiving benefits through the work first program, who fills a vacant employment position in order to engage in work activities must be guaranteed a wage equivalent to that of the minimum wage.

2. A supplemental wage assistance employment position made available pursuant to this section may not be created as the result of, or may not result in, any of the following:

- (1) Displacement or partial displacement of current employees, including but not limited to, overtime currently being worked by employees, a reduction in non-overtime work hours, wages or employment;
- (2) The filling of positions which would otherwise be promotional opportunities for current employees;
- (3) A strike, lock out or other bona fide labor dispute or violation of any existing collective bargaining agreements between employees and employers; or
- (4) The filling of a position created by termination, layoff or reduction in workforce.

3. An individual who believes that he or she has been adversely affected by a violation of this subsection or the organization that is duly authorized to represent the employee, shall be afforded an opportunity to grieve it. The employee or his/her organization must first attempt to remedy the alleged violation through a meeting with the employer within thirty days of the request for the meeting. If the complaint is not resolved to the satisfaction of the employee, he/she may appeal to the Missouri State Department of Labor and Industrial Relations. The hearing must be conducted in accordance with rules and notification requirements adopted by Missouri department of labor and a decision must be rendered within forty-five days of the hearing. If there is an existing grievance procedure in a collective bargaining agreement, it must be followed. Remedies shall include reinstatement, retroactive pay and benefits.

4. Nothing in this section shall preempt or supersede any provision of state law that provides greater protection for employees from job displacement.

Section 24. 1. There is hereby established in each office of the department of social services which takes applications for work first assistance or joint office when co-located with another agency, a direct placement program. The department shall identify which case worker or case managers will participate in the program. Participation shall be voluntary. The case workers and case managers together with the office director or designee, shall identify employers or job vacancies which recipients may be referred to for interviews and possible employment.

2. Each self sufficiency pact shall identify a time when the recipient will be referred to the direct placement program. Any recipient referred to the direct placement program who refuses to go for or does not attend an interview established by a case worker or manager, or who refuses to accept a job offered by an employer, without good cause, shall be sanctioned according to the provisions of subsection 3 of section 21.

3. Each case worker participating in the direct placement program shall be eligible for a bonus plan, hereby established. The provisions of chapter 36, RSMo, to the contrary notwithstanding, each participating employee shall, subject to appropriations, receive a bonus of one hundred dollars for each successful recipient above the base rate. The maximum bonus paid during any fiscal year shall be two thousand dollars. The bonus shall be paid twice a year. The base rate shall be equal to twenty five percent of the persons, receiving cash assistance funded by the Missouri families work program, in the eligible employees average monthly case load over the previous twelve months but not less than ten. Successful recipients shall be those recipients of work first assistance who are employed at least thirty hours a week and have retained such employment for at least six months. The department may establish additional requirements relating to employee eligibility or measuring successful recipients, deemed necessary for successful operation of the bonus plan. The department shall request suggestions about the bonus plan from, but not limited to, employees, appropriate union associations or other associations such as the National Eligibility Association and the County Directors Association. The provisions of this subsection shall sunset sixty months following the effective date of this act.

Section 25. 1. The department shall establish "individual development accounts" whereby individuals receiving work first benefits may accumulate assets for specific purposes as defined in The Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, as amended. Any assets accumulated in an individual development account shall not be counted in determining eligibility or benefits for the purpose of work first program or any other cash assistance program operated pursuant to this section.

2. These accounts shall be used for the purpose of enabling individuals to accumulate funds for the following purposes:

(1) Post-secondary educational expenses;

(2) First home purchase; or

(3) Business capitalization.

3. The department of social services is authorized to propose rules and regulations necessary to implement this section only as provided pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo and section 660.017, RSMo.

Section 26. 1. A corporate taxpayer that pays for child care services in Missouri for dependent children of an employee of the taxpayer during the employee's hours of employment may claim a credit against the corporate income tax imposed pursuant to chapter 143, RSMo, in an amount equal to thirty percent of the total expenses, net of any reimbursements, for child care services incurred and paid by the taxpayer in the taxable year. This credit shall apply for those employees that have an annual gross income of twenty-one thousand dollars or less.

2. A corporate taxpayer that operates a child care facility in Missouri, in which at least fifty percent of the children attending the facility are the dependent children of the taxpayer's employees that have an annual gross income of twenty-one thousand dollars or less, may also claim a credit against the corporate income tax imposed pursuant to chapter 143, RSMo, in an amount equal to thirty percent of the net cost of operating a child care facility for the taxable year. If two or more taxpayers share in the cost of operating a child care facility primarily for the dependent children of the taxpayer's employees, that have an annual gross income of twenty-one thousand dollars or less, each corporate taxpayer shall be allowed a credit in relation to the taxpayer's share of the cost of operating the child care facility. Each corporate taxpayer's share of the tax credit shall be determined by dividing the number of the taxpayer's employees' children served by the total number of children served and multiplying the result by the net cost of operating the child care facility. The credit allowed pursuant to this subsection may be taken only if the child care facility is operated under the authority of a license issued by the department of health. For the purposes of this section, the term "net cost" means the cost of operating a child care facility less any amounts collected as fees for use of the facility, any federal tax credits with respect to the facility or its operation and any other payment or reimbursement from any other source other than the credit provided by this section.

3. For the purposes of this section, "dependent children" means natural, adopted, stepchildren, or wards who are under eighteen.

4. The credits provided for by subsections 2 and 3 of this section may only be deducted from the taxpayer's corporate income tax liability for the taxable year in which the expenditure occurred. The credit may not exceed thirty thousand dollars in any taxable year. If the credit amount exceeds the corporate income tax liability, the excess may be carried forward for three consecutive years; provided that in no event shall the annual credit amount exceed thirty thousand dollars.

5. The director of the department of social services shall determine, at least annually, which facilities in this state may be classified as child care facilities as defined in this section. The director of the department of social services may require of a facility seeking to be classified as a child care facility whatever information is reasonably necessary to make such a determination. The director of the department of social services shall classify a facility as a child care facility if such facility meets the requirements set forth in subsections 1 and 2 of this section.

6. The cumulative amount of tax credits which may be claimed by all the taxpayers contributing for child care facilities in any one fiscal year shall not exceed five million dollars.

7. The department of social services shall evaluate and make recommendations regarding the necessity for the creation for other tax credits which may apply to:

(1) Costs paid or incurred by a corporate taxpayer for contributions used to provide child care for employees' children; and

(2) Cost paid or incurred by a corporate taxpayer for contributions used to provide after school, holiday and summer care programs for employees' children.

Section 27. 1. The department in conjunction with community colleges and vocational schools shall develop pilot programs utilizing a coordinated approach to enable people receiving public assistance to obtain an education that leads to permanent full-time employment with benefits while ensuring that they meet the work participation requirements under The 1996 Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act.

2. At least one pilot program shall be established with a community college and at least one with a vocational school. The pilot programs shall include activities in which will count towards the work participation rate such as:

(1) Work/study employment;

(2) Cooperative work experience where students earn units of college credit for their work;

(3) Internships where students obtain practical work experience in the occupational field in which they are training;

(4) Community service programs where students perform community service work in their field of study while earning a stipend for future continued education; and

(5) Work opportunity agreements where students who participate in a work opportunity program with private business are guaranteed employment in the field of their training at the successful completion of their education.

3. Community college and vocational school staff will coordinate services for students.

4. Subsidized child care will be provided while welfare recipients are attending college, vocational school and participating in work activities.

5. The department shall contract for independent evaluation of the pilot programs and report to the legislature annually.

Section 28. 1. In any action challenging any rule promulgated pursuant to the provisions of this act, the agency as defined in section 536.010, RSMo, promulgating such rule shall be required to prove by a preponderance of the evidence that the rule or threatened application of the rule is valid, is authorized by law, is not in conflict with any law and is not arbitrary and capricious.

2. The court shall award reasonable fees and expenses as defined in section 536.085, RSMo, to any party who prevails in such action.

3. All rules promulgated pursuant to the provisions of this section shall expire on August twenty-eighth of the year after the year in which the rule became effective unless the general assembly extends by statute the rule or set of rules beyond that date to a date specified by the general assembly.

4. Any rulemaking authority granted pursuant to the provisions of this act is subject to any rulemaking authority contained in chapter 536, RSMo, including any subsequent amendments to chapter 536, RSMo.

5. The provisions of this section shall terminate if legislation amending the provisions of section 536.024, RSMo, has been signed into law prior to the effective date of this act."; and

No qualified individual shall enter into more than one contractual arrangement with a community partnership organization concurrently.

208.710. 1. The division shall:

(1) Determine and publicly disclose the aggregate amount of cash assistance to be dispersed for work first benefits, and the total costs for administering said assistance as a percentage of said aggregate amount;

(2) Calculate the cash assistance to be distributed to qualified individuals who choose to participate in the program in the same manner as the cash assistance distributed to those individuals who elect not to participate;

(3) Not reduce the monthly cash assistance of those who elect not to participate in the program based upon the amount of moneys transferred to the community partnership program fund pursuant to this section;

208.715. Any community partnership organization, in establishing and maintaining a community partnership program, may:

(1) Charge qualified individuals who choose to participate a fee for the provision of services equal to the amount of the community partnership organization's administrative costs for providing said services not to exceed ten percent of the individuals cash assistance; however, the community partnership organization shall not charge a fee in excess of the cash value of the benefits and services provided to the individual.

(2) Supplement the cash assistance to which a qualified individual, who has entered into an agreement with the community partnership organization pursuant to section 208.707, with additional cash grants, gifts, or services, including, but not limited to, the following:

- (h) Health benefits.

208.717. As a condition of the receipt of cash assistance or any other support provided by a community partnership organization, including those services set out in section 208.715, a community partnership organization may require qualified individuals to meet any additional standards, except that the community partnership organization may not require the qualified individual to:

- (1) Perform any illegal act; or
- (2) Participate in any religious instruction, activity or worship service.

208.720. Qualified individuals who fail to meet the requirements of a duly executed contractual agreement with a community partnership organization shall forfeit to the division, upon a fifteen-day notice to the qualified individual and the division, any increase in their cash assistance provided for in section 208.730, over that which the qualified individual would otherwise receive and shall forfeit to the community partnership organization any other supplemental support provided by the community partnership organization pursuant to section 208.715. The forfeiture shall continue until a qualified individual is deemed by the community partnership organization under terms established by the division or by the division to be in compliance with the provisions of the contractual agreement, or until the contract is terminated by the qualified individual or the community partnership organization pursuant to section 208.722. If a contractual agreement between a community partnership organization and a qualified individual is terminated, the qualified individual shall be deemed to be a nonparticipant in the program for a period of thirty days or until the said qualified individual enters or re-enters into a contractual agreement with a community partnership organization, whichever is less. Those recipients deemed to be nonparticipants due to termination of a contract shall receive cash assistance as otherwise provided for by law.

208.722. Every duly executed contractual agreement between a qualified individual and a community partnership organization shall contain a provision allowing the qualified individual or the community partnership organization the right to rescind the agreement upon thirty days notice to the division and to all parties to the said contractual agreement.

208.725. The division shall require community partnership organizations to meet the following conditions before entering into or re-entering into any contractual agreement with the division for the provision of services pursuant to section 208.715:

Moneys in the community partnership program fund that are not required to meet or augment the community partnership program funding requirements of the state in any fiscal year shall be invested by the state treasurer in the same manner as other surplus funds are invested. Interest, dividends and moneys earned on such investments shall be credited to the community partnership program fund. SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 2

Amend Senate Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 411, Page 1, In the Title, Lines 21 and 22, by striking the following: "complying with federal mandates for child support enforcement" and inserting in lieu the following: "providing certain services to families"; and

"452.150. The father and mother living apart are entitled to an adjudication [of] by the circuit court as to their powers, rights and duties in respect to the custody and control and the services and earnings and management of the property of their unmarried minor children without any preference as between the said father and mother, and neither the father nor the mother has any right paramount to that of the other in respect to the custody and control or the services and earnings or of the management of the property of their said unmarried minor children; pending such adjudication the father or mother who actually has the custody and control of said unmarried minor children shall have the sole right to the custody and control and to the services and earnings and to the management of the property of said unmarried minor children. The mere fact that one parent has actual custody of the minor children at the time of filing shall not create a preference for the court in its adjudication of custody and child support."; and

Further amend said bill, pages 43 to 48, section 452.340, by striking all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"452.340. 1. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, legal separation or child support, the court may order either or both parents owing a duty of support to a child of the marriage to pay an amount reasonable or necessary for his support, including an award retroactive to the date of filing the petition, without regard to marital misconduct, after considering all relevant factors including:

- (1) The financial needs and resources of the child;
- (2) The financial resources and needs of the parents;
- (3) The standard of living the child would have enjoyed had the marriage not been dissolved;
- (4) The physical and emotional condition of the child, and his educational needs; and

(5) The child's physical and legal custody arrangements, including the amount of time the child spends with each parent and the reasonable expenses associated with the physical and legal or physical or legal custody arrangements;

(6) The federal and state tax deductions, exemptions and credits associated with the child.

2. [The obligation of the noncustodial parent to make support payments shall abate, in whole or in part, for such periods of time in excess of thirty consecutive days that the custodial parent has voluntarily relinquished physical custody of a child to the noncustodial parent, notwithstanding any periods of visitation or temporary custody pursuant to a decree of dissolution or legal separation or any modification thereof.] The child support obligation of the parent ordered to pay child support shall abate, in whole or in part as ordered by the court or administrative body, and the court or administrative body may order the other parent to pay child support, during periods of visitation or temporary physical custody ordered by the court or voluntarily relinquished by the parent granted custody which totals thirty consecutive days or more. In [an] a IV-D case, the division of child support enforcement [may] shall determine the amount of the abatement under this subsection for any child support order. In such cases, upon notification by the division, the circuit clerk shall record the amount of abatement on the child support trusteeship record established pursuant to this chapter and chapter 454, RSMo.

3. Unless the circumstances of the child manifestly dictate otherwise and the court specifically so provides, the obligation of a parent to make child support payments shall terminate when the child:

(1) Dies;

(2) Marries;

(3) Enters active duty in the military;

(4) Becomes self-supporting, provided that the custodial parent has relinquished the child from parental control by express or implied consent; or

(5) Reaches age eighteen, unless the provisions of subsection 4 or 5 of this section apply.

4. If the child is physically or mentally incapacitated from supporting himself and insolvent and unmarried, the court may extend the parental support obligation past the child's eighteenth birthday.

5. If when a child reaches age eighteen, he is enrolled in and attending a secondary school program of instruction, the parental support obligation shall continue, if the child continues to attend and satisfactorily progresses toward completion of said program, until the child completes such program or reaches age twenty-one, whichever first occurs. If the child is enrolled in an institution of vocational or higher education not later than October first following graduation from a secondary school or completion of a graduation equivalence degree and so long as the child [continues to attend] enrolls for and completes at least ten hours of classes each term at an [such] institution of vocational or higher education and achieves grades sufficient to re-enroll at such institution, the parental support obligation shall continue until the child completes his education, or until the child reaches the age of twenty-two, whichever first occurs. To remain eligible for such continued parental support, the child shall submit to each parent a transcript provided by the institution of vocational or higher education which includes the courses the child is enrolled in and has completed for each term, the grades and credits received for each such course, and the courses which the child is enrolled in for the upcoming term and the number of credits for each such course. If the circumstances of the child manifestly dictate, the court may waive the October first deadline for enrollment required by this subsection. If the child is enrolled in such an institution, the child or obligated parent may petition the court to amend the order to direct the obligated parent to make the payments directly to the child. As used in this section, an "institution of vocational education" means any postsecondary training or schooling for which the student is assessed a fee and attends classes regularly. "Higher education" means any junior college, college, or university at which the child attends classes regularly.

6. At the parent's option, a parent may pay one-half of the college room, board, tuition, mandatory fees and book expenses of the child in lieu of child support during the months when a child attends school, if such child is enrolled as a full-time student and living away from the family residence for a majority of the school year, unless provisions for payment of college expenses are specified in the parenting plan or court order.

7. The general assembly finds and declares that it is the public policy of this state to assure children frequent, continuing and meaningful contact with both parents except for cases where the court specifically finds to the contrary. In order to effectuate this public policy, a court with jurisdiction shall enforce visitation, custody and child support orders in the same manner. A court with jurisdiction may abate, in whole or in part, any future obligation of support [or] and may transfer the physical and legal or physical or legal custody of one or more children if it finds[:

(1)] that a [custodial] parent has, without good cause, failed to provide visitation or [temporary] physical and legal or physical or legal custody to the [noncustodial] other parent pursuant to the terms of a [decree] judgment of dissolution, legal separation or modifications thereof[; and

(2) That the noncustodial parent seeking relief is current in payment of all support obligations pursuant to the terms of a decree of dissolution, legal separation or modifications thereof]. The court may also award reasonable [attorney] expenses, attorney's fees and court costs incurred by [to] the prevailing party.

[7.] 8. Not later than October 13, 1989, the Missouri supreme court shall have in effect a rule establishing guidelines by which any award of child support shall be made in any judicial or administrative proceeding. Said guidelines shall contain specific, descriptive and numeric criteria which will result in a computation of the support obligation. By July 1, 1996, the guidelines shall address how the amount of child support [should] shall be calculated when an award of joint physical custody results in the child or children spending substantially equal time with both parents. Not later than July 1, 1998, the child support guidelines shall be adjusted by the supreme court and specifically list and explain the relevant factors and assumptions that were used to calculate the child support guidelines including but not limited to how much visitation or temporary physical custody the parent ordered to pay child support is assumed to have. Any rule made pursuant to this subsection shall be reviewed by the promulgating body not less than once every [four] three years to ensure that its application results in the determination of appropriate child support award amounts.

[8.] 9. Beginning October 13, 1989, there shall be a rebuttable presumption, in any judicial or administrative proceeding for the award of child support, that the amount of the award which would result from the application of the guidelines established pursuant to subsection [7] 8 of this section is the correct amount of child support to be awarded. A written finding or specific finding on the record in a judicial or administrative proceeding that the application of the guidelines would be unjust or inappropriate in a particular case, after considering all relevant factors, including the factors set out in subsection 1 of this section, is required if requested by a party and shall be sufficient to rebut the presumption in the case. The written finding or specific finding on the record shall detail the specific relevant factors that required a deviation from the application of the guidelines.

[9.] 10. Under this or any other chapter, when a court determines the amount owed by a parent for support provided to his child by another person prior to the date of filing of a petition requesting support, or when the director of the division of child support enforcement establishes the amount of state debt due under subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of section 454.465, RSMo, the court or director shall use the guidelines established under subsection [7] 8 of this section. The amount of child support resulting from the application of the guidelines shall be applied retroactively for a period prior to the establishment of a support order and the length of the period of retroactivity shall be left to the discretion of the court or director. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that the amount resulting from application of the guidelines under subsection [7] 8 of this section constitutes the amount owed by the parent for the period prior to the date of the filing of the petition for support or the period for which state debt is being established. In applying the guidelines to determine a retroactive support amount, when information as to average monthly income is available, the court or director may use the average monthly income of the noncustodial parent, as averaged over the period of retroactivity, in determining the amount of presumed child support owed for the period of retroactivity. The court or director may enter a different amount in a particular case upon finding, after consideration of all relevant factors, including the factors set out in subsection 1 of this section, that there is sufficient cause to rebut the presumed amount."; and

"452.355. 1. Unless otherwise indicated, the court from time to time after considering all relevant factors including the financial resources of both parties, the merits of the case and the actions of the parties, may order a party to pay a reasonable amount for the cost to the other party of maintaining or defending any proceeding under sections 452.300 to 452.415 and for attorney's fees, including sums for legal services rendered and costs incurred prior to the commencement of the proceeding or after entry of judgment, or the court may order a reasonable amount for the cost of maintaining or defending any proceeding under sections 452.300 to 452.415 and for attorney's fees to be paid out of the marital or separate assets which are the subject of the proceedings. The court may order that the amount be paid directly to the attorney, who may enforce the order in his name.

2. In any proceeding in which the nonpayment of child support is an issue under the provisions of a temporary or permanent court order or decree, if the court finds that the obligor has failed, without good cause, to comply with such order or decree to pay the child support, the court shall order the obligor to pay a reasonable amount for the cost of the suit to the obligee, including sums for legal services. The court may order that the amount be paid directly to the attorney, who may enforce the order in his name.

3. For purposes of this section, an "obligor" is a person owing a duty of support and an "obligee" is a person to whom a duty of support is owed.

4. For purposes of this section, "good cause" includes any substantial reason why the defendant is unable to pay the child support as ordered. Good cause does not exist if the defendant purposely maintains his inability to pay."; and

Further amend said bill, page 60, section 452.370, lines 10 to 28, by striking all of said lines; and

Further amend said bill, page 61, section 452.370, lines 1 to 26, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"452.370. 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6 of section 452.325, the provisions of any decree respecting maintenance or support may be modified only upon a showing of changed circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the terms unreasonable. In a proceeding for modification of any child support or maintenance award, the court, in determining whether or not a substantial change in circumstances has occurred, shall consider all financial resources of both parties, including the extent to which the reasonable expenses of either party are, or should be, shared by a spouse or other person with whom he or she [cohabits] resides, and the earning capacity of a party who is not employed. If the application of the child support guidelines and criteria set forth in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules to the financial circumstances of the parties would result in a change of child support from the existing amount by twenty percent or more, then a prima facie showing has been made of a change of circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the present terms unreasonable, if the existing amount was based upon the presumed amount under child support guidelines.

2. When the party seeking modification has met the burden of proof set forth in subsection 1 of this section, then the child support shall be determined in conformity with criteria set forth in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules.

3. Unless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree, the obligation to pay future statutory maintenance is terminated upon the death of either party or the remarriage of the party receiving maintenance.

4. Unless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree, provisions for the support of a child are terminated by emancipation of the child. The custodial parent shall have the duty to notify the noncustodial parent of the child's emancipation and failing to do so the custodial parent shall be liable to the noncustodial parent for child support paid, plus interest, to the custodial parent following emancipation of a minor child.

5. In any case wherein a parent has made an assignment of support rights to the division of family services on behalf of the state as a condition of eligibility for benefits under the aid to families with dependent children program and either party initiates a motion to modify the support obligation by reducing it, the state of Missouri shall be named as a party to the motion. The state shall be served with a copy of the motion by sending it by certified mail to the director of the division of child support enforcement."; and

"452.375. 1. As used in this section, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

(1) "Joint legal custody" means that the parents share the decision-making rights, responsibilities, and authority relating to the health, education and welfare of the child, and, unless allocated, apportioned, or decreed, the parents shall confer with one another in the exercise of decision-making rights, responsibilities, and authority;

(2) "Joint physical custody" means an order awarding each of the parents significant periods of time during which a child resides with or is under the care and supervision of each of the parents. Joint physical custody shall be shared by the parents in such a way as to assure the child of frequent [and], continuing and meaningful contact with both parents.

2. The court shall determine physical and legal custody in accordance with the best interests of the child. The court shall consider all relevant factors including:

(1) The wishes of the child's parents as to his physical and legal or physical or legal custody;

(2) The wishes of a child as to his physical and legal or physical or legal custodian;

(3) The interaction and interrelationship of the child with his parents, his siblings, and any other person who may significantly affect the child's best interests;

(4) The child's adjustment to his home, school, and community;

(5) The mental and physical health of all individuals involved, including any history of abuse of any individuals involved. If the court finds that a pattern of domestic violence has occurred, and, if the court also finds that awarding physical and legal or physical or legal custody to the abusive parent is in the best [interest] interests of the child, then the court shall enter written findings of fact and conclusions of law. Physical and legal or physical or legal custody and visitation rights shall be ordered in a manner that best protects the child and the parent or other family or household member who is the victim of domestic violence from any further harm;

(6) The needs of the child for a continuing relationship with both parents and the ability and willingness of parents to actively perform their functions as mother and father for the needs of the child;

(7) The intention of either parent to relocate [his] that parent's residence outside the state or more than fifty miles from the current residence of the child; and

(8) Which parent is more likely to allow the child frequent, continuing and meaningful contact with the other parent.

3. The court shall not award physical and legal or physical or legal custody of a child to a parent if such parent has been found guilty of, or pled guilty to, a felony violation of chapter 566, RSMo, when the child was the victim, or a violation of section 568.020, RSMo, when the child was the victim.

4. The general assembly finds and declares that it is the public policy of this state to assure children frequent, continuing and meaningful contact with both parents after the parents have separated or dissolved their marriage except for cases where the court specifically finds to the contrary, and that it is in the public interest to encourage parents to share decision-making rights and responsibilities of child rearing. In order to effectuate this policy, the court shall determine the physical and legal or physical or legal custody arrangement which will best assure that parents share such decision-making responsibility and authority and such frequent, continuing and meaningful contact between the child and each parent, as is indicated in the best interests of the child under all relevant circumstances.

5. Prior to awarding the appropriate physical and legal custody arrangement in the best interest of the child, the court shall consider each of the following as follows:

(1) Joint physical and joint legal custody to both parents, which shall be the preferred custodial arrangement and which shall not be denied solely for the reason that one parent opposes a joint physical and joint legal custody award. The burden of coming forward with evidence that joint physical and joint legal custody is not in the best interests of the child shall be upon the parent opposing an award of joint physical and joint legal custody. In the event the court finds that an award of joint physical and joint legal custody is not in the child's best interests, the court shall, if requested by a party, enter a written finding detailing the specific relevant factors that made an award of joint physical and joint legal custody not in the child's best interests and shall specify the custodial arrangements which the court finds are in the child's best interests;

(2) Sole physical and legal or physical or legal custody to either parent; or

(3) Third party physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation:

(a) When the court finds that each parent is unfit, unsuitable, or unable to be a physical and legal or physical or legal custodian, or the welfare of the child requires, and it is in the best interests of the child, then physical and legal or physical or legal custody, temporary physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation may be awarded to any other person or persons deemed by the court to be suitable and able to provide an adequate and stable environment for the child. Before the court awards physical and legal or physical or legal custody, temporary physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation to a third person under this subdivision, the court shall make that person a party to the action;

(b) Under the provisions of this subsection, any person may petition the court to intervene as a party in interest at any time as provided by supreme court rule.

6. Unless otherwise decreed, parents are obligated to exchange information with one another concerning the health, education and welfare of the child. In a decree of sole legal custody, a court may provide that parents shall confer with one another in the exercise of decision-making rights, responsibilities and authority. Upon a finding by the court that either parent has refused to exchange information with one another, which shall include but not be limited to the health, education and welfare of the child, the court shall order the parent to comply immediately and to pay to the prevailing party a sum equal to the prevailing party's cost associated with obtaining the requested information, which shall include but not be limited to attorney's fees and court costs.

7. As between the parents of a child, no preference may be given to either parent in the awarding of custody because of that parent's age, sex, or financial status, nor because of the age or sex of the child.

8. Any decree providing for joint physical and joint legal custody or joint physical or joint legal custody shall include a specific written plan setting forth the terms of such custody. Such plan may be suggested by both parents acting in concert, or one parent acting individually, or if neither of the foregoing occurs, the plan shall be provided by the court. The plan may include a provision for mediation of disputes. In all cases, the joint custody plan approved and ordered by the court shall be in the court's discretion and shall be in the best interests of the child.

9. Unless [a noncustodial] the parent without physical custody has been denied visitation rights under section 452.400, access to records and information pertaining to a minor child, including, but not limited to, medical, dental, and school records, shall not be denied to [a] such parent [because the parent is not the child's custodial parent]. If [a noncustodial] the parent without physical custody has been granted restricted or supervised visitation because the court has found that the [custodial] parent with physical custody or the child has been the victim of domestic violence, as defined in section 455.200, RSMo, by the [noncustodial] parent without physical custody, the court may order that the reports and records made available pursuant to this subsection not include the address of the [custodial] parent with physical custody or the child.

10. If any individual, professional, public or private institution or organization denies access or fails to provide or disclose any and all records and information, including, but not limited to, past and present dental, medical and school records pertaining to a minor child, to either [the custodial or noncustodial] parent upon the written request of such parent, the court shall, upon its finding that the individual, professional, public or private institution or organization denied such request without good cause, order that party to comply immediately with such request and to pay to the prevailing party all costs incurred, including, but not limited to, attorney's fees and court costs associated with obtaining the requested information.

11. An award of joint physical and joint legal custody or joint physical or joint legal custody does not preclude an award of child support pursuant to section 452.340 and applicable supreme court rules. The court shall consider the factors contained in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court rules in determining an amount reasonable or necessary for the support of the child.

12. If the court finds that domestic violence has occurred, the court shall make specific findings of fact to show that the physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation arrangement ordered by the court best protects the child and the parent or other family or household member who is the victim of domestic violence from any further harm.

13. A non-custodial parent, grandparent or great grandparent who was convicted of an illegal sex act under chapter 566, RSMo, or section 568.020, RSMo, against a victim under the age of eighteen (18) shall not be allowed visitation until the offender is discharged from incarceration, parole or mandatory supervised release and the offender successfully completes a treatment program approved by the court.

452.377. A person entitled to the custody of a child shall not [change] relocate the residence of the child to another state, or remove the child from this state for a period of time exceeding ninety days, or relocate the residence of the child more than fifty miles from the current residence of the child except upon order of the court or with the written consent of the [parties] persons with physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation rights. Where [the noncustodial] a person has been given physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation rights by the custody decree, such court permission may be granted only after notice to the person having [visitation] such rights and after opportunity for hearing. When addressing the issue of relocation, the court shall consider all relevant factors including but not limited to:

(1) Is the relocation in the best interest of the child in relation to each parent;

(2) Will the relocation unreasonably interfere with any person's physical and legal or physical or legal custody or visitation rights; and

(3) Is there an agreement and plan to continue a relationship with the other parent.

Violation of the provisions of this section or a court order under this section [may] shall be deemed a change of circumstance under section 452.410, allowing the court to modify the prior custody decree.

452.400. 1. A parent not granted custody of the child is entitled to reasonable visitation rights unless the court finds, after a hearing, that visitation would endanger the child's physical health or impair his emotional development. [The court shall define the noncustodial parent's visitation periods in detail at the request of either party.] The court shall enter an order specifically detailing the visitation or temporary physical custody rights of the parent without physical custody. In determining the granting of visitation rights, the court shall consider evidence of domestic violence. If the court finds that domestic violence has occurred, the court may find that granting visitation to the abusive party is in the best interests of the child. The court shall not grant visitation to the parent not granted custody if such parent has been found guilty of or pled guilty to a felony violation of chapter 566, RSMo, when the child was the victim, or a violation of section 568.020, RSMo, when the child was the victim. The court shall consider the parent's history of inflicting, or tendency to inflict, physical harm, bodily injury, assault, or the fear of physical harm, bodily injury, or assault on other persons and shall grant visitation in a manner that best protects the child and the parent or other family or household member who is the victim of domestic violence from any further harm. The court, if requested by a party, shall make specific findings of fact to show that the visitation arrangements made by the court best protects the child or the parent or other family or household member who is the victim of domestic violence from any further harm.

2. The court may modify an order granting or denying visitation rights whenever modification would serve the best interests of the child, but the court shall not restrict a parent's visitation rights unless it finds that the visitation would endanger the child's physical health or impair his emotional development. When a court restricts a parent's visitation rights or when a court orders supervised visitation because of allegations of abuse or domestic violence, a showing of proof of treatment and rehabilitation shall be made to the court before unsupervised visitation may be ordered. "Supervised visitation", as used in this section, is visitation which takes place in the presence of a responsible adult appointed by the court for the protection of the child.

3. The court shall mandate compliance with its order by both [the custodial parent] parents and the child. [In the event of noncompliance,] If a parent has been granted visitation rights or physical and legal or physical or legal custody rights or temporary physical custody rights, and such rights are denied or interfered with by the other parent, the [noncustodial] parent having visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody rights or temporary physical custody rights may file a motion for contempt[.] or a motion for a family access order. The motion for a family access order may be made on a simple verified pro se form which shall be supplied by the clerk of the court and which shall not require the assistance of legal counsel. The cost of filing such motion shall be the standard court cost for such a filing plus a thirty-five dollar family access fee. Upon filing the motion, the presiding judge shall immediately assign a circuit, associate circuit or family court judge or commissioner to hear the motion.

4. The assigned court, upon good cause shown, shall immediately issue an order to show cause, unless there is a pending motion alleging that a family access order is not in the best interest of the child and will endanger the child's physical health or impair the child's emotional development, and shall set a time and place for hearing on the order to show cause which shall not be more than fourteen days after the service of the motion for a family access order and order to show cause.

5. Upon a finding by the court pursuant to a motion for a family access order that its order for visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody or temporary physical custody has not been complied with, without good cause, the court shall [define the noncustodial parent's visitation in detail and shall exercise its discretion in providing] provide a remedy, which shall include, but not be limited to, a compensatory period of visitation or [temporary] physical custody at a time convenient for the [noncustodial] parent denied visitation or temporary physical custody or physical custody not less than the period of time denied, [together with] and if requested by a party a mandatory judgment in an amount not less than the reasonable expenses, attorneys fees and court costs actually incurred by the [noncustodial] parent as a result of the denial of visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody or temporary physical custody. Such order may include a provision that the sheriff or other law enforcement officer shall enforce the rights of either parent to custody or visitation, as the case may be, unless the court issues a subsequent order pursuant to chapters 210, 211 or 455, RSMo, to limit or deny either parent's access to the child.

[4.] 6. The reasonable expenses, attorney's fees and court costs of a proceeding to enforce visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody rights shall, if requested by a party, be assessed against the parent who [unreasonably], without good cause, denies or interferes with visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody or temporary physical custody. In addition, the court may utilize any and all powers relating to contempt conferred on it by law or rule of the Missouri supreme court.

7. In no case shall final disposition of a motion for a family access order filed pursuant to this section take place more than sixty days after the service of such motion. Final disposition shall not include appellate review.

8. The intentional denial or interference with visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody or temporary physical custody of a child from the other parent, without good cause, shall constitute a change of circumstances which may justify a modification of custody.

9. For purposes of supreme court rule 51, motions filed pursuant to this section shall not be deemed to be an independent civil action if the judge or commissioner designated to rule on the motion is the same judge or commissioner that entered the order which is the subject of a motion for a family access order or contempt.

10. A violation of the terms and conditions of a family access order shall be a class A misdemeanor, unless the person has twice previously plead guilty to or been found guilty of violating a family access order within five years of the date of the subsequent violation, in which case the subsequent violation shall be a class D felony.

452.401. 1. The family access fee of thirty-five dollars established in section 452.400 shall be charged and collected by every clerk of the court in this state. The court may waive such fee, in whole or in part, upon motion of the party and for good cause shown. Twenty-five dollars of such fee shall be forwarded monthly by each clerk of the court to the state director of revenue, and the fees so forwarded shall be deposited by the director of revenue in the state treasury into the Missouri family access fund as designated in subsection 2 of this section. Ten dollars of such fee shall remain with the court to cover court costs associated with the filing of the motion.

2. "The Missouri Family Access Fund" is hereby established in the state treasury. At least quarterly, the state treasurer shall allocate moneys in the Missouri family access fund to the state court administrator for disbursement as directed in this section. Moneys deposited into the fund shall include the designated funds received from the pro se fee established in section 452.400, and any other amounts which may be received from grants, gifts, bequests, the state or federal government, or any other source. Moneys in the fund shall be devoted to the payment of expenditures associated with the review of child support guidelines and to costs associated with the increase in new causes of actions involving custody and visitation issues.

3. Any unexpended balance in the fund at the end of the fiscal year shall be exempt from the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, relating to the transfer of unexpended balances to the general revenue fund.

452.405. 1. Except as otherwise ordered by the court or agreed by the parties in writing at the time of the custody decree, the legal custodian may determine the child's upbringing, including his education, health care, and religious training, unless the court after hearing[,] finds, upon motion by the [noncustodial] parent without legal custody, that in the absence of a specific limitation of the legal custodian's authority the child's physical health would be endangered or his emotional development impaired.

2. The legal custodian shall not exercise legal custody in such a way as to detrimentally impact the other parent's visitation or physical and legal or physical or legal custody rights.

[2.] 3. The court may order the county welfare office or the county juvenile officer to exercise continuing supervision over the case.

452.411. If either parent of a child changes his residence to another state, such change of residence of the parent shall be deemed a change of circumstances under section 452.410, allowing the court to modify a prior physical and legal or physical or legal custody decree.

452.416. 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, whenever a parent in emergency military service has a change in income due to such military service, such change in income shall be considered a change in circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the terms of any order or judgment for child support or visitation unreasonable.

2. Upon receipt of a notarized letter from the commanding officer of a noncustodial parent in emergency military service which contains the date of the commencement of emergency military service and the compensation of the parent in emergency military service, the director of the division of child support enforcement shall take appropriate action to seek modification of the order or judgment of child support in accordance with the guidelines and criteria set forth in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules. Such notification to the director shall constitute an application for services under section 454.425, RSMo.

3. Upon return from emergency military service the parent shall notify the director of the division of child support enforcement who shall take appropriate action to seek modification of the order or judgment of child support in accordance with the guidelines and criteria set forth in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules. Such notification to the director shall constitute an application for services under section 454.425, RSMo.

4. As used in this section, the term "emergency military service" means that the parent is a member of a reserve unit or national guard unit which is called into active military duty for a period of more than thirty days.

452.600. 1. The circuit courts [of the fifth, sixth, twenty-third, twenty-ninth, thirtieth, thirty-first and thirty-eighth judicial circuits], by local rule, [may] shall establish a program of educational sessions for parties to actions for dissolution of marriage or in postjudgment proceedings involving custody or support, concerning the effects of dissolution of marriage on minor children of the marriage. In lieu of establishing such a program, the circuit court may, by local rule, designate a similar program of educational sessions offered by a private or public entity.

2. By July 1, 1998, the Missouri supreme court shall have in effect guidelines for the program of educational sessions. The reasonable expenses of the educational sessions shall be paid by the parties.

452.605. In an action for dissolution of marriage involving minor children, or in a postjudgment proceeding wherein custody [or support] of minor children is to be determined by the court, [the court may on its own motion] the court shall, except for good cause, order the parties, including the minor children, to attend educational sessions concerning the effects of custody and the dissolution of marriage on children[, if the court finds that doing so would be in the best interests of the minor children]. As used in this section "good cause" includes, but is not limited to, situations where the parties have stipulated to the legal and physical custody of the child or where the safety of a party or child may be endangered by attending the educational sessions."; and

SENATE SUBSTITUTE FOR

WHEREAS, the lack of adequate office space for legislators and staff along with the lack of adequate facilities to conduct hearings, meetings and other legislative functions at our State Capitol has been an issue of major and growing concern for many years; and

WHEREAS, in 1995, Sverdrup Facilities Corporation and its consultants published a comprehensive State Office Space Study and Master Plan after having been requested by the State of Missouri Office of Administration to develop a strategic plan for accommodating space needs for non-institutional offices statewide through Fiscal Year 2004; and

WHEREAS, one of the primary goals of this strategic plan was to address those issues which inhibit the efficient delivery of government services to the citizens of the state; and

WHEREAS, in this State Office Space Study and Master Plan, a specific reference to the State Capitol declared "The State Capitol Building, with the exception of the Senate and House chambers, is suffering from many ill-conceived renovations and overcrowding", and "Many spaces are poorly ventilated, lighted and appointed creating an uncomfortable and unsophisticated office environment"; and

WHEREAS, one short-term measure that has been implemented to address the problem of inadequate facilities at the Capitol is the appropriation of significant sums of money for the renovation of existing offices that are much too small and crowded to begin with, and which can gain relatively little in the way of becoming more livable and functional after the expenditure of this money; and

WHEREAS, legislators and their staff deserve to work in a safe, comfortable, and adequately-spaced office environment in order to provide the most efficient and effective service possible for the people of Missouri; and legislators, staff, and private citizens are entitled to conduct state business in a safe and comfortable environment when meeting in the various hearing rooms and committee rooms within our State Capitol; and

WHEREAS, expedient measures need to be implemented to provide effective short-term solutions for the problem of overcrowding at the State Capitol; and

WHEREAS, Section 8.460, Revised Statutes of Missouri, subsection 1, states "The board of public buildings may build an office building in the City of Jefferson to house state offices which are presently located in rented quarters within the county of Cole, and they shall remove as many offices from the State Capitol building as the general assembly deems necessary to provide adequate space for its members"; and

WHEREAS, Section 8.015, Revised Statutes of Missouri, gives the Senate Administration Committee exclusive control over the Senate Chamber, the Senate Committee rooms, the offices of the members of the Senate at the State Capitol, and all other rooms and offices of the State Capitol designed for or assigned by the Board of Public Buildings to the use of the members and officers of the Senate, and states that "No use of any of said quarters other than by the Senate, its members or officers shall be made except with the written consent of the Senator or officer occupying the office rooms and upon the order of the accounts committee"; and

"452.340. 1. In a proceeding for dissolution of marriage, legal separation or child support, the court may order either or both parents owing a duty of support to a child of the marriage to pay an amount reasonable or necessary for his support, including an award retroactive to the date of filing the petition, without regard to marital misconduct, after considering all relevant factors including:

(1) The financial needs and resources of the child;

(2) The financial resources and needs of the parents;

(3) The standard of living the child would have enjoyed had the marriage not been dissolved;

(4) The physical and emotional condition of the child, and his educational needs; and

(5) The child's physical and legal custody arrangements, including the amount of time the child spends with each parent and the reasonable expenses associated with the physical and legal or physical or legal custody arrangements.

2. The obligation of the [noncustodial] parent ordered to make support payments shall abate, in whole or in part[,]:

(1) For such periods of time in excess of thirty consecutive days that the [custodial] other parent has voluntarily relinquished physical custody of a child to the [noncustodial] parent ordered to pay child support, notwithstanding any periods of visitation or temporary physical and legal or physical or legal custody pursuant to a [decree] judgment of dissolution or legal separation or any modification thereof[.];

(2) For such periods of time twenty-eight consecutive days or longer, pursuant to a decree of dissolution or legal separation or any modification thereof, during which the parent ordered to pay child support is the primary caretaker of any child subject to such decree, notwithstanding any periods of visitation by the other parent during such periods, unless the court has already considered or provided for the visitation in establishing or determining the child support obligations.

In [an] a IV-D case, the division of child support enforcement may determine the amount of the abatement under this subsection for any child support order. In such cases, upon notification by the division, the circuit clerk shall record the amount of abatement on the child support trusteeship record established pursuant to this chapter and chapter 454, RSMo.

3. Unless the circumstances of the child manifestly dictate otherwise and the court specifically so provides, the obligation of a parent to make child support payments shall terminate when the child:

(1) Dies;

(2) Marries;

(3) Enters active duty in the military;

(4) Becomes self-supporting, provided that the custodial parent has relinquished the child from parental control by express or implied consent; or

(5) Reaches age eighteen, unless the provisions of subsection 4 or 5 of this section apply.

4. If the child is physically or mentally incapacitated from supporting himself and insolvent and unmarried, the court may extend the parental support obligation past the child's eighteenth birthday.

5. If when a child reaches age eighteen, he is enrolled in and attending a secondary school program of instruction, the parental support obligation shall continue, if the child continues to attend and satisfactorily progresses toward completion of said program, until the child completes such program or reaches age twenty-one, whichever first occurs. If the child is enrolled in an institution of vocational or higher education not later than October first following graduation from a secondary school or completion of a graduation equivalence degree and so long as the child [continues to attend] enrolls for and completes at least twelve hours of classes each term at an [such] institution of vocational or higher education and achieves grades sufficient to re-enroll at such institution, the parental support obligation shall continue until the child completes his education, or until the child reaches the age of twenty-two, whichever first occurs. To remain eligible for such continued parental support, the child shall submit to each parent a transcript provided by the institution of vocational or higher education which includes the courses the child is enrolled in and has completed for each term, the grades and credits received for each such course, and the courses which the child is enrolled in for the upcoming term and the number of credits for each such course. If the circumstances of the child manifestly dictate, the court may waive the October first deadline for enrollment required by this subsection. If the child is enrolled in such an institution, the child or obligated parent may petition the court to amend the order to direct the obligated parent to make the payments directly to the child. As used in this section, an "institution of vocational education" means any postsecondary training or schooling for which the student is assessed a fee and attends classes regularly. "Higher education" means any junior college, college, or university at which the child attends classes regularly.

6. At the parent's option, a parent may pay one-half of the college room, board, tuition, mandatory fees and book expenses of the child in lieu of child support during the months when a child attends school, if such child is enrolled as a full-time student and living away from the family residence for a majority of the school year, unless provisions for payment of college expenses are specified in the parenting plan or court order.

7. The general assembly finds and declares that it is the public policy of this state to assure children frequent, continuing and meaningful contact with both parents except for cases where the court specifically finds to the contrary. In order to effectuate this public policy, a court with jurisdiction shall enforce visitation, custody and child support orders in the same manner. A court with jurisdiction may abate, in whole or in part, any future obligation of support [or] and may transfer the physical and legal or physical or legal custody of one or more children if it finds[:

(1)] That a [custodial] parent has, without good cause, failed to provide visitation or [temporary] physical and legal or physical or legal custody to the [noncustodial] other parent pursuant to the terms of a [decree] judgment of dissolution, legal separation or modifications thereof[; and

(2) That the noncustodial parent is current in payment of all support obligations pursuant to the terms of a decree of dissolution, legal separation or modifications thereof]. The court may also award reasonable [attorney] expenses, attorney's fees [to] and court costs incurred by the prevailing party.

[7.] 8. Not later than October 13, 1989, the Missouri supreme court shall have in effect a rule establishing guidelines by which any award of child support shall be made in any judicial or administrative proceeding. Said guidelines shall contain specific, descriptive and numeric criteria which will result in a computation of the support obligation. By July 1, 1996, the guidelines shall address how the amount of child support [should] shall be calculated when an award of joint physical custody results in the child or children spending substantially equal time with both parents. Not later than July 1, 1998, the child support guidelines shall be adjusted by the supreme court and specifically list and explain the relevant factors and assumptions that were used to calculate the child support guidelines including but not limited to how much visitation or temporary physical custody the parent ordered to pay child support is assumed to have. Any rule made pursuant to this subsection shall be reviewed by the promulgating body not less than once every [four] three years to ensure that its application results in the determination of appropriate child support award amounts.

[8.] 9. Beginning October 13, 1989, there shall be a rebuttable presumption, in any judicial or administrative proceeding for the award of child support, that the amount of the award which would result from the application of the guidelines established pursuant to subsection [7] 8 of this section is the correct amount of child support to be awarded. A written finding or specific finding on the record in a judicial or administrative proceeding that the application of the guidelines would be unjust or inappropriate in a particular case, after considering all relevant factors, including the factors set out in subsection 1 of this section, is required if requested by a party and shall be sufficient to rebut the presumption in the case. The written finding or specific finding on the record shall detail the specific relevant factors that required a deviation from the application of the guidelines.

[9.] 10. Under this or any other chapter, when a court determines the amount owed by a parent for support provided to his child by another person prior to the date of filing of a petition requesting support, or when the director of the division of child support enforcement establishes the amount of state debt due under subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of section 454.465, RSMo, the court or director shall use the guidelines established under subsection [7] 8 of this section. The amount of child support resulting from the application of the guidelines shall be applied retroactively for a period prior to the establishment of a support order and the length of the period of retroactivity shall be left to the discretion of the court or director. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that the amount resulting from application of the guidelines under subsection [7] 8 of this section constitutes the amount owed by the parent for the period prior to the date of the filing of the petition for support or the period for which state debt is being established. In applying the guidelines to determine a retroactive support amount, when information as to average monthly income is available, the court or director may use the average monthly income of the noncustodial parent, as averaged over the period of retroactivity, in determining the amount of presumed child support owed for the period of retroactivity. The court or director may enter a different amount in a particular case upon finding, after consideration of all relevant factors, including the factors set out in subsection 1 of this section, that there is sufficient cause to rebut the presumed amount."; and

"452.370. 1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6 of section 452.325, the provisions of any decree respecting maintenance or support may be modified only upon a showing of changed circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the terms unreasonable. In a proceeding for modification of any child support or maintenance award, the court, in determining whether or not a substantial change in circumstances has occurred, shall consider all financial resources of both parties, including the extent to which the reasonable expenses of either party are, or should be, shared by a spouse or other person with whom he or she [cohabits] resides, and the earning capacity of a party who is not employed. If the application of the child support guidelines and criteria set forth in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules to the financial circumstances of the parties would result in a change of child support from the existing amount by twenty percent or more, then a prima facie showing has been made of a change of circumstances so substantial and continuing as to make the present terms unreasonable, if the existing amount was based upon the presumed amount under child support guidelines.

2. When the party seeking modification has met the burden of proof set forth in subsection 1 of this section, then the child support shall be determined in conformity with criteria set forth in section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules.

3. Unless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree, the obligation to pay future statutory maintenance is terminated upon the death of either party or the remarriage of the party receiving maintenance.

4. Unless otherwise agreed in writing or expressly provided in the decree, provisions for the support of a child are terminated by emancipation of the child. The custodial parent shall have the duty to notify the noncustodial parent of the child's emancipation and failing to do so the custodial parent shall be liable to the noncustodial parent for child support paid, plus interest, to the custodial parent following emancipation of a minor child.

5. [In any case wherein] If a parent has made an assignment of support rights to the division of family services on behalf of the state as a condition of eligibility for benefits [under] pursuant to the aid to families with dependent children program and either party initiates a motion to modify the support obligation by reducing it, the state of Missouri shall be named as a party to the motion. The state shall be served with a copy of the motion by sending it by certified mail to the director of the division of child support enforcement.

6. The circuit court shall have continuing personal jurisdiction over both the obligee and the obligor of a court order for child support or maintenance for the purpose of modifying such order. Both obligee and obligor shall notify, in writing, the circuit clerk of the court in which the support or maintenance order was entered of any change of mailing address. If a personal service of the motion cannot be had in this state, the motion to modify and notice of hearing shall be served outside the state as provided by supreme court rule 54.14. The order may be modified only as to support or maintenance installments which accrued subsequent to the date of personal service. For the purpose of 42 U.S.C. 666(a)(9)(C), the circuit clerk shall be considered the "appropriate agent" to receive notice of the motion to modify for the obligee or the obligor, but only in those instances in which personal service could not be had in this state.

7. If a responsive pleading raising the issues of custody or visitation is filed in response to a motion to modify child support filed at the request of the division of child support enforcement by a prosecuting attorney or circuit attorney or an attorney under contract with the division, such responsive pleading shall be severed upon request.

8. Notwithstanding any provision of this section which requires a showing of substantial and continuing change in circumstances, in a IV-D case filed pursuant to this section by the division of child support enforcement as provided in section 454.400, RSMo, the court shall modify a support order in accordance with the guidelines and criteria set forth in supreme court rule 88.01 and any regulations thereunder if the amount in the current order differs from the amount which would be awarded in accordance with such guidelines or regulations."; and

"454.496. 1. At any time after the entry of a court order for child support in a case in which support rights have been assigned to the state [of Missouri] pursuant to section 208.040, RSMo, or a case in which support enforcement services are being provided [under] pursuant to section 454.425, the obligated parent, the obligee or the division of child support enforcement may file a motion to modify the existing child support order [under] pursuant to this section, [provided that] if a review has first been completed by the director of child support enforcement pursuant to subdivision (13) of subsection 2 of section 454.400. The motion shall be in writing in a form prescribed by the director, shall set out the reasons for modification and shall state the telephone number and address of the moving party. The motion shall be served in the same manner provided for in subsection 5 of section 454.465 upon the obligated parent, the obligee and the division, as appropriate. In addition, if the support rights are held by the division of family services on behalf of the state, the moving party shall mail a true copy of the motion by certified mail to the person having custody of the dependent child at the last known address of that person. The party against whom the motion is made shall have thirty days either to resolve the matter by stipulated agreement or to serve the moving party and the director, as appropriate, by regular mail with a written response setting forth any objections to the motion and a request for hearing. When requested, the hearing shall be conducted pursuant to section 454.475 by hearing officers designated by the department of social services. In such proceedings, the hearing officers shall have the authority granted to the director pursuant to subsection 6 of section 454.465.

2. When no objections and request for hearing have been served within thirty days, the director, upon proof of service, shall enter an order granting the relief sought. Copies of the order shall be mailed to the parties within fourteen days of issuance.

3. A motion to modify made pursuant to this section shall not stay the director from enforcing and collecting upon the existing order unless so ordered by the court in which the order is docketed.

4. The only support payments which may be modified are payments accruing subsequent to the service of the motion upon all parties to the motion.

5. The party requesting modification shall have the burden of proving that a modification is appropriate [under] pursuant to the provisions of section 452.370, RSMo.

6. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 454.490 to the contrary, an administrative order modifying a court order is not effective until the administrative order is filed with and approved by the court that entered the court order. The court may approve the administrative order if no party affected by the decision has filed a petition for judicial review pursuant to sections 536.100 to 536.140, RSMo. After the thirty-day time period for filing a petition of judicial review pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, has passed, the court shall render its decision within fifteen days. If a petition for judicial review is filed, the court shall review all pleadings and the administrative record, as defined in section 536.130, RSMo, pursuant to section 536.140, RSMo. After such review, the court shall determine if the administrative order complies with [the provisions of] section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules. If it so determines, the court shall make a written finding on the record that the order complies with [the provisions of] section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules and approve the order[. If upon review the court finds that the administrative order should not be approved, the court shall set the matter for trial de novo. If no action is taken by the court within forty-five days of the filing of the administrative order with the court, and no petition for judicial review has been filed pursuant to sections 536.100 to 536.140, RSMo, the court shall be deemed to have made a written finding that the administrative order complies with the provisions of supreme court rule 88.01 and to have approved the administrative order.] or, if after review pursuant to section 536.140, RSMo, the court finds that the administrative order does not comply with supreme court rule 88.01, the court may select any of the remedies set forth in subsection 5 of section 536.140, RSMo. The court shall notify the parties and the division of any setting pursuant to this section.

7. Notwithstanding the venue provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, to the contrary, for the filing of petitions for judicial review of final agency decisions and contested cases, the venue for the filing of a petition for judicial review contesting an administrative order entered [under] pursuant to this section modifying a judicial order shall be in the court which entered the judicial order. In such cases in which a petition for judicial review has been filed, the court shall consider the matters raised in the petition and determine if the administrative order complies with section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules. If the court finds that the administrative order should not be approved, the court shall set the matter for trial de novo. The court shall notify the parties and the division of the setting of such proceeding. If the court determines that the matters raised in the petition are without merit and that the administrative order complies with the provisions of section 452.340 and applicable supreme court [rule 88.01] rules, the court shall approve the order.

8. Any administrative order or decision of the division of child support enforcement filed in the office of the circuit clerk of the court shall not be required to be signed by an attorney, as provided by supreme court rule of civil procedure 55.03(a), or required to have any further pleading other than the administrative order."
